Auto Union, Requesting GMC To Arbitrate Pay Issue, Asks GM Head To Attend Parleys

3 1-2 Cent Difference Stalls Negotiations

DETROIT, April 23 (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers, asking General Motors to arbitrate the 3½-cent difference stalemating their wage negotiations, invited GM President C. E. Wilson tonight to attend the pay parleys.

Expressing belief Wilson's presence would "expedite a settlement," the UAW-CIO asked him to sit in on tomorrow's session when GM has promised to give the union its answer on the arbitration proposal.

Described by UAW President Walter P. Reuther as now "hopelessly deadlocked," the negotiations have bogged down in the conflict over a flat 15-cent hourly wage increase of GM's offer to include paid holidays within that sum.

"Welfare" Of Nation At Stake

The UAW-CIO sent its invitation to Wilson in a telegram which said the "welfare of the whole nation" depended indirectly on the outcome of the dispute. So far Wilson has not appeared at negotiations.

The GM president was absent from home tonight and not available for immediate comment.

After tonight's GM conference Reuther said in a statement that GM workers "ask, expect and believe it proper" for Wilson to "participate personally" in the negotiations.

The negotiations, expected to set the 1947 wage pattern for a half-million auto industry workers, were hung up on the application of the 3½ cents within the union's demanded 15 cents an hour increase.

"Not Getting Anywhere

Disclosing the arbitration proposal, Reuther said:

"We're hopelessly deadlocked and have made no progress in the last 24 hours.

"The company has not advanced a single reason for opposing our 15-cent demand and we're not getting anywhere."

General Motors has stuck to its proposal to pay an 11½cent hourly increase with an added 3½ cents for six annual paid holidays.

Opposed to this is the union's insistence on a straight hourly increase, in which it has compromised its original 23½ cents demand at 15 cents.

Union Council Rejects Proposal

Earlier today the union's GM council, a rank and file representation group, unanimously rejected GM's proposal as red-haired Reuther blasted the corporation for an "arrogant and arbitrary" attitude.

The UAW's arbitration offer called for selection of a three-man board which would be given 30 days to make a decision. The union would choose one member, GM a second, and both sides the third member.

After the union made its proposal, General Motors negotiators asked for a recess and then announced they would make their answer at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow at the resumption of negotiations.

Murray Turns To Merger After Signing Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH, April 23 (AP) — CIO President Philip Murray signed what he regards as a two-year steel industry peace treaty today and then turned to another labor front—the proposed CIO-AFL merger in a common offensive against union-curbing laws.

Murray, who also is president of the CIO-United Steel Workers, and United States Steel Corporation officials signed their names to a bulky document which provides wage raises and other benefits to 140,000 workers in five corporation subsidiaries. The agreement, for two years, carries a wage reopening clause which can be employed after one year.

The signing was done in a cordial atmosphere in which the management expressed its faith in the union and Murray paid tribute to the "spirit of fairness" of John A. Stephens, United States Steel Corporation vice president and its top negotiator.

After these pleasantries were passed, Murray announced that he would meet AFL-President William Green "as soon as possible" to discuss the proposed merger of the

Radio Comedians Win Battle To Poke Fun At NBC Without Being Muzzled

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (AP) — Radio's funny men tonight were assured by the National Broadcasting Company that they could poke fun at the NBC without being cut off the air but Columbia Broadcasting System deleted a gag which mentioned fading of a part of Fred Allen's program Sunday.

The radio spoofing started when Allen was cut off the air for a few seconds because he had said that an NBC vice-president was in charge of collecting overtime on radio programs and when he got two weeks' worth, he took a vacation. Tuesday night NBC cut off comments by Red Skelton and Bob Hope which referred to L'Affaire Allen.

Tonight, NBC said it would not interfere further and Dennis Day,

Fred Allen Rejects NBC Offer To Make Him Vice-President

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Fred Allen, whose tiff with the National Broadcasting Company over the comedian's joke about a mythical NBC vice-president has become one of radio's most discussed incidents, rejected tonight as offer by the network to make him an honorary vice-president.

"I wouldn't be found dead as an NBC vice-president," the dour-faced radio funnyman said.

Sabotage Is Reported By Phone Firms

U. S. Again Undertakes To Revive Peace Talks

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Reports of sabotage of some long distance cables came from telephone company officials today, while the government undertook again to settle the country-wide phone strike.

The new settlement approach is to revive peace talks in Washington between the striking telephone workers and three strategic parts of the Bell System—the long lines division, the Western Electric Company and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Rewards Are Offered

At Milwaukee, the Wisconsin Telephone Company announced an offer of a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest "of persons who cut long distance cables" linking Milwaukee and Appleton.

At Louisville, J. C. McAlister, Kentucky manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, announced a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of cable cutters. He said an important line between Louisville and Nashville, Tenn., was cut, as well as a lesser one between Russellville and Guthrie, Ky.

At Detroit, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company reported numerous instances of cut wires and cable tampering, calling it "vandalism or sabotage."

Union "Condemns" Action

The Michigan company and the striking union there each offered $500 rewards for locating those responsible. The union said it "unequivocally condemns" such action.

About 93,000 employes are involved in the strike at the three key units.

The National Federation of Telephone Workers, representing the 340,000 idle operators, linesmen, equipment makers, etc., quickly accepted the invitation of Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren to attend conferences as soon as they can be arranged.

Wheeler Veto Is Called "Mistake"

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (AP) — President Truman today vetoed legislation giving special powers to Burton K. Wheeler, counsel for a Senate committee investigating oil deals, but White House conferences were reported in progress tonight on means to undo the action.

The White House itself had nothing to say but persons close to the President said the veto resulted from "a mistake."

So far as could be learned, no decision had been reached tonight on the course to be pursued.

Charles L. Watkins, Senate parliamentarian, told a reporter he knew of no way the White House could recall the veto message, which went through the official Senate mill during the day.

His idea was that there are only two ways to get the legislation through now—override of the veto or pass a new measure covering the same ground.

Wheeler, immediately upon learning of the veto, said it was based on misinformation.

26 Ky. Mines Closed

PIKEVILLE, Ky., April 23—(AP)—Walter Hornsby, senior inspector for the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, announced today the closing of 26 Pike and Floyd County mines "because they do not meet department safety requirements."

BLAST FATAL TO FOUR—Smoke billows up from a fire raging in six huge creosote tanks at Tampa, Fla., after an explosion yesterday resulted in the deaths of four persons. Curious onlookers, fearing further explosions, keep their distance. Four men are hospitalized with burns.

World Rebuilding Program Is Urged By Henry Wallace

U. S. Must Take Lead Or Face Depression

PARIS, April 23 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, in a series of speeches today, called for a $50,000,000,000 world reconstruction program and declared the United States would have the gravest depression of its history unless it took the lead in world-wide repair of the ravages of war.

"This will be one of the most serious depressions the United States has ever had, a most amazing phenomenon which will affect the whole world," the former vice-president told the Centre d'Etudes de la Politique Etrangere, a French organization similar to the Foreign Policy Association in the United States in an address tonight.

Predicts Minor Depression

Predicting the situation would "come to a head in four or six years in a devastating way unless we are prepared to meet it thoughtfully," the American also predicted a minor United States depression next year but said this probably would be alleviated by increased armaments expenditures or by loans to foreign nations.

Earlier, at a news conference, he said Russia should get $10,000,000,000 to $17,000,000,000 worth of goods and services in the $50,000,000,000 world economic reconstruction program which, he made clear, would come mostly from the United States.

In a second speech before the American Veterans Committee, Wallace outlined his creed for creed for world unity and peace, world unity and peace declaring his belief that "tough-both the United States and Russia by their actions have already undermined the solemn cause for which their young men died."

Addresses French Lawmakers

In a third address delivered to a closed meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the National Assembly, Wallace was said to have repeated his previous criticisms of the proposed American loans to Greece and Turkey.

About 150 of the 1,000 members of the French Parliament invited were reported in attendance. Representatives of the Socialist, Radical Socialist and Popular Republican Parties were present, but most were Communists, parliamentary correspondents said.

In yet a fourth speech, Wallace spoke of the Union Nationale des Intellectuels, a group of French scientists and scholars, along the lines of his talks of the veterans.

Summing up his "convictions" on the world situation, Wallace told the veterans he recognized there were conflicts between capitalism, Communism and Socialism but that he did not believe they were irreconcilable.

Five Marines And Sailor Face Brutality Charges

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23—(AP)—Accusations of mauling and burning of prisoners confined in the United States Naval Academy's brig have resulted in court-martial charges against five marines and a sailor, the Navy disclosed today.

The men, four of them guards at the North Severn brig for enlisted men and two of them prisoners, are formally charged, the Navy said, in various specifications with beating, kicking and mauling prisoners, with tying them to radiators and steam pipes, and with burning them with cigarets.

A Navy spokesman said that evidence so far indicates that a "kangaroo" court had been in operation since at least last October and was not discovered until early in February.

No midshipmen are involved in the case.

Drama Critic Won't Meet Paris Actress On Field Of Honor

PARIS, April 23. (AP)—Drama Critic Roger Dornes gave up a chance of being the first man in France ever to fight a duel with a woman when he refused to meet Lise Merville, dark-eyed Parisian actress, on the field of honor.

The actress had challenged him because of his criticism of her play in his column in the weekly Spectateur.

"I think Miss Merville has taken a ridiculous attitude," Dornes said. "I've told my seconds to get things settled. There's not going to be any shooting."

Aranha Boomed For U.N. President

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 23. (AP)—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, former foreign minister of Brazil, emerged tonight as a leading candidate for president of the United Nations Assembly, amidst pre-session maneuvering on the delicate Palestine question.

The 20 Latin-American republics initiated the Aranha boom with a unanimous decision to support him. This action was reported after a caucus called for a discussion of their policy in the special Assembly session opening Monday in New York.

The Brazilian was known to be acceptable to the United States. Faris El Khoury, of Syria, principal Arab spokesman here, said he was satisfactory to the five United Nations Arab states, which are anxious for Latin-American support in the session.

On the face of this, Aranha already could command 26 of the Assembly's 55 votes.

Meanwhile, Secretary-General Trygve Lie told his weekly news conference that a suitcase full of documents had disappeared while the United Nations Balkans Investigating Commission was en route from Greece to Geneva.

Lie said there was no evidence of theft but that an inquiry was under way.

May Plans To Take Stand In Own Defense

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Andrew J. May, wartime chairman of the House Military Committee, plans to take the stand in Federal District Court to deny that he took bribes to obtain munitions contracts.

His lawyer, Sawyer Smith, told the court today that it is untrue that the 71-year old Kentucky politician profited from deals between the Garsson munitions combine and the Cumberland Lumber Company.

"Andrew J. May will take the witness stand and explain to you how every dollar of that money was spent, and how not one cent went to Andrew J. May," Smith told the jury.

House Puts Off Vote On Foreign Relief Measure

Amendments Offered; Eaton Fights Changes

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—Tangled in argument over proposals to bar aid to Communist-dominated countries, the House today put off until Monday a decision on the administration's $350,000,000 foreign relief measure.

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ), of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, noting the growing number of proposed amendments, agreed to the delay. He said it had become "fairly evident" that the House would be unable to complete action today.

Eaton has charge of handling the bill on the floor and had been battling against proposed changes.

Act On Interior Dept. Funds

He agreed with the Republican leadership to put the bill aside until next week in order to give House consideration first to a measure sharply curtailing appropriations for the Interior Department.

Fighting to prevent wholesale revision of the bill, the white-thatched chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee argued that if the United States wants to aid starving peoples it cannot help entering some countries under Communist sway.

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss), a member of Eaton's committee, sponsored an amendment to prohibit spending any of the relief funds in a country dominated by Russia.

Rep. Cox's Observation

Rep. Cox (D-Ga) declared the House would accept the amendment "if we mean what we say about stopping Russia."

But Democratic Floor Leader Rayburn, of Texas, asserted that many people are dominated by Communism against their will, and inquired: "Are we going to refuse to fed them and drive them permanently into the arms of Communism?"

The bill, which has not yet been voted on in the Senate, is separate from a measure passed yesterday by that chamber to provide $400,000,000 aid for Greece and Turkey to halt Communism there.

Two Die In Airplane Crash Near Milton, W. Va.

MILTON, W. Va., April 23 (AP) — A light trainer plane equipped with pontoons crashed and burned near the National Highway outside the western limits of the city today, killing the pilot and a passenger.

State Police Sgt. Beryl Langford, of the Barboursville detachment, identified the victims as Otis Eugene Worley, 24, war veteran of near Barboursville, and James S. Wilson, 21, of Milton.

Wilson was an amputee veteran who had lost a leg.

In its fall the plane struck a high tension power line and sheared 22 telegraph lines.

Home-Building Bill Approved By Committee

15,000,000 Dwelling Units By 1958 Is Aim

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—By a one vote margin, the Senate Banking Committee today approved legislation aimed at construction of 15,000,000 homes during the next 10 years at an estimated cost to the government of $7,500,000,000.

The stated long-range goal: "A decent home and suitable living environment for every American family."

The measure, known as the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, won committee endorsement, 7 to 6, when Sen. Maybank (D-SC) cast the deciding vote by telephone from Annapolis, Md. His ballot broke a 6 to 6 deadlock.

Drive To Kill Bill Foreshadowed

The close committee vote apparently foreshadows a drive to kill the bill when it comes up for debate in the Senate. Sen. Tobey (R-NH), chairman of the Banking Committee, told reporters that even some Senators who voted for the measure "reserved the right to oppose it in whole or part" on the floor.

But Tobey himself, voting with the majority, said "there is no other legislation before us or seriously proposed which will meet this (housing shortage) crisis more quickly and more effectively."

The bill provides for:

1. A national housing commission under an administrator.

2. A program of home ownership and rental housing for lower income families. This would authorize down payments of only five per cent on homes costing up to $5,000. The balance would be covered by insured 30-year loans at four per cent interest.

Subsidiary Provided

3. A public housing program, with a 45-year financing period, calling for construction of 500,000 dwelling units during the first four years after enactment of the bill. To help with construction costs and to keep rents low, the federal government would subsidize local housing agencies at the rate of $26,400,000 the first year, $52,800,000 the second year, $79,200,000 the third year and $105,600,000 the fourth year. For the following 41 years, the federal grant would be about $105,000,000 annually.

4. Clearance of slum and blighted areas.

5. A farm housing program under direction of the Agriculture Department.

6. A research program by the National Housing Agency.

Radio Broadcasts To Reds May End

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—A House subcommittee has decided to junk the government broadcasts to Russia along with other major features of the State Department cultural program, Capitol Hill officials said today.

A Republican-controlled appropriations subcommittee was said to have chopped off all funds to finance the program outside the Western Hemisphere next fiscal year. It is a prime administration project.

The program is designed to tell the world about America, through news, radio broadcasts, libraries abroad, movies and exchange of students and technicians.

The tip that led to disclosure of the committee's intentions came from William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State in charge of the program. Benton told a House Expenditures subcommittee one of his aides was informed by a radio magazine representative that the appropriations group intends to halt the program outside of this hemisphere.

Rep. Stefan (R-Neb), chairman of the subcommittee handling the State Departments' appropriations, declined to affirm or deny the report.

Grudge Believed Motive In Apparent Abduction

BALTIMORE, April 23. (AP)—Capt. George H. Hohman, of the Baltimore County police, said today investigators are pursuing a theory that "grudge or jealousy" was the motive in the apparent abduction of Alton M. Corkran, cab driver missing since Monday night.

This belief, according to Hohman, is based on the fact that the cab driver testified against alleged lawbreakers during the past year.

Meanwhile city police reported that they had located a young woman who said she had ridden with Corkran about two hours before the cab was found abandoned. According to police, the 26-year-old waitress revealed in a casual conversation with Sgt. James Rawlings that she was an acquaintance of Corkran, and had hailed his cab at about 8:15 p. m.

Sugar Ration Boosted

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—A 25 per cent increase in sugar supplies was announced today for hotels, restaurants, hospitals and other institutional consumers during the May-June period.

TRUMAN ABOLISHES WARTIME AGENCIES, EFFECTIVE JUNE 1

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—President Truman today abolished OPA and two other major wartime agencies effective June 1 and ordered most of their remaining functions, including rent controls, transferred to other departments on May 4.

The executive orders wipe out, besides OPA, the Civilian Production Administration and the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

Along with them goes the Office of Temporary Controls which was set up last December to start the liquidation process.

Small Employers At Unions' Mercy, Sen. Taft Asserts

AFL Abandons Hope Of Sidetracking Bill

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) led off Senate debate on proposed new union curbs today, telling his colleagues that as the law now stand "many hundreds of thousands of smaller employers are at the mercy of unions and union leaders."

As he spoke, AFL President William Green gloomily told a news conference that his federation has abandoned hope of preventing Congress from passing "vicious anti-labor legislation."

"We may succeed in having them remove some of the more objectionable parts," Green added.

Taft's Argument

Taft pegged his argument to the contention that, while in times past the laws gave "all the advantage" to employers, they now give it to organized labor.

The Ohioan, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said that the bill it has approved seeks to amend the Wagner Collective Bargaining Act to remove "injustices frozen in the law."

The bill would impose many restrictions on unions, including curbs on their right freely to call strikes, but is not so sweeping as the one the House has approved.

Padway Assails Bills

Joseph Padway, AFL counsel, told the federation's executive council today that the House bill is "pure unadulterated Fascism" and the "most vicious and malicious anti-labor bill ever enacted in this or any other country." He said "unions can not live" under the House bill and described the Senate version as not much better.

Both bills would outlaw the closed shop. Both would delay some strikes by court injunctions and both would make unions liable to suit for contract violations. The House bill would curb industry-wide bargaining and ban both jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

Arthur Brice In Line To Succeed W. Lee Elgin

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP)—It was reported by informed sources today that Arthur H. Brice, former president of the Maryland Senate and now a member of the State Public Service Commission, would be appointed Commissioner of Motor Vehicles by Gov. Lane.

The recent Legislature passed a bill terminating the term of the present Motor Vehicles Commissioner, W. Lee Elgin, Hagerstown, June 30. Elgin was campaign manager for J. Millard Tawes, an opponent of Lane in the 1946 gubernatorial primary.

Man Dies After Being Thrown Into Septic Tank

BALTIMORE, April 23—(AP)—Alfred Murray, 38, Daniels, Md., died today after being thrown into a septic tank when the Diesel roller he was operating collapsed the timber over the tank.

Police said he was imprisoned in approximately three feet of muck and water and apparently drowned.

Ministers Will Try To Wind Up Meeting Today

USSR Blocks Pacts, Marshall Charges

MOSCOW, April 23 (AP)—The Foreign Ministers Council neared the break up of its longest and perhaps most hectic conference tonight with major issues unsolved. The ministers agreed to try to wind up their Moscow meeting tomorow.

In a session which was delayed two hours in starting, United States Secretary of State Marshall caustically charged the Soviet Union with blocking action on the treaty for Austria and declared the United States favored referring the whole problem to the United Nations Assembly if a treaty is not completed by the time the Assembly meets in September.

Marshall also charged Russia with blocking the American-proposed four-power pact to keep Germany demilitarized.

3 To 1 Against Russia

Pointing out that on the four-power pact and essential clauses in the Austrian treaty the three western nations were lined up three to one against the Soviet Union, the American Secretary of State declared Molotov had rejected the four-power pact by introducing in the form of amendments "nearly every importance difference which exists between the four powers on the subject of Germany."

"I will only state that the United States government regards very seriously what in effect is virtually a rejection of this treaty by the Soviet government," he added.

In a reply as curt, Molotov declared the United States was trying to force other powers to sign its draft without amendment.

"If it is the intention of the United States delegation to substitute a new and narrower agreement for Potsdam and Yalta it would be better to say so," the rotund Soviet Foreign Minister said.

Marshall declared the Russians had not made a new proposal concerning the Austrian treaty since the London meeting of deputies and that subsequent "views expressed by the Soviet delegation have widened rather than narrowed our differences."

Secret Meetings Are Failures

He disclosed that three secret meetings on Austria the last few days had met with complete failure to make any progress.

The only constructive action of the whole meeting was the sudden Soviet yielding to the British proposal for the return of all prisoners of war to Germany by December 31, 1948.

The four ministers will meet tomorrow to discuss again Austria, an American proposal to limit occupation forces in Europe, and the date and place of their next conference.

The French already had sent some of their baggage to a special train ready to leave as soon as possible after the session ends. Secretary Marshall has ordered his plane from Berlin to be ready by tomorrow.

Lewis Lawes, 63, Former Sing Sing Warden, Dies

GARRISON, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Lewis E. Lawes, 63, the warden who converted Sing Sing prison from a grim, hard-boiled institution to a world-famous model of progressive penal methods, died today at his home where he had been in retirement six years.

In failing health for a year and a half and seriously ill for the past 10 days, Lawes died of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home, 15 miles from the "Big House" as Ossining, N. Y.

Lawes began his work at Sing Sing in December, 1919, appointed at 37 as warden by the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith. The youngest man ever to hold the post, he retired voluntarily July 16, 1941.

Youth Is "Sorry" He Killed Two Policemen In Street Gun Battle

PHILADELPHIA, April 23. (AP)—Two policemen were killed today in a blazing street corner pistol battle with the 23-year-old adopted son of a child psychologist.

Wounded five times in the exchange of gunfire, William K. Hallowell told police from his hospital bed:

"I know I did wrong. I'm sorry."

Police Sgt. John J. Creedon said Hallowell shot down his pursuers after a four-mile pre-dawn chase in a stolen automobile.

The dead:

Sgt. Samuel Hewitt, 47, a policeman 20 years, veteran of both world wars and father of three children.

Patrolman James Quigley, 32, whose wife is expecting a third child in July.

"I stole the automobile," Detective Lt. Joseph Summerscale and Lt. James A. Kelly quoted Hallowell as telling his adopted mother, Dr. Dorothy Kern Hallowell.

"They were chasing me. They jumped me. I didn't mean to shoot them. The gun went off accidentally."

Earlier, attendants, who said the youth would recover, quoted him as telling Dr. Hallowell:

"Get away from here. I want to die alone."

Hallowell, reported Summerscale and Kelly, admitted four holdups in the city within the last eight weeks in which he obtained more than $3,000 in jewelry and money.

Auto Union, Requesting GMC To Arbitrate Pay Issue, Asks GM Head To Attend Parleys

3 1-2 Cent Difference Stalls Negotiations

DETROIT, April 23 (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers, asking General Motors to arbitrate the 3½-cent difference stalemating their wage negotiations, invited GM President C. E. Wilson tonight to attend the pay parleys.

Expressing belief Wilson's presence would "expedite a settlement," the UAW-CIO asked him to sit in on tomorrow's session when GM has promised to give the union its answer on the arbitration proposal.

Described by UAW President Walter P. Reuther as now "hopelessly deadlocked," the negotiations have bogged down in the conflict over a flat 15-cent hourly wage increase of GM's offer to include paid holidays within that sum.

"Welfare" Of Nation At Stake

The UAW-CIO sent its invitation to Wilson in a telegram which said the "welfare of the whole nation" depended indirectly on the outcome of the dispute. So far Wilson has not appeared at negotiations.

The GM president was absent from home tonight and not available for immediate comment.

After tonight's GM conference Reuther said in a statement that GM workers "ask, expect and believe it proper" for Wilson to "participate personally" in the negotiations.

The negotiations, expected to set the 1947 wage pattern for a half-million auto industry workers, were hung up on the application of the 3½ cents within the union's demanded 15 cents an hour increase.

"Not Getting Anywhere

Disclosing the arbitration proposal, Reuther said:

"We're hopelessly deadlocked and have made no progress in the last 24 hours.

"The company has not advanced a single reason for opposing our 15-cent demand and we're not getting anywhere."

General Motors has stuck to its proposal to pay an 11½cent hourly increase with an added 3½ cents for six annual paid holidays.

Opposed to this is the union's insistence on a straight hourly increase, in which it has compromised its original 23½ cents demand at 15 cents.

Union Council Rejects Proposal

Earlier today the union's GM council, a rank and file representation group, unanimously rejected GM's proposal as red-haired Reuther blasted the corporation for an "arrogant and arbitrary" attitude.

The UAW's arbitration offer called for selection of a three-man board which would be given 30 days to make a decision. The union would choose one member, GM a second, and both sides the third member.

After the union made its proposal, General Motors negotiators asked for a recess and then announced they would make their answer at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow at the resumption of negotiations.

Murray Turns To Merger After Signing Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH, April 23 (AP) — CIO President Philip Murray signed what he regards as a two-year steel industry peace treaty today and then turned to another labor front—the proposed CIO-AFL merger in a common offensive against union-curbing laws.

Murray, who also is president of the CIO-United Steel Workers, and United States Steel Corporation officials signed their names to a bulky document which provides wage raises and other benefits to 140,000 workers in five corporation subsidiaries. The agreement, for two years, carries a wage reopening clause which can be employed after one year.

The signing was done in a cordial atmosphere in which the management expressed its faith in the union and Murray paid tribute to the "spirit of fairness" of John A. Stephens, United States Steel Corporation vice president and its top negotiator.

After these pleasantries were passed, Murray announced that he would meet AFL-President William Green "as soon as possible" to discuss the proposed merger of the

Sabotage Is Reported By Phone Firms

U. S. Again Undertakes To Revive Peace Talks

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Reports of sabotage of some long distance cables came from telephone company officials today, while the government undertook again to settle the country-wide phone strike.

The new settlement approach is to revive peace talks in Washington between the striking telephone workers and three strategic parts of the Bell System—the long lines division, the Western Electric Company and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Rewards Are Offered

At Milwaukee, the Wisconsin Telephone Company announced an offer of a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest "of persons who cut long distance cables" linking Milwaukee and Appleton.

At Louisville, J. C. McAlister, Kentucky manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, announced a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of cable cutters. He said an important line between Louisville and Nashville, Tenn., was cut, as well as a lesser one between Russellville and Guthrie, Ky.

At Detroit, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company reported numerous instances of cut wires and cable tampering, calling it "vandalism or sabotage."

Union "Condemns" Action

The Michigan company and the striking union there each offered $500 rewards for locating those responsible. The union said it "unequivocally condemns" such action.

About 93,000 employes are involved in the strike at the three key units.

The National Federation of Telephone Workers, representing the 340,000 idle operators, linesmen, equipment makers, etc., quickly accepted the invitation of Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren to attend conferences as soon as they can be arranged.

Wheeler Velo Is Called "Mistake"

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (AP) — President Truman today vetoed legislation giving special powers to Burton K. Wheeler, counsel for a Senate committee investigating oil deals, but White House conferences were reported in progress tonight on means to undo the action.

The White House itself had nothing to say but persons close to the President said the veto resulted from "a mistake."

So far as could be learned, no decision had been reached tonight on the course to be pursued.

Charles L. Watkins, Senate parliamentarian, told a reporter he knew of no way the White House could recall the veto message, which went through the official Senate mill during the day.

His idea was that there are only two ways to get the legislation through now—override of the veto or pass a new measure covering the same ground.

Wheeler, immediately upon learning of the veto, said it was based on misinformation.

World Rebuilding Program Is Urged By Henry Wallace

U. S. Must Take Lead Or Face Depression

PARIS, April 23 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, in a series of speeches today, called for a $50,000,000,000 world reconstruction program and declared the United States would have the gravest depression of its history unless it took the lead in world-wide repair of the ravages of war.

"This will be one of the most serious depressions the United States has ever had, a most amazing phenomenon which will affect the whole world," the former vice-president told the Centre d'Etudes de la Politique Etrangere, a French organization similar to the Foreign Policy Association in the United States in an address tonight.

Predicts Minor Depression

Predicting the situation would "come to a head in four or six years in a devastating way unless we are prepared to meet it thoughtfully," the American also predicted a minor United States depression next year but said this probably would be alleviated by increased armaments expenditures or by loans to foreign nations.

Earlier, at a news conference, he said Russia should get $10,000,000,000 to $17,000,000,000 worth of goods and services in the $50,000,000,000 world economic reconstruction program which, he made clear, would come mostly from the United States.

In a second speech before the American Veterans Committee, Wallace cutlined his creed for creed for world unity and peace, world unity and peace declaring his belief that "toughboth the United States and Russia by their actions have already undermined the solemn cause for which their young men died."

Addresses French Lawmakers

In a third address delivered to a closed meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the National Assembly, Wallace was said to have repeated his previous criticisms of the proposed American loans to Greece and Turkey.

About 150 of the 1,000 members of the French Parliament invited were reported in attendance. Representatives of the Socialist, Radical Socialist and Popular Republican Parties were present, but most were Communists, parliamentary correspondents said.

In yet a fourth speech, Wallace spoke of the Union Nationale des Intellectuels, a group of French scientists and scholars, along the lines of his talks of the veterans.

Summing up his "convictions" on the world situation, Wallace told the veterans he recognized there were conflicts between capitalism, Communism and Socialism but that he did not believe they were irreconcilable.

Five Marines And Sailor Face Brutality Charges

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23—(AP)—Accusations of mauling and burning of prisoners confined in the United States Naval Academy's brig have resulted in court-martial charges against five marines and a sailor, the Navy disclosed today.

The men, four of them guards at the North Severn brig for enlisted men and two of them prisoners, are formally charged, the Navy said, in various specifications with beating, kicking and mauling prisoners, with tying them to radiators and steam pipes, and with burning them with cigarets.

A Navy spokesman said that evidence so far indicates that a "kangaroo" court had been in operation since at least last October and was not discovered until early in February.

No midshipmen are involved in the case.

Drama Critic Won't Meet Paris Actress On Field Of Honor

PARIS, April 23. (AP)—Drama Critic Roger Dornes gave up a chance of being the first man in France ever to fight a duel with a woman when he refused to meet Lise Merville, dark-eyed Parisian actress, on the field of honor.

The actress had challenged him because of his criticism of her play in his column in the weekly Spectateur.

"I think Miss Merville has taken a ridiculous attitude," Dornes said. "I've told my seconds to get things settled. There's not going to be any shooting."

Aranha Boomed For U.N. President

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 23. (AP)—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, former foreign minister of Brazil, emerged tonight as a leading candidate for president of the United Nations Assembly, amidst pre-session maneuvering on the delicate Palestine question.

The 20 Latin-American republics initiated the Aranha boom with a unanimous decision to support him. This action was reported after a caucus called for a discussion of their policy in the special Assembly session opening Monday in New York.

The Brazilian was known to be acceptable to the United States. Faris El Khoury, of Syria, principal Arab spokesman here, said he was satisfactory to the five United Nations Arab states, which are anxious for Latin-American support in the session.

On the face of this, Aranha already could command 26 of the Assembly's 55 votes.

Meanwhile, Secretary-General Trygve Lie told his weekly news conference that a suitcase full of documents had disappeared while the United Nations Balkans Investigating Commission was en route from Greece to Geneva.

Lie said there was no evidence of theft but that an inquiry was under way.

May Plans To Take Stand In Own Defense

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Andrew J. May, wartime chairman of the House Military Committee, plans to take the stand in Federal District Court to deny that he took bribes to obtain munitions contracts.

His lawyer, Sawyer Smith, told the court today that it is untrue that the 71-year old Kentucky politician profited from deals between the Garsson munitions combine and the Cumberland Lumber Company.

"Andrew J. May will take the witness stand and explain to you how every dollar of that money was spent, and how not one cent went to Andrew J. May," Smith told the jury.

House Puts Off Vote On Foreign Relief Measure

Amendments Offered; Eaton Fights Changes

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—Tangled in argument over proposals to bar aid to Communist-dominated countries, the House today put off until Monday a decision on the administration's $350,000,000 foreign relief measure.

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ), of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, noting the growing number of proposed amendments, agreed to the delay. He said it had become "fairly evident" that the House would be unable to complete action today.

Eaton has charge of handling the bill on the floor and had been battling against proposed changes.

Act On Interior Dept. Funds

He agreed with the Republican leadership to put the bill aside until next week in order to give House consideration first to a measure sharply curtailing appropriations for the Interior Department.

Fighting to prevent wholesale revision of the bill, the white-thatched chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee argued that if the United States wants to aid starving peoples it cannot help entering some countries under Communist sway.

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss), a member of Eaton's committee, sponsored an amendment to prohibit spending any of the relief funds in a country dominated by Russia.

Rep. Cox's Observation

Rep. Cox (D-Ga) declared the House would accept the amendment "if we mean what we say about stopping Russia."

But Democratic Floor Leader Rayburn, of Texas, asserted that many people are dominated by Communism against their will, and inquired: "Are we going to refuse to fed them and drive them permanently into the arms of Communism?"

The bill, which has not yet been voted on in the Senate, is separate from a measure passed yesterday by that chamber to provide $400,000,000 aid for Greece and Turkey to halt Communism there.

Two Die In Airplane Crash Near Milton, W. Va.

MILTON, W. Va., April 23 (AP) — A light trainer plane equipped with pontoons crashed and burned near the National Highway outside the western limits of the city today, killing the pilot and a passenger.

State Police Sgt. Beryl Langford, of the Barboursville detachment, identified the victims as Otis Eugene Worley, 24, war veteran of near Barboursville, and James S. Wilson, 21, of Milton.

Wilson was an amputee veteran who had lost a leg.

In its fall the plane struck a high tension power line and sheared 22 telegraph lines.

Home-Building Bill Approved By Committee

15,000,000 Dwelling Units By 1958 Is Aim

WASHINGTON, April 23—(AP)—By a one vote margin, the Senate Banking Committee today approved legislation aimed at construction of 15,000,000 homes during the next 10 years at an estimated cost to the government of $7,500,000,000.

The stated long-range goal: "A decent home and suitable living environment for every American family."

The measure, known as the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, won committee endorsement, 7 to 6, when Sen. Maybank (D-SC) cast the deciding vote by telephone from Annapolis, Md. His ballot broke a 6 to 6 deadlock.

Drive To Kill Bill Foreshadowed

The close committee vote apparently foreshadows a drive to kill the bill when it comes up for debate in the Senate. Sen. Tobey (R-NH), chairman of the Banking Committee, told reporters that even some Senators who voted for the measure "reserved the right to oppose it in whole or part" on the floor.

But Tobey himself, voting with the majority, said "there is no other legislation before us or seriously proposed which will meet this (housing shortage) crisis more quickly and more effectively."

The bill provides for:

1. A national housing commission under an administrator.

2. A program of home ownership and rental housing for lower income families. This would authorize down payments of only five per cent on homes costing up to $5,000. The balance would be covered by insured 30-year loans at four per cent interest.

Subsidiary Provided

3. A public housing program, with a 45-year financing period, calling for construction of 500,000 dwelling units during the first four years after enactment of the bill. To help with construction costs and to keep rents low, the federal government would subsidize local housing agencies at the rate of $26,400,000 the first year, $52,800,000 the second year, $79,200,000 the third year and $105,600,000 the fourth year. For the following 41 years, the federal grant would be about $105,000,000 annually.

4. Clearance of slum and blighted areas.

5. A farm housing program under direction of the Agriculture Department.

6. A research program by the National Housing Agency.

Radio Broadcasts To Reds May End

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—A House subcommittee has decided to junk the government broadcasts to Russia along with other major features of the State Department cultural program, Capitol Hill officials said today.

A Republican-controlled appropriations subcommittee was said to have chopped off all funds to finance the program outside the Western Hemisphere next fiscal year. It is a prime administration project.

The program is designed to tell the world about America, through news, radio broadcasts, libraries abroad, movies and exchange of students and technicians.

The tip that led to disclosure of the committee's intentions came from William Benton, Assistant Secretary of State in charge of the program. Benton told a House Expenditures subcommittee one of his aides was informed by a radio magazine representative that the appropriations group intends to halt the program outside of this hemisphere.

Rep. Stefan (R-Neb), chairman of the subcommittee handling the State Departments' appropriations, declined to affirm or deny the report.

Grudge Believed Motive In Apparent Abduction

BALTIMORE, April 23. (AP)—Capt. George H. Hohman, of the Baltimore County police, said today investigators are pursuing a theory that "grudge or jealousy" was the motive in the apparent abduction of Alton M. Corkran, cab driver missing since Monday night.

This belief, according to Hohman, is based on the fact that the cab driver testified against alleged lawbreakers during the past year.

Meanwhile city police reported that they had located a young woman who said she had ridden with Corkran about two hours before the cab was found abandoned. According to police, the 26-year-old waitress revealed in a casual conversation with Sgt. James Rawlings that she was an acquaintance of Corkran, and had hailed his cab at about 8:15 p. m.

TRUMAN ABOLISHES WARTIME AGENCIES, EFFECTIVE JUNE 1

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—President Truman today abolished OPA and two other major wartime agencies effective June 1 and ordered most of their remaining functions, including rent controls, transferred to other departments on May 4.

The executive orders wipe out, besides OPA, the Civilian Production Administration and the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

Along with them goes the Office of Temporary Controls which was set up last December to start the liquidation process.

Small Employers At Unions' Mercy, Sen. Taft Asserts

AFL Abandons Hope Of Sidetracking Bill

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) led off Senate debate on proposed new union curbs today, telling his colleagues that as the law now stand "many hundreds of thousands of smaller employers are at the mercy of unions and union leaders."

As he spoke, AFL President William Green gloomily told a news conference that his federation has abandoned hope of preventing Congress from passing "vicious anti-labor legislation."

"We may succeed in having them remove some of the more objectionable parts," Green added.

Taft's Argument

Taft pegged his argument to the contention that, while in times past the laws gave "all the advantage" to employers, they now give it to organized labor.

The Ohioan, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said that the bill it has approved seeks to amend the Wagner Collective Bargaining Act to remove "injustices frozen in the law."

The bill would impose many restrictions on unions, including curbs on their right freely to call strikes, but is not so sweeping as the one the House has approved.

Padway Assails Bills

Joseph Padway, AFL counsel, told the federation's executive council today that the House bill is "pure unadulterated Fascism" and the "most vicious and malicious anti-labor bill ever enacted in this or any other country." He said "unions can not live" under the House bill and described the Senate version as not much better.

Both bills would outlaw the closed shop. Both would delay some strikes by court injunctions and both would make unions liable to suit for contract violations. The House bill would curb industry-wide bargaining and ban both jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

Arthur Brice In Line To Succeed W. Lee Elgin

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP)—It was reported by informed sources today that Arthur H. Brice, former president of the Maryland Senate and now a member of the State Public Service Commission, would be appointed Commissioner of Motor Vehicles by Gov. Lane.

The recent Legislature passed a bill terminating the term of the present Motor Vehicles Commissioner, W. Lee Elgin, Hagerstown, June 30. Elgin was campaign manager for J. Millard Tawes, an opponent of Lane in the 1946 gubernatorial primary.

BALTIMORE, April 23—(AP)—Alfred Murray, 38, Daniels, Md., died today after being thrown into a septic tank when the Diesel roller he was operating collapsed the timber over the tank.

Police said he was imprisoned in approximately three feet of muck and water and apparently drowned.

Ministers Will Try To Wind Up Meeting Today

USSR Blocks Pacts, Marshall Charges

MOSCOW, April 23 (AP)—The Foreign Ministers Council neared the break up of its longest and perhaps most hectic conference tonight with major issues unsolved. The ministers agreed to try to wind up their Moscow meeting tomorow.

In a session which was delayed two hours in starting, United States Secretary of State Marshall caustically charged the Soviet Union with blocking action on the treaty for Austria and declared the United States favored referring the whole problem to the United Nations Assembly if a treaty is not completed by the time the Assembly meets in September.

Marshall also charged Russia with blocking the American-proposed four-power pact to keep Germany demilitarized.

3 To 1 Against Russia

Pointing out that on the four-power pact and essential clauses in the Austrian treaty the three western nations were lined up three to one against the Soviet Union, the American Secretary of State declared Molotov had rejected the four-power pact by introducing in the form of amendments "nearly every importance difference which exists between the four powers on the subject of Germany."

"I will only state that the United States government regards very seriously what in effect is virtually a rejection of this treaty by the Soviet government," he added.

In a reply as curt, Molotov declared the United States was trying to force other powers to sign its draft without amendment.

"If it is the intention of the United States delegation to substitute a new and narrower agreement for Potsdam and Yalta it would be better to say so," the rotund Soviet Foreign Minister said.

Marshall declared the Russians had not made a new proposal concerning the Austrian treaty since the London meeting of deputies and that subsequent "views expressed by the Soviet delegation have widened rather than narrowed our differences."

Secret Meetings Are Failures

He disclosed that three secret meetings on Austria the last few days had met with complete failure to make any progress.

The only constructive action of the whole meeting was the sudden Soviet yielding to the British proposal for the return of all prisoners of war to Germany by December 31, 1948.

The four ministers will meet tomorrow to discuss again Austria, an American proposal to limit occupation forces in Europe, and the date and place of their next conference.

The French already had sent some of their baggage to a special train ready to leave as soon as possible after the session ends. Secretary Marshall has ordered his plane from Berlin to be ready by tomorrow.

Lewis Lawes, 63, Former Sing Sing Warden, Dies

GARRISON, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Lewis E. Lawes, 63, the warden who converted Sing Sing prison from a grim, hard-boiled institution to a world-famous model of progressive penal methods, died today at his home where he had been in retirement six years.

In failing health for a year and a half and seriously ill for the past 10 days, Lawes died of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home, 15 miles from the "Big House" as Ossining, N. Y.

Lawes began his work at Sing Sing in December, 1919, appointed at 31 as warden by the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith. The youngest man ever to hold the post, he retired voluntarily July 16, 1941.

Radio Comedians Win Battle To Poke Fun At NBC Without Being Muzzled

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (AP) — Radio's funny men tonight were assured by the National Broadcasting Company that they could poke fun at the NBC without being cut off the air but Columbia Broadcasting System deleted a gag which mentioned fading of a part of Fred Allen's program Sunday.

The radio spoofing started when Allen was cut off the air for a few seconds because he had said that an NBC vice-president was in charge of collecting overtime on radio programs and when he got two weeks' worth, he took a vacation. Tuesday night NBC cut off comments by Red Skelton and Bob Hope which referred to L'Affaire Allen.

Tonight, NBC said it would not interfere further and Dennis Day,

Fred Allen Rejects NBC Offer To Make Him Vice-President

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Fred Allen, whose tiff with the National Broadcasting Company over the comedian's joke about a mythical NBC vice-president has become one of radio's most discussed incidents, rejected tonight as offer by the network to make him an honorary vice-president.

"I wouldn't be found dead as an NBC vice-president," the dour-faced radio funnyman said.

Youth Is "Sorry" He Killed Two Policemen In Street Gun Battle

PHILADELPHIA, April 23. (AP)—Two policemen were killed today in a blazing street corner pistol battle with the 23-year-old adopted son of a child psychologist.

Wounded five times in the exchange of gunfire, William K. Hallowell told police from his hospital bed:

"I know I did wrong. I'm sorry."

Police Sgt. John J. Creedon said Hallowell shot down his pursuers after a four-mile pre-dawn chase in a stolen automobile.

The dead:

Sgt. Samuel Hewitt, 47, a policeman 20 years, veteran of both world wars and father of three children.

Patrolman James Quigley, 32, whose wife is expecting a third child in July.

"I stole the automobile," Detective Lt. Joseph Summerscale and Lt. James A. Kelly quoted Hallowell as telling his adopted mother, Dr. Dorothy Kern Hallowell.

"They were chasing me. They jumped me. I didn't mean to shoot them. The gun went off accidentally."

Earlier, attendants, who said the youth would recover, quoted him as telling Dr. Hallowell:

"Get away from here. I want to die alone."

Hallowell, reported Summerscale and Kelly, admitted four holdups in the city within the last eight weeks in which he obtained more than $3,000 in jewelry and money.

Crackdown May Follow New Holy Land Terrorism

Commissioner Is Said To Have Warned Jews

JERUSALEM, April 23 (AP) — A new military "crackdown" in Palestine, possibly including reimposition of statutory martial law, is likely to follow the next outbreak of violence, Chairman David Ben Gurion was reported to have told an extraordinary session of the Jewish Agency Executive today.

A reliable source said Ben Gurion had reported a warning he received from Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine High Commissioner, that the military would tighten its control of the Holy Land with severe restrictions unless violence ceased.

Ben Gurion conferred with the High Commissioner shortly after 12 Jews and British sailors were injured in a melee aboard the Jewish immigration ship Galata, renamed the Shair Yishuv (Remnants of Jewry), when it was boarded by British sailors off Haifa.

The Galata's 770 Jewish passengers seeking to enter Palestine without immigration certificates were placed on British transports and sent to Cyprus internment camps. Most of them were from Southeastern Europe and had been at sea 17 days.

Official announcements said the British boarding party met "considerable resistance" from the Galata's passengers and were forced to use tear gas and smoke bombs.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization, asserted in a broadcast from its secret radio transmitter that Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barazani, convicted terrorists, were supplied with explosives in their Jerusalem prison death cell on the night they were to hang in order to "blow themselves and prison officials up on the scaffold."

Bruder, officer in charge of the recruiting district of Maryland and the District of Columbia, who was in Cumberland on a tour of inspection yesterday.

The reserve officers are Maj. Remsen J. Cole, Capt. John T. Fey and First Lt. Cornelius Bageant.

Enlistments for two, three or four years in the Marine Corps Reserve are also open to honorably discharged Marine between 17 and 29. Women reservists will also be accepted.

Airline Officials Are Held For Theft

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP) — Three operators of a small airline, one of them a wealthy Maryland squire who had served as a special government representative in South America, were arrested by FBI agents today and charged with possessing machine guns stolen from an Army base in Georgia.

FBI Agent Fred Hallford said 20 .50-caliber machine guns and a single .30-caliber were removed in a raid by his agents two nights ago at the pretentious stone mansion near Ellicott City, Md., owned by Karl John Eisenhardt, 50, president of Pan-American Transport, Inc., the non-scheduled airline.

Arrested with Eisenhardt today at Clinton, Okla., was Edward Broader, Jr., Amarillo, Texas, identified as a pilot and aeronautical engineer for the air line.

J. Meredith Russell, 24-year-old former Army pilot, was released here today on $5,000 bond when arraigned before a United States commissioner on the possession charge.

British Battleship Cheats Junk Heap

LONDON, April 23—(AP)—The battered British battleship Warspite was being pounded to pieces tonight on gale-swept rocks off the Cornish coast, cheating the junk heap for which she was destined after surviving two wars.

The 34-year-old 31,000-ton Warspite, stripped of her guns and manned by a skelton crew of eight salvage workmen, broke loose in a 60-mile-an-hour gale from tugs towing her to the scrap yard and was driven on the rocks at Cudden Point, near Penzance on Britain's southwest coast.

BALTIMORE, April 23—(AP)—A three-judge federal court today refused to delay execution of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's multimillion dollar financial reorganization plan, recently under attack before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in Washington.

United States Circuit Judges Morris A. Soper and Armistead A. Dobie and District Judge W. Calvin Chesnut said no evidence had been presented to justify an order holding up the reorganization.

War On High Prices Spreads Across Nation

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 23—(AP)—War on inflationary prices—launched by merchants in this 300-year-old port—jumped across the nation today as some wholesalers and manufacturers joined retailers in announcing price slashes ranging up to 30 per cent.

One large department store chain—Lincoln Stores, retailing in New England, New York and Pennsylvania—announced a flat 10 per cent price cut with the assertion:

"We'd rather have a moderate lowering of prices now than a depression later on.

Earlier, a New England grocery chain—Clover Farms with 128 stores in Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire—reported reducing prices 30 per cent on 150 items.

Gov. Lane Will Resume Bill-Signing Task Friday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP)—Gov. Lane will resume Friday (1:30 p. m.) his monumental task of signing more legislative enactments.

Following a hearing today on a controversial bill redefining the practice of chiropracty, which is opposed by the medical profession, the Governor went to work on a stack of acts that still require attention.

Louis J. O'Donnell, assistant to the Governor, disclosed it is likely tomorrow that the Governor will announce a list of bills which he will veto.

Day's girl friend asked what he was doing.

"I'm listening to the radio."

"But I don't hear anything."

"I know, I'm listening to Fred Allen."

But Jack Carson, who planned this gag over CBS, got orders to delete it 10 minutes before he went on the air:

Carson: "According to the papers, Fred Allen said a radio vice-president saved up seconds till he had two weeks, then went on vacation."

His comedy teammate Tugwell (Dave Willock): "Gee, Uncle Jack, we're still on the air. How come we weren't cut off?"

Carson: "Because this is the CBS, Columbia Broadcasting Company."

CBS gave no explanation for the deletion.

The NBC, announcing its capitulation to the comedians, said tonight:

"This is not a formal statement," the spokesman said. "It's simply a change of policy."

The company, laughing off its display of sensitivity, further said Allen was being offered an honorary vice-presidency of the network and that offers of West Coast honorary vice-presidencies would be made to Hope and Skelton.

Navy Electronics Unit Planned Here

A Navy electronics warfare company comprised of five officers and 40 enlisted men will be organized in Cumberland, and radar and electronics equipment valued at $35,000 will be shipped here to train the volunteer naval reservists, according to Comdr. Willard Colbert, reserve communications officer of the Fifth Naval District at Norfolk, Va.

Comdr. Colbert conferred here yesterday with Lt. Comdr. Walter N. Hedrick, organizing officer of the Cumberland Naval Reserve Division, regarding a possible location for the company's headquarters, pending construction of the proposed naval armory. He said 3,000 feet of floor space will be needed to house the electronics equipment.

Navy veterans who saw service as radarmen, sonarmen, signalmen, radiomen or electronics technicians will be enlisted in the unit. Weekly training sessions will be held for veterans who wish to further their knowledge of electronics and radio work.

Comdr. Colbert will return here soon to complete plans for setting up the unit.

Crackdown May Follow New Holy Land Terrorism

Commissioner Is Said To Have Warned Jews

JERUSALEM, April 23 (AP) — A new military "crackdown" in Palestine, possibly including reimposition of statutory martial law, is likely to follow the next outbreak of violence, Chairman David Ben Gurion was reported to have told an extraordinary session of the Jewish Agency Executive today.

A reliable source said Ben Gurion had reported a warning he received from Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine High Commissioner, that the military would tighten its control of the Holy Land with severe restrictions unless violence ceased.

Ben Gurion conferred with the High Commissioner shortly after 12 Jews and British sailors were injured in a melee aboard the Jewish immigration ship Galata, renamed the Shair Yishuv (Remnants of Jewry), when it was boarded by British sailors off Haifa.

The Galata's 770 Jewish passengers seeking to enter Palestine without immigration certificates were placed on British transports and sent to Cyprus internment camps. Most of them were from Southeastern Europe and had been at sea 17 days.

Official announcements said the British boarding party met "considerable resistance" from the Galata's passengers and were forced to use tear gas and smoke bombs.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization, asserted in a broadcast from its secret radio transmitter that Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barazani, convicted terrorists, were supplied with explosives in their Jerusalem prison death cell on the night they were to hang in order to "blow themselves and prison officials up on the scaffold."

Officers Appointed Reserve Recruiters

Three local men who served as Marine Corps officers in World War II have been named reserve recruiting officers for the tri-state area, according to Capt. J. A. Bruder, officer in charge of the recruiting district of Maryland and the District of Columbia, who was in Cumberland on a tour of inspection yesterday.

The reserve officers are Maj. Remsen J. Cole, Capt. John T. Fey and First Lt. Cornelius Bageant.

Enlistments for two, three or four years in the Marine Corps Reserve are also open to honorably discharged Marine between 17 and 29. Men over 29 may enlist if the number of years of service, subtracted from their age, brings them within the age limit. They will retain their rate held at time of discharge. Women reservists will also be accepted.

Airline Officials Are Held For Theft

BALTIMORE, April 23 (AP) — Three operators of a small airline, one of them a wealthy Maryland squire who had served as a special government representative in South America, were arrested by FBI agents today and charged with possessing machine guns stolen from an Army base in Georgia.

FBI Agent Fred Hallford said 20 .50-caliber machine guns and a single .30-caliber were removed in a raid by his agents two nights ago at the pretentious stone mansion near Ellicott City, Md., owned by Karl John Eisenhardt, 50, president of Pan-American Transport, Inc., the non-scheduled airline.

Arrested with Eisenhardt today at Clinton, Okla., was Edward Broader, Jr., Amarillo, Texas, identified as a pilot and aeronautical engineer for the air line.

J. Meredith Russell, 24-year-old former Army pilot, was released here today on $5,000 bond when arraigned before a United States commissioner on the possession charge.

British Battleship Cheats Junk Heap

LONDON, April 23—(AP)—The battered British battleship Warspite was being pounded to pieces tonight on gale-swept rocks off the Cornish coast, cheating the junk heap for which she was destined after surviving two wars.

The 34-year-old 31,000-ton Warspite, stripped of her guns and manned by a skelton crew of eight salvage workmen, broke loose in a 60-mile-an-hour gale from tugs towing her to the scrap yard and was driven on the rocks at Cudden Point, near Penzance on Britain's southwest coast.

Court Won't Delay B. & O. Reorganization Plan

BALTIMORE, April 23—(AP)—A three-judge federal court today refused to delay execution of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's multi-million dollar financial reorganization plan, recently under attack before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in Washington.

United States Circuit Judges Morris A. Soper and Armistead A. Dobie and District Judge W. Calvin Chesnut said no evidence had been presented to justify an order holding up the reorganization.

War On High Prices Spreads Across Nation

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 23—(AP)—War on inflationary prices—launched by merchants in this 300-year-old port—jumped across the nation today as some wholesalers and manufacturers joined retailers in announcing price slashes ranging up to 30 per cent.

One large department store chain—Lincoln Stores, retailing in New England, New York and Pennsylvania—announced a flat 10 per cent price cut with the assertion:

"We'd rather have a moderate lowering of prices now than a depression later on.

Earlier, a New England grocery chain—Clover Farms with 128 stores in Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire—reported reducing prices 30 per cent on 150 items.

Gov. Lane Will Resume Bill-Signing Task Friday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP)—Gov. Lane will resume Friday (1:30 p. m.) his monumental task of signing more legislative enactments.

Following a hearing today on a controversial bill redefining the practice of chiropracty, which is opposed by the medical profession, the Governor went to work on a stack of acts that still require attention.

Louis J. O'Donnell, assistant to the Governor, disclosed it is likely tomorrow that the Governor will announce a list of bills which he will veto.

the Irish tenor, got away with this jibe on his show:

Day's girl friend asked what he was doing.

"I'm listening to the radio."

"But I don't hear anything."

"I know, I'm listening to Fred Allen."

But Jack Carson, who planned this gag over CBS, got orders to delete it 10 minutes before he went on the air:

Carson: "According to the papers, Fred Allen said a radio vice-president saved up seconds till he had two weeks, then went on vacation."

His comedy teammate Tugwell (Dave Willock): "Gee, Uncle Jack, we're still on the air. How come we weren't cut off?"

Carson: "Because this is the CBS, Columbia Broadcasting Company."

CBS gave no explanation for the deletion.

The NBC, announcing its capitulation to the comedians, said tonight:

"This is not a formal statement," the spokesman said. "It's simply a change of policy."

The company, laughing off its display of sensitivity, further said Allen was being offered an honorary vice-presidency of the network and that offers of West Coast honorary vice-presidencies would be made to Hope and Skelton.

LaVale Club Has Garden Party

Mrs. Douglas Smith was hostess to members of the LaVale Homemakers Club and their guests for a garden party and covered dish luncheon yesterday at her home in LaVale.

The program opened with Mrs. Lula Hughes playing the "Flower Song," after which Mrs. Cromwell Zembower gave a demonstration of flower arrangements, including making a corsage and vases of flowers. Mrs. Joseph Coleman gave a report on how to have flowers blooming in the home the year around.

The program, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Nina Murphy, included the piano selection, "Tip Toeing Through the Tulips," and a "Flowering Romance" and "Berry" games. Prizes of plants, seeds and a small pine tree were awarded to Mrs. Frances Lybarger, Mrs. John Crowby, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Grace Laughlin, Mrs. George Ward, Mrs. William Dyche, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Dorothy Cross. Packages of seed were given as favors.

Assorted flowers and crystal candelabra of tall white tapers centered the luncheon table. Mrs. Florence Chandler was chairman of arrangements.

Moving pictures of cherry blossoms at Glen Echo, scenes of the Thompson home, Lover's Leap and animals in a zoo featured the entertainment during the afternoon. They were shown by Mrs. Miles G. Thompson. Miss Maude A. Bean spoke on "Word Pictures," and reminded the homemakers of activities planned for the summer.

Fifty-four women attended the party, with the following guests, Mrs. William Dean Laughlin, Georgetown, Pa.; Mrs. R. A. Lanhan, Mrs. Charles R. Nuzum, Miss Ella Hodgson, Mrs. John R. Anderson, Mrs. Robert L. Weimer, Mrs. E. E. Loar, Mrs. C. D. Shoppert, Piedmont; Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Thompson.

Navy Electronics Unit Planned Here

A Navy electronics warfare company comprised of five officers and 40 enlisted men will be organized in Cumberland, and radar and electronics equipment valued at $35,000 will be shipped here to train the volunteer naval reservists, according to Comdr. Willard Colbert, reserve communications officer of the Fifth Naval District at Norfolk, Va.

Comdr. Colbert conferred here yesterday with Lt. Comdr. Walter N. Hedrick, organizing officer of the Cumberland Naval Reserve Division, regarding a possible location for the company's headquarters, pending construction of the proposed naval armory. He said 3,000 feet of floor space will be needed to house the electronics equipment.

Listen World

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HATRED IS A BOOMERANG

We humans do a lot of fool things. We clutter up our lives with multitudes of grief which we might well avoid. But of all the pesty and poisonous loads anyone can carry I believe hate heads the list.

Everyone who isn't a plaster saint is tempted to hate sooner or later. We all meet up with malice in its various forms. We all are betrayed and double-crossed. We all have experienced acts of monstrous viciousness.

But regardless of the act, I have never known one time when it paid to hate.

Hate is completely stupid. You don't harm the other fellow much by hating him but you wreck yourself. You destroy your own peace of mind. You demoralize your own courage. In short, you do exactly what he hoped you would do—you make a mess of yourself.

As long as you use your life to hate, it can serve no other worth while purpose. If you give yourself over to revenge, your whole world will turn sour on you.

Nothing which your enemy can possibly do to you can ever harm you as much as your own hate. For hate goes much deeper than any surface act or word. Hate goes to the very roots of your life. It destroys the pattern of your life. It demoralizes you in every department of your life.

Christ was not uttering sentimental blah when He told us to love our enemies. He was giving us the soundest horse sense that one man could have handed another. For no man ever saw the full and hideous face of hate more clearly than He did nor knew its futility as fully.

Christ was hated and despised from the day he was a child and yet there is no record that He ever tried to revenge Himself on those who hated Him or spoke evil of Him. He was far too wise. He knew that He had a certain amount of strength to spend, as a man . . . a certain amount of emotion to give . . . a certain amount of inspiration to feel. These were the great purposes of His life and if, instead of pursuing these purposes He had used His life to hate, then His life would have been lived in vain.

That's as true of you today as it was of Christ as of any great and wise man. Hate is waste. Hate is poison. Hate is a boomerang that always circles back on the one who throws it.

We all know these things, yet we continue to indulge in our petty spites and feuds. We continue to choose ugliness where we might have beauty and sickliness where we might have health.

Don't do it, pardner. Don't fall for that ancient and vicious frame-up. If there is any hate in you at this moment, for anyone, anywhere, no matter what cause, get rid of it. Get rid of it for your own sake. Never mind about the other fellow. He may be as disagreeable as you think he is and as unprincipled. But you are the one who counts. You are the one who is really being hurt by hate. You are the one who is being demoralized.

Don't let yourself be. Grin and take it in your stride. You life was made for better, brighter things than throwing spitballs.

Can Industry Afford Not To Reduce Prices Now?

Chances of the country escaping a wave of strikes in major industries have improved greatly during the past several days. Electrical Workers Unions, as a result of their agreement with General Motors and Westinghouse, must be credited with bringing about the turn of events. The contract settlement in those instances set the 1947 wage-rise pattern at about 15 cents an hour. The Steelworkers have settled with U. S. Steel on much the same basis. The Auto Workers probably will agree to something like that.

Of course, there is always John L. Lewis. Nobody knows what he may try to do when the coal mines are returned to the operators by the Government July 1. But it is expected Congress will have, by that time, passed and sent to the White House labor legislation President Truman will sign, giving adequate authority to deal with Mr. Lewis.

Despite the agreements on wages which have been reached the uncertainty as to price cuts on manufactured goods remains. As in the case of steel, it is most unlikely that there can be any reduction because of the wage increase. On the other hand, Steel has said it will absorb the pay boosts without jumping the price of steel. The wage rises will lower the present high level of profits in some industries, but it is believed there still will be a margin for price reductions in some businesses.

This can become a reality if major strikes are avoided—and now that a steel agreement insures a steady supply of steel—a lot of industries can maintain high-volume production as a firm basis for reasonable profits.

Farm and food prices have, it is true, risen much further than manufacturing prices, and have much more to do with the cost of living, which hit a new high March 15. But its also true that, contrary to the usual trend at this time of year, food prices dropped slightly between mid-March and mid-April. Their tendency to fall would be encouraged by industrial price reductions.

There are some industries, and concerns within industries, that are honestly unable to cut prices. The large profits are not evenly distributed. But everybody who can possibly let any inflationary gas out of the price balloon should do so, before it bursts in the stratosphere and dumps cargo and passengers with a dull, sickening thud. Every company should be its own judge of whether it can afford to lower prices, and if so, how much.

However, the almost unanimous economic warnings that the country is in peril of a painful recession suggest that the real question facing a great many companies is whether they can afford not to lower prices now.

Practitioners of the new diplomacy who deny it is "dollar diplomacy" are stumped when asked to explain why it requires so many dollars.

Marshall Has Given Soviet Russia Much To Ponder Over

The Soviets should be convinced by now that we aren't going to pay $10,000,000,000 or any lesser sum for their consent to a unified control plan for Germany. If there are to be any more meetings of the Big Four, it should be left to Russia to initiate them. And our participation should be predicated upon definite assurances that Premier Stalin is ready to talk business with us.

Secretary Marshall has acquitted himself well on his mission to Moscow. He has made it clear to the Soviets that we aren't having any more Yaltas or Potsdams, much less another Munich, and the Kremlin may require some time to ponder, and to adapt its policies to, that hard fact. Meanwhile, we hope that Secretary Marshall, on his return, will sit down at his desk and conduct the future operations from his office in the State Department. Having got the feel of things now, he should be able to entrust negotiations abroad to his deputies. And pressing business demands his presence in this country.

One thing is certain, our occupation policies in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea, and our relief activities in Europe and Asia, should be brought into harmony with the "stop-Communist-aggression" program in Greece and Turkey. Latin-American relations require attention. The State Department itself needs to be purged of disloyal and discordant elements. We haven't had a full-time Secretary of State in Washington since the end of the war, and a firm hand will be needed at the helm for a long period.

Our Presidents and Secretaries of State now have gone to Tehran, Yalta, Potsdam, Moscow, London and Paris. Some return visits are in order. Transacting our business at the home stand may get better results than sitting in the other fellow's waiting room. Our latchstring should be out to all comers, but our position in the world is such that we can write our own ticket, and the time is here to be doing it.

Things have progressed far enough to indicate that many persons are not natural-born gardeners.

Allen Cut Off Air

The National Broadcasting Company cut Fred Allen off the air for a little more than half a minute Sunday night to eliminate a joke about a mythical network official who saved up all the minutes from broadcasts that run overtime, and when he has accumulated enough took a two-week vacation.

NBC explained that the joke violated a network rule against unkind remarks about anyone in radio or the network.

More unkind remarks have been heard, and, incidentally, better jokes. A rule of that kind, carried to such extremes, could make radio programs all sweetness and light, and dull as dishwater.

It is probably too late for Robeson to adopt a new theme ditty, "Shut My Mouth!"

Is Henry Listening?

Henry Wallace says that, on returning from his oratorical tour abroad he will make speeches in the American Middle and Far West telling "exactly how the people of Britain, Scandinavia and France feel."

Wonder how he'll find out? Henry is doing so much talking over there that it will be something like a miracle if he finds time to listen to an edgewise word from anybody in Britain, Scandinavia or France.

SPEECH DIFFICULTIES IN CHILDREN

At the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection in 1931, it was estimated that over a million youngsters between the ages of 5 and 18 had severe speech defects in need of correction. Since then the number has unquestionably increased and, in 1941, it was reported that 5 per cent of the school population of New York City was afflicted. Other surveys have shown that 6.9 per cent of the boys and girls in 48 large cities of the United States are victims.

But these figures are probably only a drop in the bucket since neither minor difficulties in children nor all types in adults are included. Any lad with trouble along this line, therefore, is obviously not alone. Fortunately, rehabilitation is possible for many cases. But treatment is not easy and is time-consuming.

When we consider how intricate is the process of talking, it is a wonder that any one is able to master the technic. More coordination of nerves and muscles is demanded perhaps than in any other voluntary activity. If the function is impaired, the fault may lie in the hearing apparatus, the thought processes, or the structures that make sound possible. All such factors must be investigated in trying to locate the cause.

Minor deviations which are hangovers from childhood usually disappear or are rectified by the teacher after the tot goes to school. This means baby talk, certain inadequacies of sound, and mild delays in learning. But beyond this stage, more expert care is essential. Each candidate should have a thorough physical examination including the nervous system, to eliminate the possibilty of mental retardation and brain or nerve injuries. The nose throat, mouth, larynx, and ears must be checked to rule out polyps, cleft palate, laryngeal abnormalities, and malformation of the jaws and teeth. If a remedial disorder is detected, the outlook is good.

But in the majority, no cause can be found. The afflicted youngster is unable to articulate correctly because the structures God gave him are used improperly. Jenkins utilize the tongue as an example and states that even though the organ can be wiggled about with ease and employed in chewing, it is still not capable of differentiating between the pressure required to produce the letters T and D or L and R.

To relieve the situation, restraining is demanded which is begun by studying the emotional and personality make-up to discover whether conflicts or unusual tensions exist. Assistance along this line will induce relaxation. Then the muscles of the lips, cheeks, tongue, and soft palate are disciplined to perform the fine functions which are called for in enunciation. The precise movements desired to make each sound are mastered so that the desired tone and activity are obtained. Then words are added and ultimately sentences.

Some of the defects helped in this manner are stammering, stuttering, lisping, nasal tones, and slow or hurried speech. Many victims need psychiatric treatment in conjunction with mechanical training. Encouragement should be given to overcome the inhibitions and embarassments which have developed as a result of pity or being laughed at while the impediment existed.

ASTHMA NOT T. B.

C. W. writes: Is asthma the first stage of tuberculosis?

REPLY

No, although in some individuals with tuberculosis wheezing occurs and the symptom may be mistaken for asthma.

EMOTIONAL CHILD

Mrs. H. writes: My 6 year old son was declared emotionally unstable. What does this mean?

REPLY

At this age, the situation may represent immaturity but in general, "mental instability" is applied to individuals whose emotional reactions to various stimuli are accentuated.

RELIEF OF SPASM

L. writes: Is it possible or advisable to dilate a spastic colon?

REPLY

In this condition, the muscle surrounding the bowel becomes contacted. Dilating is no necessary as relaxation occurs when the irritation is decreased. This is done usually through the use of drugs such as belladonna and atropine.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

For the past week the California chamber of commerce has been sponsoring debates, "did we have an earthquake or not?"

I wasn't sure what it was. I figured they were just bouncing the pedestrians a little hard this year.

It's amazing how the natives react to these quakes. I greeted one fellow afterwards and he said, "Yes, sir, when one of these California oranges hits the ground, you know it."

It was really a shock. I visited Professor Colonna's house later and the walls were more cracked than the professor.

He had a picture of Whistler's mother hanging on the wall and she was doing the rhumba.

It shook things up out in the country, too. In fact, one farmer reported that his chickens were laying nothing but eggnoggs.

Nobody at the studio noticed the quake. Betty Hutton was rehearsing.

It fooled me, too. I thought Sinatra had dropped one of his muscles.

And it caused a great deal of confusion among drivers. One souse, riding home, stopped a cop and said, "Officer, arrest that street. It's drunk."

NOT HALF AS BAD AS IT SOUNDS

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Senators Sore At Their Colleagues From South Dakota; Truman Blasts Real Estate Lobby; Schwellenbach Criticizes Telephone Strike; Blames Both Sides

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, now holding hearings on the Army-Navy unification bill, are biting their nails at their chairman, complacent Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota.

As one member puts it: "Chan is a lobbyist for the bill rather than Committee chairman."

Equally disturbing is the fact that several Army and Navy officers testifying on the bill have let Senators know privately they don't really believe what they told the committee.

"If we didn't say what the Top Brass wants," they explain, "we'd sure catch it—and maybe lose our rank."

From now on there will be more careful cross-examination of Army-Navy witnesses.

Real Estate Lobby

President Truman aimed some barbed remarks at both Congressional "inaction" and the real estate lobby when he discussed housing with spokesmen for eight national organizations who called to protest tragic delays in building homes.

Truman's remarks were inspired by criticism from David L. Krooth, co-chairman of the Housing Legislation Information Service, Wesley Pearce of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Lee Johnson of the National Public Housing Conference who minced no words in telling the President that the nation's housing program had failed and why.

They pointed first to the "tremendous falling off" in home construction in the first three months of this year. Only 45,000 "starts" were made in home building in the first quarter of 1947, they said, compared with approximately 60,000 in the first quarter of 1946.

"In other words, last year, when we had government controls, we were getting more home construction than we are now, though the construction industry and its friends in Congress told us that building would increase when the controls were lifted," said Krooth.

The President said he was fully aware of this. Grimly, he admitted that the "housing situation" was not improving—if anything, was getting worse.

"We need a lot more rental construction than we are getting," observed the President. "It is way down. Builders are putting their houses up for sale at high prices that the public cannot afford to pay."

Truman added that the end of price controls, plus delay in passing urgently needed housing bills, such as the Taft long-range public housing bill, were chiefly accountable for the housing shortage. He said that he had made "five appeals," public and private, for passage of the Taft bill, but Congress has stalled for over three months.

Jesse Wolcott Stalls

Truman said that the stalling was particularly evident in the House of Representatives, where the Banking and Currency Committee, led by Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, has effectively blocked action on a house version of the Taft bill, introduced by California's Helen Gahagan Douglas.

"I have done all I can and will continue to do everything possible to relieve the housing shortage," the President promised, "but it's a tough battle against the real estate lobby."

One of his visitors remarked that the real estate lobby had $10,000,000 to spend to block the Taft bill.

"The lobby is always in a position to control legislation," said the President, "by spending a great deal of money to get out misinformation that deceives the public. It's up to you fellows to counteract this propaganda by seeing to it that the public is told the real facts."

Veterans of Foreign Wars spokesman Pearce asked Truman if the Government was "doing anything further" about industrialized (prefabricated) housing.

"That is the quickest way to relieve the shortage in an emergency, if housing production can be put on an assembly line basis," declared Pearce.

The President agreed that industrialized housing couldn't be overlooked and reported that a Columbus, Ohio, plant for this purpose would soon get into mass production.

NOTE—Organizations represented at the meeting were: AFL, CIO, VFW, National Public Housing Conference, National League of Women voters, Council for Social Action of the Congregational Church, National Jewish Welfare Councils and American Association of University Women.

Curse On Both Sides

Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach has to keep his lips buttoned publicly, but backstage he has done some blunt vocalizing about the bull-headedness of both sides in telephone strike.

It's a toss-up as to which side has run the Labor Secretary's blood pressure higher.

Schwellenbach considers the don't-give-an-inch position of union spokesman Joseph Beirne suicidal because the telephone workers can't afford a prolonged strike. The big telephone companies, on the other hand, can continue operations, especially local dial services, for weeks.

However, Schwellenbach is even more critical of the telephone companies. Privately he points out that if the telephone companies defeat the union, they are simply asking for more trouble; since Beirne's national federation of telephone workers will be ripe for taking-over by either the AFL or CIO.

"The telephone companies will regret it if this happens," says the Secretary of Labor. "For they will find the phone union much tougher to deal with as an AFL or CIO affiliate than as an independent union."

So the phone strike hasn't gained anything for anybody, including the public.

Holds Price Cut Would Have Given Worker Greater Benefit

By MARK SULLIVAN

On Monday President Truman broadcast a nation-wide plea for lower prices. Almost simultaneously the United States Steel Corporation announced a wage-raise. Of the two events, the President's speech was exhortation; the wage-raise was an actuality, with concrete offsets.

The Steel Corporation implied, justly, that because it was raising wages it could not reduce prices at this time. The corporation had an amount of money available, some 75 million dollars (as measured by the cost of its wage-raise for a year). What disposition to make of this money was a decision on the highest level of economic statesmanship. For the Steel Corporation sets a pattern for not only the steel industry but for the country's entire economic structure. That the Corporation's decision was to raise wages, not reduce prices.

Because of this decision, steel will cost more to make than it otherwise would. The cost of thousands of products into which steel enters is likely to be higher than might otherwise be possible. Further, because the Steel Corporation is the bell-wether for the country's whole industrial structure, it's wage-raise will lead to wage raises in other industries. This is already under way. The whole price level of the country is likely to be higher than it otherwise might be. The Steel Corporation's action does more to keep prices up than President Truman's preachment can do to bring them down.

May Hesitate to Reproach Steel

Mr. Truman may be reluctant to reproach the Steel Corporation for going counter to his plea. The beneficiary of the wage-raise is a labor-union, the largest in the country, a main part of CIO. And if Mr. Truman should offer reproach, the Steel Corporation can say that the wage-raise it granted was a deference to the CIO union, and that Mr. Truman has some responsibility for the power CIO has.

The Steel Corporation can remind Mr. Truman of what took place a little over a year ago. The CIO union demanded a wage-raise. The steel industry resisted, it was willing to grant some wage raise but not as much as the union demanded. There was a strike. Mr. Truman stepped into the controversy. He personally decreed a wage-raise. Then, to pay the cost of the wage-raise, the Administration officially decreed an increase of $5 a ton in the price of steel.

That increase in the price of steel, ramifying and pyramiding upon thousands of other goods, is a material part of the price-level of which Mr. Truman now complains. The time when Mr. Truman could have averted a rising price-level was before it began, when in fact he had a hand in giving it the momentum which now disturbs him.

There is an A B C of economic truth, upon which President Truman is now acting, but as to which labor leaders continue to embrace fallacy, and are able to impress the fallacy on workers. This truth is, the equivalence between a dollar used for price reduction and the same dollar used for wage increase; sometimes the superiority of the former use.

Sees Price Cut More Beneficial

The wage-raise which the Steel Corporation is making, and the other wage-raises accompanying it, are a pity. Use of the money to reduce prices would be vastly better. If the 75 million dollars the Steel Corporation is going to use for a wage-raise, and the other millions devoted to wage-raises by the Westinghouse Company and General Motors, and the additional hundreds of millions which will go to wage-raises caused by the steel one—if all these were used for reductions in prices, the aggregate reduction in cost of living would be enormous. This aggregate would be a greater benefit to workers than the wage-raises which their leaders induce them to clamor for. A dollar used to reduce prices, if the reduction is general throughout industry and agriculture, means more to a worker than the same dollar used to raise his wages. Besides, reduction of high prices would be justice for the many millions who must pay the high prices, but have no compensation in the form of wage raises.

Reduction of prices would make for the economic health of the country. This is what President Truman pleads for. He sees the lesson of the 1920's. A main cause of the 1920's boom-bust, though not the only cause, was failure to give enough of the fruits of prosperity to consumers and the public in the form of reduced prices.

U. S. Firmness Will Sooner Or Later Impress Russian People

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—More than two-thirds of the United States Senate now have voted to support the American policy in Greece and Turkey.

The vote came from both Republicans and Democrats—in fact, there were more Republicans than Democrats. This is an event of paramount significance. It is indeed a contrast with what happened after World War I in the Senate when the Republicans declined to go along with the proposal for American entry into the League of Nations.

The vote on the Greek-Turkish question is far more important than any vote for ratification of either the U. N. or the League. It is a vote that directly appropriates American funds to support free peoples as far distant as the near East. No appropriation of such size has ever been made in peacetime in connection with a European country, though large sums have from time to time been extended to China.

It is not the amount of money but the principle involved that is of major importance. Approval by the House appears to be a foregone conclusion, so it may be said now that the Congress is backing up the President in announcing to the world America's recognition of the plight of small countries.

The move, of course, is aimed at Russian communism and particularly at the attempts of the Moscow government to infiltrate inside Greece and Turkey and cause governments there to be weakened and overthrown so that communistic regimes can come into power.

Russian Interference Well Known

The Russians deny that they are doing anything in Greece or Turkey. Presumably they would deny that they have any connection with communists in other countries. But the facts of Russian intervention in Greece and Turkey are well known and the American appropriation is intended to bolster both Greece and Turkey so that they can overcome the infiltration of Communists.

Opponents of the bill which has just passed the Senate looked at the materialistic side and endeavored to prove that the United States was embarking on a policy of profligate lending or spending in other countries of the world or that oil interests were implicated. There is no foundation for such a theory.

The whole plan is to notify Russia that the United States stands ready to support weaker nations. It is expected that the smaller nations will not succumb so readily to communistic influence if they know that larger powers are willing to help them.

In a policy sense, the American proposal is a move in the field of diplomacy rather than in the area of military preparation. Russia's tactics are no longer obscure. The purpose of her vehement propaganda campaign and obstruction in every international conference is to exhaust the patience of the American officials and also of the American people, so that the United States will retreat from Europe altogether. If the United States did so, Russia would have Europe to herself.

The effort to oust the United States from Europe has not succeeded. Former Secretary Byrnes in his famous speech at Stuttgart last September and the action of the United States Senate this week show that America is not going to retreat from Europe and leave weaker nations to the mercy of the Russian Communists.

Understanding With Moscow Fails

Efforts to bring about an understanding with Russia have not been successful. America's record of repeated concessions and appeasement has been of no avail. The Russians profess friendship for the United Nations, for instance, but have virtually anesthetized that organization through the use of the veto power. Some Americans have been misled by the argument that the United States has allegedly bypassed the U. N. Russia has not only by-passed the U. N. but has forced the Security Council into impotence. The international police force to preserve peace, long spoken of as a bulwark of the U. N., has never come into being because Russia has blocked such efforts. The U. N. today has no means of stopping aggression by any nation and will not have if the Soviet has its way in the U. N.

The situation is by no means hopeless, even though it has discouraging aspects. Firmness by the United States and votes such as the Greek-Turkish question will sooner or later impress the Russian people as they slowly but surely discover the truth.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

GOVERNOR Thomas E. Dewey is the most fortunate of Republican aspirants to the Presidency in that he can devote himself to competent administration of the State of New York without submitting himself to the roughhouse of Congressional debate and action. For instance, while Dewey builds a record of magnificent achievement, Taft is faced by the pontifical personality of Vandenberg and the constant knifing of the New Dealers within his own party who envy Henry Wallace his ability to make headlines even in jest.

Another advantage that is Dewey's is timing from a provincial capital, which is very different from timing in Congress. He can pick and choose the moment to speak. He is not faced by the query: "Will the gentleman yield?" to have to reply in some manner, in the presence of colleagues and press, to some gross stupidity. To reply glibly is to seal one's doom, for the vultures seize upon every word as a mark of policy and magnify each phrase as the portent of a trend Dewey has none of that nonsense to deal with.

Therefore, he can have courage at precisely the right moment and in the best of taste. He can knock his opponents over to suit his own convenience. He can scorn cowardly vote-counters by raising his own moral levels beyond their reach after they have shriveled their souls in fear and trembling lest some Labor Baron slap their political wrists. And he can pick his own time to do it, for sitting in Albany, he need never hurry, he need never improvise. It is a wonderful situation.

Thus his Report on the year's legislative action is a state paper of the first order, a magnificent document in which the risk of courage is accepted; in which a philosophy of political action is stated in terms so clear that upon it, his own party, and even his opponents, must stand or fall. I quote him:

"I believe very deeply that the protection of human liberty under God by constitutional government under law as we have developed it in this country is the finest flower of the mind of man.

"Our country is one of the few nations on earth where every one of us is still free to choose his own mode of life, to think, to speak, to worship as he will. We still have the unique privilege in this country of electing at regular intervals those who will represent us in government and we have the priceless privilege of knowing that if we don't like them we can put them out of office on a given date in the comparatively near future. . ."

As for himself, he said:

"It's true that dire threats of political reprisals have been made by reason of my sponsorship of this bill and for my signature which enacted it into law. I am not concerned with them. No man should take an oath of office to support the Constitution in which he believes if he's willing to betray it for political purposes or to allow the institution of free government to be undermined or destroyed by its enemies."

The challenge of the enemy he meets with frontal force:

". . .Every weak government is game for the Communists, who conspire to weaken it and then use its weakness to destroy it and put a dictatorship in its place. One of their most useful devices is the strike which paralyzes government, for when government stops functioning then their small, well-disciplined minority can take over. The fate of nation after nation, all over the world, still hangs in the balance. There cannot, there will not, there must not be any such paralysis of government in our state or our nation."

That will be the foreign and domestic issue in 1948. No matter how time-serving politicians will try to dodge it, it will face them. It has already forced Truman, Vandenberg, Stassen and Taft to alter their own programs and attitudes; it will force every aspirant to the Presidency to declare himself, even as Henry Wallace and Claude Pepper have declared themselves. Dewey states the issue flatly and accepts all the risk of an uncompromising position. It is magnificently courageous.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Background

Walk into any great art museum and note the works of art upon the walls. Not a single one with the same background. Many similar in tone and treatment, but each with a cast to fit what the artist wished most to bring out.

Many of the beautiful backgrounds of a Vermeer are of the softest, pearl-like quality. The late E. V. Lucas, the English publisher and essayist, once said that if he could have but one of these exquisite backgrounds of Vermeer's paintings to hang upon his wall it would be a joy supreme. Something to inspire one at every glance.

All too often we misjudge and find fault with a person, knowing nothing of his background, which might make all the difference in the world as to our judgment of that person. It is well always to bear this in mind.

What is there that we could offer to one who is happy in his own way? Would a Whistler allow another artist to change his painting? Such a thing happened with Alphonse Legros, the French artist. He had finished a beautiful painting, but when Seymour Haden, another artist, and Whistler's brother-in-law, by the way, saw it during the absence of Legros, he carefully changed a certain perspective—but when the real artist returned, and note it, he immediately changed it back to what it was originally!

Said William James: "Hands off: neither the whole truth nor the whole of good is revealed to any single observer, although each observer gains a partial superiority of insight from the peculiar position in which he stands."

There is a universal something, either of beauty, goodness, or genius, that stands out in a work of art, a poem, or a great piece of literature. That's what makes it live. Its invisible background is left to the imagination and intelligence of the observer.

Nothing is so important for individual judgment as to learn of the background of a person, a country, or of some noted achievement. That is what furnishes the key to any final judgment.

Can Industry Afford Not To Reduce Prices Now?

Chances of the country escaping a wave of strikes in major industries have improved greatly during the past several days. Electrical Workers Unions, as a result of their agreement with General Motors and Westinghouse, must be credited with bringing about the turn of events. The contract settlement in those instances set the 1947 wage-rise pattern at about 15 cents an hour. The Steelworkers have settled with U. S. Steel on much the same basis. The Auto Workers probably will agree to something like that.

Of course, there is always John L. Lewis. Nobody knows what he may try to do when the coal mines are returned to the operators by the Government July 1. But it is expected Congress will have, by that time, passed and sent to the White House labor legislation President Truman will sign, giving adequate authority to deal with Mr. Lewis.

Despite the agreements on wages which have been reached the uncertainity as to price cuts on manufactured goods remains. As in the case of steel, it is most unlikely that there can be any reduction because of the wage increase. On the other hand, Steel has said it will absorb the pay boosts without jumping the price of steel. The wage rises will lower the present high level of profits in some industries, but it is believed there still will be a margin for price reductions in some businesses.

This can become a reality if major strikes are avoided—and now that a steel agreement insures a steady supply of steel—a lot of industries can maintain high-volume production as a firm basis for reasonable profits.

Farm and food prices have, it is true, risen much further than manufacturing prices, and have much more to do with the cost of living, which hit a new high March 15. But its also true that, contrary to the usual trend at this time of year, food prices dropped slightly between mid-March and mid-April. Their tendency to fall would be encouraged by industrial price reductions.

There are some industries, and concerns within industries, that are honestly unable to cut prices. The large profits are not evenly distributed. But everybody who can possibly let any inflationary gas out of the price balloon should do so, before it bursts in the stratosphere and dumps cargo and passengers with a dull, sickening thud. Every company should be its own judge of whether it can afford to lower prices, and if so, how much.

However, the almost unanimous economic warnings that the country is in peril of a painful recession suggest that the real question facing a great many companies is whether they can afford not to lower prices now.

Practitioners of the new diplomacy who deny it is "dollar diplomacy" are stumped when asked to explain why it requires so many dollars.

Marshall Has Given Soviet Russia Much To Ponder Over

The Soviets should be convinced by now that we aren't going to pay $10,000,000,000 or any lesser sum for their consent to a unified control plan for Germany. If there are to be any more meetings of the Big Four, it should be left to Russia to initiate them. And our participation should be predicated upon definite assurances that Premier Stalin is ready to talk business with us.

Secretary Marshall has acquitted himself well on his mission to Moscow. He has made it clear to the Soviets that we aren't having any more Yaltas or Potsdams, much less another Munich, and the Kremlin may require some time to ponder, and to adapt its policies to, that hard fact. Meanwhile, we hope that Secretary Marshall, on his return, will sit down at his desk and conduct the future operations from his office in the State Department. Having got the feel of things now, he should be able to entrust negotiations abroad to his deputies. And pressing business demands his presence in this country.

One thing is certain, our occupation policies in Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea, and our relief activities in Europe and Asia, should be brought into harmony with the "stop-Communist-aggression" program in Greece and Turkey. Latin-American relations require attention. The State Department itself needs to be purged of disloyal and discordant elements. We haven't had a full-time Secretary of State in Washington since the end of the war, and a firm hand will be needed at the helm for a long period.

Our Presidents and Secretaries of State now have gone to Tehran, Yalta, Potsdam, Moscow, London and Paris. Some return visits are in order. Transacting our business at the home stand may get better results than sitting in the other fellow's waiting room. Our latchstring should be out to all comers, but our position in the world is such that we can write our own ticket, and the time is here to be doing it.

Things have progressed far enough to indicate that many persons are not natural-born gardeners.

Allen Cut Off Air

The National Broadcasting Company cut Fred Allen off the air for a little more than half a minute Sunday night to eliminate a joke about a mythical network official who saved up all the minutes from broadcasts that run overtime, and when he has accumulated enough took a two-week vacation.

NBC explained that the joke violated a network rule against unkind remarks about anyone in radio or the network.

More unkind remarks have been heard, and, incidentally, better jokes. A rule of that kind, carried to such extremes, could make radio programs all sweetness and light, and dull as dishwater.

It is probably too late for Robeson to adopt a new theme ditty, "Shut My Mouth!"

Is Henry Listening?

Henry Wallace says that, on returning from his oratorical tour abroad he will make speeches in the American Middle and Far West telling "exactly how the people of Britain, Scandinavia and France feel."

Wonder how he'll find out? Henry is doing so much talking over there that it will be something like a miracle if he finds time to listen to an edgewise word from anybody in Britain, Scandinavia or France.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

SPEECH DIFFICULTIES IN CHILDREN

At the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection in 1931, it was estimated that over a million youngsters between the ages of 5 and 18 had severe speech defects in need of correction. Since then the number has unquestionably increased and, in 1941, it was reported that 5 per cent of the school population of New York City was afflicted. Other surveys have shown that 6.9 per cent of the boys and girls in 48 large cities of the United States are victims.

But these figures are probably only a drop in the bucket since neither minor difficulties in children nor all types in adults are included. Any lad with trouble along this line, therefore, is obviously not alone. Fortunately, rehabilitation is possible for many cases. But treatment is not easy and is time-consuming.

When we consider how intricate is the process of talking, it is a wonder that any one is able to master the technic. More coordination of nerves and muscles is demanded perhaps than in any other voluntary activity. If the function is impaired, the fault may lie in the hearing apparatus, the thought processes, or the structures that make sound possible. All such factors must be investigated in trying to locate the cause.

Minor deviations which are hangovers from childhood usually disappear or are rectified by the teacher after the tot goes to school. This means baby talk, certain inadequacies of sound, and mild delays in learning. But beyond this stage, more expert care is essential. Each candidate should have a thorough physical examination including the nervous system, to eliminate the possibilty of mental retardation and brain or nerve injuries. The nose throat, mouth, larynx, and ears must be checked to rule out polyps, cleft palate, laryngeal abnormalities, and malformation of the jaws and teeth. If a remedial disorder is detected, the outlook is good.

But in the majority, no cause can be found. The afflicted youngster is unable to articulate correctly because the structures God gave him are used improperly. Jenkins utilize the tongue as an example and states that even though the organ can be wiggled about with ease and employed in chewing, it is still not capable of differentiating between the pressure required to produce the letters T and D or L and R.

To relieve the situation, restraining is demanded which is begun by studying the emotional and personality make-up to discover whether conflicts or unusual tensions exist. Assistance along this line will induce relaxation. Then the muscles of the lips, cheeks, tongue, and soft palate are disciplined to perform the fine functions which are called for in enunciation. The precise movements desired to make each sound are mastered so that the desired tone and activity are obtained. Then words are added and ultimately sentences.

Some of the defects helped in this manner are stammering, stuttering, lisping, nasal tones, and slow or hurried speech. Many victims need psychiatric treatment in conjunction with mechanical training. Encouragement should be given to overcome the inhibitions and embarassments which have developed as a result of pity or being laughed at while the impediment existed.

ASTHMA NOT T. B.

C. W. writes: Is asthma the first stage of tuberculosis?

REPLY

No, although in some individuals with tuberculosis wheezing occurs and the symptom may be mistaken for asthma.

EMOTIONAL CHILD

Mrs. H. writes: My 6 year old son was declared emotionally unstable. What does this mean?

REPLY

At this age, the situation may represent immaturity but in general, "mental instability" is applied to individuals whose emotional reactions to various stimuli are accentuated.

RELIEF OF SPASM

L. writes: Is it possible or advisable to dilate a spastic colon?

REPLY

In this condition, the muscle surrounding the bowel becomes contacted. Dilating is no necessary as relaxation occurs when the irritation is decreased. This is done usually through the use of drugs such as belladonna and atropine.

It Says Here

By Bob Hope

For the past week the California chamber of commerce has been sponsoring debates, "did we have an earthquake or not?"

I wasn't sure what it was. I figured they were just bouncing the pedestrians a little hard this year.

It's amazing how the natives react to these quakes. I greeted one fellow afterwards and he said, "Yes, sir, when one of these California oranges hits the ground, you know it."

It was really a shock. I visited Professor Colonna's house later and the walls were more cracked than the professor.

He had a picture of Whistler's mother hanging on the wall and she was doing the rhumba.

It shook things up out in the country, too. In fact, one farmer reported that his chickens were laying nothing but eggnoggs.

Nobody at the studio noticed the quake. Betty Hutton was rehearsing.

It fooled me, too. I thought Sinatra had dropped one of his muscles.

And it caused a great deal of confusion among drivers. One souse, riding home, stopped a cop and said, "Officer, arrest that street. It's drunk."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Senators Sore At Their Colleagues From South Dakota; Truman Blasts Real Estate Lobby; Schwellenbach Criticizes Telephone Strike; Blames Both Sides

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, now holding hearings on the Army-Navy unification bill, are biting their nails at their chairman, complacent Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota.

As one member puts it: "Chan is a lobbyist for the bill rather than Committee chairman."

Equally disturbing is the fact that several Army and Navy officers testifying on the bill have let Senators know privately they don't really believe what they told the committee.

"If we didn't say what the Top Brass wants," they explain, "we'd sure catch it—and maybe lose our rank."

From now on there will be more careful cross-examination of Army-Navy witnesses.

Real Estate Lobby

President Truman aimed some barbed remarks at both Congressional "inaction" and the real estate lobby when he discussed housing with spokesmen for eight national organizations who called to protest tragic delays in building homes.

Truman's remarks were inspired by criticism from David L. Krooth, co-chairman of the Housing Legislation Information Service, Wesley Pearce of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Lee Johnson of the National Public Housing Conference who minced no words in telling the President that the nation's housing program had failed and why.

They pointed first to the "tremendous falling off" in home construction in the first three months of this year. Only 45,000 "starts" were made in home building in the first quarter of 1947, they said, compared with approximately 60,000 in the first quarter of 1946.

"In other words, last year, when we had government controls, we were getting more home construction than we are now, though the construction industry and its friends in Congress told us that building would increase when the controls were lifted," said Krooth.

The President said he was fully aware of this. Grimly, he admitted that the "housing situation" was not improving—if anything, was getting worse.

"We need a lot more rental construction than we are getting," observed the President. "It is way down. Builders are putting their houses up for sale at high prices that the public cannot afford to pay."

Truman added that the end of price controls, plus delay in passing urgently needed housing bills, such as the Taft long-range public housing bill, were chiefly accountable for the housing shortage. He said that he had made "five appeals," public and private, for passage of the Taft bill, but Congress has stalled for over three months.

Jesse Wolcott Stalls

Truman said that the stalling was particularly evident in the House of Representatives, where the Banking and Currency Committee, led by Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, has effectively blocked action on a house version of the Taft bill, introduced by California's Helen Gahagan Douglas.

"I have done all I can and will continue to do everything possible to relieve the housing shortage," the President promised, "but it's a tough battle against the real estate lobby."

One of his visitors remarked that the real estate lobby had $10,000,000 to spend to block the Taft bill.

"The lobby is always in a position to control legislation," said the President, "by spending a great deal of money to get out misinformation that deceives the public. It's up to you fellows to counteract this propaganda by seeing to it that the public is told the real facts."

Veterans of Foreign Wars spokesman Pearce asked Truman if the Government was "doing anything further" about industrialized (prefabricated) housing.

"That is the quickest way to relieve the shortage in an emergency, if housing production can be put on an assembly line basis," declared Pearce.

The President agreed that industrialized housing couldn't be overlooked and reported that a Columbus, Ohio, plant for this purpose would soon get into mass production.

NOTE—Organizations represented at the meeting were: AFL, CIO, VFW, National Public Housing Conference, National League of Women voters, Council for Social Action of the Congregational Church, National Jewish Welfare Councils and American Association of University Women.

Curse On Both Sides

Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach has to keep his lips buttoned publicly, but backstage he has done some blunt vocalizing about the bull-headedness of both sides in telephone strike.

It's a toss-up as to which side has run the Labor Secretary's blood pressure higher.

Schwellenbach considers the don't-give-an-inch position of union spokesman Joseph Beirne suicidal because the telephone workers can't afford a prolonged strike. The big telephone companies, on the other hand, can continue operations, especially local dial services, for weeks.

However, Schwellenbach is even more critical of the telephone companies. Privately he points out that if the telephone companies defeat the union, they are simply asking for more trouble; since Beirne's national federation of telephone workers will be ripe for taking-over by either the AFL or CIO.

"The telephone companies will regret it if this happens," says the Secretary of Labor. "For they will find the phone union much tougher to deal with as an AFL or CIO affiliate than as an independent union."

So the phone strike hasn't gained anything for anybody, including the public.

Holds Price Cut Would Have Given Worker Greater Benefit

By MARK SULLIVAN

On Monday President Truman broadcast a nation-wide plea for lower prices. Almost simultaneously the United States Steel Corporation announced a wage-raise. Of the two events, the President's speech was exhortation; the wage-raise was an actuality, with concrete offsets.

The Steel Corporation implied, justly, that because it was raising wages it could not reduce prices at this time. The corporation had an amount of money available, some 75 million dollars (as measured by the cost of its wage-raise for a year). What disposition to make of this money was a decision on the highest level of economic statesmanship. For the Steel Corporation sets a pattern for not only the steel industry but for the country's entire economic structure. The Corporation's decision was to raise wages, not reduce prices.

Because of this decision, steel will cost more to make than it otherwise would. The cost of thousands of products into which steel enters is likely to be higher than might otherwise be possible. Further, because the Steel Corporation is the bell-wether for the country's whole industrial structure, it's wage-raise will lead to wage raises in other industries. This is already under way. The whole price level of the country is likely to be higher than it otherwise might be. The Steel Corporation's action does more to keep prices up than President Truman's preachment can do to bring them down.

May Hesitate to Reproach Steel

Mr. Truman may be reluctant to reproach the Steel Corporation for going counter to his plea. The beneficiary of the wage-raise is a labor-union, the largest in the country, a main part of CIO. And if Mr. Truman should offer reproach, the Steel Corporation can say that the wage-raise it granted was a deference to the CIO union, and that Mr. Truman has some responsibility for the power CIO has.

The Steel Corporation can remind Mr. Truman of what took place a little over a year ago. The CIO union demanded a wage-raise. The steel industry resisted, it was willing to grant some wage raise but not as much as the union demanded. There was a strike. Mr. Truman stepped into the controversy. He personally decreed a wage-raise. Then, to pay the cost of the wage-raise, the Administration officially decreed an increase of $5 a ton in the price of steel.

That increase in the price of steel, ramifying and pyramiding upon thousands of other goods, is a material part of the price-level of which Mr. Truman now complains. The time when Mr. Truman could have averted a rising price-level was before it began, when in fact he had a hand in giving it the momentum which now disturbs him.

There is an A B C of economic truth, upon which President Truman is now acting, but as to which labor leaders continue to embrace fallacy, and are able to impress the fallacy on workers. This truth is, the equivalence between a dollar used for price reduction and the same dollar used for wage increase; sometimes the superiority of the former use.

Sees Price Cut More Beneficial

The wage-raise which the Steel Corporation is making, and the other wage-raises accompanying it, are a pity. Use of the money to reduce prices would be vastly better. If the 75 million dollars the Steel Corporation is going to use for a wage-raise, and the other millions devoted to wage-raises by the Westinghouse Company and General Motors, and the additional hundreds of millions which will go to wage-raises caused by the steel one—if all these were used for reductions in prices, the aggregate reduction in cost of living would be enormous. This aggregate would be a greater benefit to workers than the wage-raises which their leaders induce them to clamor for. A dollar used to reduce prices, if the reduction is general throughout industry and agriculture, means more to a worker than the same dollar used to raise his wages. Besides, reduction of high prices would be justice for the many millions who must pay the high prices, but have no compensation in the form of wage raises.

Reduction of prices would make for the economic health of the country. This is what President Truman pleads for. He sees the lesson of the 1920's. A main cause of the 1920's boom-bust, though not the only cause, was failure to give enough of the fruits of prosperity to consumers and the public in the form of reduced prices.

U. S. Firmness Will Sooner Or Later Impress Russian People

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—More than two-thirds of the United States Senate now have voted to support the American policy in Greece and Turkey.

The vote came from both Republicans and Democrats—in fact, there were more Republicans than Democrats. This is an event of paramount significance. It is indeed a contrast with what happened after World War I in the Senate when the Republicans declined to go along with the proposal for American entry into the League of Nations.

The vote on the Greek-Turkish question is far more important than any vote for ratification of either the U. N. or the League. It is a vote that directly appropriates American funds to support free peoples as far distant as the near East. No appropriation of such size has ever been made in peacetime in connection with a European country, though large sums have from time to time been extended to China.

It is not the amount of money but the principle involved that is of major importance. Approval by the House appears to be a foregone conclusion, so it may be said now that the Congress is backing up the President in announcing to the world America's recognition of the plight of small countries.

The move, of course, is aimed at Russian communism and particularly at the attempts of the Moscow government to infiltrate inside Greece and Turkey and cause governments there to be weakened and overthrown so that communistic regimes can come into power.

Russian Interference Well Known

The Russians deny that they are doing anything in Greece or Turkey. Presumably they would deny that they have any connection with communists in other countries. But the facts of Russian intervention in Greece and Turkey are well known and the American appropriation is intended to bolster both Greece and Turkey so that they can overcome the infiltration of Communists.

Opponents of the bill which has just passed the Senate looked at the materialistic side and endeavored to prove that the United States was embarking on a policy of profligate lending or spending in other countries of the world or that oil interests were implicated. There is no foundation for such a theory. The whole plan is to notify Russia that the United States stands ready to support weaker nations. It is expected that the smaller nations will not succumb so readily to communistic influence if they know that larger powers are willing to help them.

In a policy sense, the American proposal is a move in the field of diplomacy rather than in the area of military preparation. Russia's tactics are no longer obscure. The purpose of her vehement propaganda campaign and obstruction in every international conference is to exhaust the patience of the American officials and also of the American people, so that the United States will retreat from Europe altogether. If the United States did so, Russia would have Europe to herself.

The effort to oust the United States from Europe has not succeeded. Former Secretary Byrnes in his famous speech at Stuttgart last September and the action of the United States Senate this week show that America is not going to retreat from Europe and leave weaker nations to the mercy of the Russian Communists.

Understanding With Moscow Fails

Efforts to bring about an understanding with Russia have not been successful. America's record of repeated concessions and appeasement has been of no avail. The Russians profess friendship for the United Nations, for instance, but have virtually anesthetized that organization through the use of the veto power. Some Americans have been misled by the argument that the United States has allegedly bypassed the U. N. Russia hes not only by-passed the U. N. but has forced the Security Council into impotence. The international police force to preserve peace, long spoken of as a bulwark of the U. N., has never come into being because Russia has blocked such efforts. The U. N. today has no means of stopping aggression by any nation and will not have if the Soviet has its way in the U. N.

The situation is by no means hopeless, even though it has discouraging aspects. Firmness by the United States and votes such as the Senate recorded on the Greek-Turkish question will sooner or later impress the Russian people as they slowly but surely discover the truth.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

GOVERNOR Thomas E. Dewey is the most fortunate of Republican aspirants to the Presidency in that he can devote himself to competent administration of the State of New York without submitting himself to the roughhouse of Congressional debate and action. For instance, while Dewey builds a record of magnificent achievement, Taft is faced by the pontifical personality of Vandenberg and the constant knifing of the New Dealers within his own party who envy Henry Wallace his ability to make headlines even in jest.

Another advantage that is Dewey's is timing from a provincial capital, which is very different from timing in Congress. He can pick and choose the moment to speak. He is not faced by the query: "Will the gentleman yield?" to have to reply in some manner, in the presence of colleagues and press, to some gross stupidity. To reply glibly is to seal one's doom, for the vultures seize upon every word as a mark of policy and magnify each phrase as the portent of a trend Dewey has none of that nonsense to deal with.

Therefore, he can have courage at precisely the right moment and in the best of taste. He can knock his opponents over to suit his own convenience. He can scorn cowardly vote-counters by raising his own moral levels beyond their reach after they have shriveled their souls in fear and trembling lest some Labor Baron slap their political wrists. And he can pick his own time to do it, for sitting in Albany, he need never hurry, he need never improvise. It is a wonderful situation.

Thus his Report on the year's legislative action is a state paper of the first order, a magnificent document in which the risk of courage is accepted; in which a philosophy of political action is stated in terms so clear that upon it, his own party, and even his opponents, must stand or fall. I quote him:

"I believe very deeply that the protection of human liberty under God by constitutional government under law as we have developed it in this country is the finest flower of the mind of man.

"Our country is one of the few nations on earth where every one of us is still free to choose his own mode of life, to think, to speak, to worship as he will. We still have the unique privilege in this country of electing at regular intervals those who will represent us in government and we have the priceless privilege of knowing that if we don't like them we can put them out of office on a given date in the comparatively near future. . ."

As for himself, he said:

"It's true that dire threats of political reprisals have been made by reason of my sponsorship of this bill and for my signature which enacted it into law. I am not concerned with them. No man should take an oath of office to support the Constitution in which he believes if he's willing to betray it for political purposes or to allow the institution of free government to be undermined or destroyed by its enemies."

The challenge of the enemy he meets with frontal force:

". . .Every weak government is game for the Communists, who conspire to weaken it and then use its weakness to destroy it and put a dictatorship in its place. One of their most useful devices is the strike which paralyzes government, for when government stops functioning then their small, well-disciplined minority can take over. The fate of nation after nation, all over the world, still hangs in the balance. There cannot, there will not, there must not be any such paralysis of government in our state or our nation."

That will be the foreign and domestic issue in 1948. No matter how lime-serving politicians will try to dodge it, it will face them. It has already forced Truman, Vandenberg, Stassen and Taft to alter their own programs and attitudes; it will force every aspirant to the Presidency to declare himself, even as Henry Wallace and Claude Pepper have declared themselves. Dewey states the issue flatly and accepts all the risk of an uncompromising position. It is magnificently courageous.

Today's Talk

Background

Walk into any great art museum and note the works of art upon the walls. Not a single one with the same background. Many similar in tone and treatment, but each with a cast to fit what the artist wished most to bring out.

Many of the beautiful backgrounds of a Vermeer are of the softest, pearl-like quality. The late E. V. Lucas, the English publisher and essayist, once said that if he could have but one of these exquisite backgrounds of Vermeer's paintings to hang upon his wall it would be a joy supreme. Something to inspire one at every glance.

All too often we misjudge and find fault with a person, knowing nothing of his background, which might make all the difference in the world as to our judgment of that person. It is well always to bear this in mind.

What is there that we could offer to one who is happy in his own way? Would a Whistler allow another artist to change his painting? Such a thing happened with Alphonse Legros, the French artist. He had finished a beautiful painting, but when Seymour Haden, another artist, and Whistler's brother-in-law, by the way, saw it during the absence of Legros, he carefully changed a certain perspective—but when the real artist returned, and note it, he immediately changed it back to what it was originally!

Said William James: "Hands off: neither the whole truth nor the whole of good is revealed to any single observer, although each observer gains a partial superiority of insight from the peculiar position in which he stands."

There is a universal something, either of beauty, goodness, or genius, that stands out in a work of art, a poem, or a great piece of literature. That's what makes it live. Its invisible background is left to the imagination and intelligence of the observer.

Nothing is so important for individual judgment as to learn of the background of a person, a country, or of some noted achievement. That is what furnishes the key to any final judgment.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC WILL BEGIN FRIDAY

The spring orthopedic clinic, sponsored by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, will be held at league headquarters Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26.

Over 225 cases have been scheduled for appointments. The clinic will be conducted by Dr. George E. Bennett, Dr. David E. Weinberg and Dr. George O. Eaton, noted Baltimore specialists. The examining hours will be from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. on Friday, and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday

Mrs. Hume O. Annan, executive secretary, announced that a speech clinic, the second of its kind to be held here, will be conducted May 8, 9 and 10 by Dr. Richard Hutcheson, Washington, D. C., speech pathologist.

Miss R. Jean Forbes, speech correctionist for the league, said there are 70 county children receiving treatment at the present time. Each child has supervised instruction twice a week at league headquarters, and parents are advised regarding methods of carrying on speech practice at home.

Mrs. Annan said that a cerebral palsy clinic will be conducted here May 15, 16 and 17 by Dr. Winthrop Phelps, Baltimore. The plastic surgery clinic will be held May 24 by Dr. Edward Kitlowski.

Returns from the Easter Seal drive, which is conducted annually to raise funds for the league's program, have mounted to $6,800, still short of the $8,000 goal, Mrs. Annan said.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC WILL BEGIN FRIDAY

The spring orthopedic clinic, sponsored by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, will be held at league headquarters Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26.

Over 225 cases have been scheduled for appointments. The clinic will be conducted by Dr. George E. Bennett, Dr. David E. Weinberg and Dr. George O. Eaton, noted Baltimore specialists. The examining hours will be from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. on Friday, and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday

Mrs. Hume O. Annan, executive secretary, announced that a speech clinic, the second of its kind to be held here, will be conducted May 8, 9 and 10 by Dr. Richard Hutcheson, Washington, D. C., speech pathologist.

Miss R. Jean Forbes, speech correctionist for the league, said there are 70 county children receiving treatment at the present time. Each child has supervised instruction twice a week at league headquarters, and parents are advised regarding methods of carrying on speech practice at home.

Mrs. Annan said that a cerebral palsy clinic will be conducted here May 15, 16 and 17 by Dr. Winthrop Phelps, Baltimore. The plastic surgery clinic will be held May 24 by Dr. Edward Kitlowski.

Returns from the Easter Seal drive, which is conducted annually to raise funds for the league's program, have mounted to $6,800, still short of the $8,000 goal, Mrs. Annan said.

Eighth Grade Wins Annual S. I. D. Play Tournament

Ninth Grade Is Judged Second

The Eighth Gride play was judged the best performance in the annual junior high school play tournament, sponsored by the S. I. D., the Junior Dramatic Club of Allegany High School. After the conclusion of the tournament, under the direction of Marshall Fatkin, club adviser, the S. I. D. presented two plays in assembly yesterday.

Three groups gave plays in the tournament. The Ninth Grade was judged second; the best characterization was given by Jeannine Berry; second, Barbara Michael. Judges were Miss Anna Nicht, Miss Nell Hawkins, Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, Miss Theresa Nicht and Miss Janet Anderson, members of the faculty.

"Miss Burnett Puts One Over," directed by Betty Ruehl, was the Eighth Grade's presentation. It was about a group of college girls who are to entertain the friend of one of the student's mother. The girls want to impress Miss Burnett in the hope that she will make a donation to the college for a new gymnasium. They indulge in a plot to keep the conversation rolling and set themselves up as a perfect example of college students. Miss Burnett overhears their plans and masquerades as a lady from the country and for a while keeps the girls guessing. Her identity is discovered and everything ends happily for the girls.

The cast included Barbara Murray, Arlene Ort; Mary Markham, Wilda Winterberg; Jacqueline Surrey, Doris Platt; Margaret Grey, Mary Jo Shirley; Mrs. Murray, Barbara Russell; and Anne Burnett, Jeannine Berry.

The Ninth Grade presented "Bobby-Sox," directed by Marcia Hilton. It dealt with Margie, who discovers Norton, her current "beau" is coming over. She tries with consistant lack of success to rid herself of Bobby-Sox, her younger sister, who is determined to capture Norton for herself. She calls three of Margie's other boy friends and invites them over. The climax comes when all three boys plus Norton, try to get one another to leave. Bobby-Sox gets Norton into the kitchen for awhile and Margie discovers her plot. Finally Norton and Margie are united and Bobby-Sox vows Margie had better watch out next year when she will be fifteen.

Barbara Michael partrayed Bobby-Sox; Sue Cunningham, Margie; Carolyn Bowie, Mrs. Hanna; Jimmy Floyd, Norton; Lewis Everstine, Cal; Ernest Sisk, Cliff and Duke Marley, Bill.

The Seventh Grade presented the "Autograph Chasers" directed by Joyce Fike. This is the story of autograph collectors who are seeking the autograph of Lisa Page, a famous star who is visiting in her home town. They invade her grandmother's house determined to get the autograph, but Miss Page refuses to sign for them. Finally after many adventures they succeed in getting her autograph.

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

By J. GLENN BEALL
(Member of Congress from Maryland Sixth District)

UNDER THE DOME

I feel that the citizens of Gaithersburg are entitled to carrier service and I have asked the Post Office Department to make a survey with the view of establishing this service.

It seems to me that the establishment of an out-patient Veterans Hospital clinic at Cumberland would be a tremendous help to the veterons in that area. I contacted the Veterans Administration in this matter and hope that those in charge will give it serious consideration.

As chairman of the Public Service Subcommittee of the District Committee, I conducted hearings on the construction of the Dupont Circle underpass.

THE LABOR BILL

The House last week passed the Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947, referred to in Congressional debates both as the Hartley Bill and as Labor's New Bill of Rights. The measure is now before the Senate where it will be changed by amendments.

I will be glad to mail to any of you copies of the Bill, the Report and the Debates.

Since this is such important legislation and since it may effect so many persons in my district, I believe it wise to enumerate some of the provisions which affect the working man.

1. The right to join with fellow workers to select as their bargaining agent the union that they want, not the union that is forced upon them.
2. The right to get a job and earn a living without joining any union.
3. The right to require the union that is his bargaining agent to represent him without discriminating against him in any way or for any reason, even if he is not a member of the union.
4. The right to vote by secret ballot in a fair and free election on whether his employer and a union can make him join the union to keep his job.
5. The right with his fellow employees to make demands of their own and to bargain about them through the leaders of their own local union without dictation by national and international officers and without regard to the demands of other employees upon other employers.
6. The right to keep on working and getting his pay in spite of sympathy strikes, jurisdictional disputes, illegal boycotts and other disputes that do not involve him and his union or his employer.
7. The right to know what he is striking about before he is called out on strike, and to vote by secret ballot in a free and fair election on whether to strike or not after he has been told what his employer has offered him.
8. The right to express his opinion concerning union policies, union officers and candidates for union office and to make and file charges against his employer, the union or union officer, without suffering any penalty or discrimination.
9. The right to vote by secret ballot, without fear, in free and fair elections on any matter of union policy—how much dues he shall pay, what assessments the union can make him pay, what the union can spend the money for.
10. The right to vote by secret ballot, without fear, in free and fair elections for his own choice of union officers.
11. The right to know how much money his union has, how much it pays its officers, and how much of the union's money the officers use for their expenses.
12. The right to refuse to pay the union for any kind of insurance that he does not want.
13. The right to stay a member of a union, without being suspended or expelled except for (1) not paying dues, (2) disclosing confidential information of the union, (3) violating the union's contract, (4) being a Communist or fellow-traveler, (5) being convicted of a felony, (6) engaging in disreputable conduct that reflects on the union.
14. The right to be free of threats to his family for doing things in connection with union matters that an employer or a union doesn't like.
15. The right to settle his own grievances with his employer.
16. The right, without fear of reprisal, to support any candidate for public office that he chooses and to decide for himself whether or not his money will be spent for political purposes.
17. The right to go to and from his work without being threatened or molested.
18. The right to have a fair hearing, before an impartial Board, without cost to himself, whenever he believes that any employer or any union is depriving him of these rights.

That's the Labor Bill as passed by the House of Representatives. Many changes will be made before it is passed by the Senate and sent to the President for his signature. I will try to keep you well informed.

A forum period will be held on his plan as compared to other programs for control of militaristic forces. Thomas Lohr Richards is president of the Dinner Club.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Somebody hold my coat.

I'd like to get into this Frank Sinatra free-for-all.

I'm not aiming to take sides on Unser Frank's memorable melee with Columnist Lee Mortimer. That's one for the history books, along with Austerlitz and Thermopylae. I'm not taking sides for a simple reason. I like 'em both. Frankie has always rated with me as a nice kid and a good song-singer. Lee Mortimer has always been decent to me and my enterprises. The court and the court-plaster can decide the winner.

Billy Rose

As far as the Battle of Ciro's Vestibule is concerned, I have only an aside to F. S.: Socking a newspaperman never got nobody no place no time.

The part of this brawl I want to throw my typewriter into has to do with the newspaper attacks on Sinatra for "consorting with gangsters." They've been writing about him as if his first name were Frankenstein.

I've got a weak stomach, and I can't go for this sick-making hypocrisy on the part of some members of the Fourth Estate.

So it's wrong to consort with gangsters, is it? So Mr. Bobbysox rates the thumb in the eye because he sat down and had a bite to eat with them? So he ought to get dead cats thrown at him because he accepted the hospitality of the Brass Knuckle Set and let them pick up the tabs?

Come out from under that halo fellows. I know you. I've been around this street as long as you have—maybe longer. Let's take off the false whiskers and the blue noses and talk like guys who know the score.

Back in 1934, I produced shows for a cabaret called the Casino de Paree. You all know who bankrolled the place. For six months it was your rendezvous. The house picked up a lot of your tabs. Did any of you ever complain? Not on your by-line!

You sat around with customers who on occasion had their pictures in the post offices. Up to the time the G-Men started shooting holes in these hoods, you wrote about them as if they were movie stars. You did everything but quote them on their tastes before breakfast and preference in linens. Your writings had a lot to do with a whole generation of kids dreaming of the day when they would grow up to be Public Enemies.

And don't give me that malarky about hanging around my saloon and a dozen others because you were looking for local color. You didn't have to look that often. (This doesn't go for Robert Ruark of the Scripps-Howard Syndicate. I don't remember this fireball of a newspaperman being around New York those days).

What do I think about Sinatra buddying up to Fischetti and Luciano? I think he's 100% chump. I've been bumping into the booze-and-bullet boys for twenty-five years. Darn near everybody in show business has. I never met a tough guy who was worth the time of day. The best you can get from them is the worst of it.

But when newspapermen, who have been accepting the hospitality of gangsters all their adult lives, throw rocks at Frankie for spending one weekend with them, I feel like rushing for the rail.

As I get the facts, Walter Winchell asked Frankie to do a benefit performance for the Runyon Cancer Fund at a Florida cafe. Like a lot of the cafes down there, this one features a side room where the mistress of ceremonies is Lady Luck. Frankie met up with some of the boys who glorified in the Twitching Thirties. Okay, he was sap enough to break bread with them. Okay, he was naive enough to be impressed by Lucky when he met him in Havana and went to the races with him. But how come when you put the whammy on him for these didoes, you said nothing about the Florida officials who permit the gambling houses to thrive? How come you said nothing about the police who allow these not-so-fragrant characters to circulate freely?

How come you said nothing about the thousands of other cabaret entertainers who do their stuff in places where Pistol Petes own an interest? Simple. You know that a performer playing the night club circuit works where his agent gets him the best salary. If he wants to eat regularly, the actor doesn't inquire into ownership and corporation papers. At the end of the week, he knows better than to ask his broken-nosed boss where the money in his pay envelope came from.

You know that's the set-up and it's been that way for years. And that goes for almost every town in this country—its officials, its police, and some of its cabaret proprietors.

If you don't like the politics of the Kid with the Platinum Tonsils, say so. That's you privilege. If you don't like the organizations that have been using him for a front, say that. I don't like some of them either. If you don't like the way The Voice levels on a ballad, say so. That, too, is your privilege. If you think his tolerance speeches are publicity stunts cooked up by Press Agent George Evans, print that, too—if you're sure of your facts.

But don't go hollering "mustn't-sit-around-with-the-bad-boys "when for years you've been warming the seat of your pants doing the same thing.

When you do, I feel like looking for the nearest cuspidor.

Come out from under that halo fellows. I know you. I've been around this street as long as you have—maybe longer. Let's take off the false whiskers and the blue noses and talk like guys who know the score.

Back in 1934, I produced shows for a cabaret called the Casino de Paree. You all know who bankrolled the place. For six months it was your rendezvous. The house picked up a lot of your tabs. Did any of you ever complain? Not on your by-line!

You sat around with customers who on occasion had their pictures in the post offices. Up to the time the G-Men started shooting holes in these hoods, you wrote about them as if they were movie stars. You did everything but quote them on their tastes before breakfast and preference in linens. Your writings had a lot to do with a whole generation of kids dreaming of the day when they would grow up to be Public Enemies.

And don't give me that malarky about hanging around my saloon and a dozen others because you were looking for local color. You didn't have to look that often. (This doesn't go for Robert Ruark of the Scripps-Howard Syndicate. I don't remember this fireball of a newspaperman being around New York those days).

What do I think about Sinatra buddying up to Fischetti and Luciano? I think he's 100% chump. I've been bumping into the booze-and-bullet boys for twenty-five years. Darn near everybody in show business has. I never met a tough guy who was worth the time of day. The best you can get from them is the worst of it.

But when newspapermen, who have been accepting the hospitality of gangsters all their adult lives, throw rocks at Frankie for spending one weekend with them, I feel like rushing for the rail.

As I get the facts, Walter Winchell asked Frankie to do a benefit performance for the Runyon Cancer Fund at a Florida cafe. Like a lot of the cafes down there, this one features a side room where the mistress of ceremonies is Lady Luck. Frankie met up with some of the boys who glorified in the Twitching Thirties. Okay, he was sap enough to break bread with them. Okay, he was naive enough to be impressed by Lucky when he met him in Havana and went to the races with him. But how come when you put the whammy on him for these didoes, you said nothing about the Florida officials who permit the gambling houses to thrive? How come you said nothing about the police who allow these not-so-fragrant characters to circulate freely?

How come you said nothing about the thousands of other cabaret entertainers who do their stuff in places where Pistol Petes own an interest? Simple. You know that a performer playing the night club circuit works where his agent gets him the best salary. If he wants to eat regularly, the actor doesn't inquire into ownership and corporation papers. At the end of the week, he knows better than to ask his broken-nosed boss where the money in his pay envelope came from.

You know that's the set-up and it's been that way for years. And that goes for almost every town in this country—its officials, its police, and some of its cabaret proprietors.

If you don't like the politics of the Kid with the Platinum Tonsils, say so. That's you privilege. If you don't like the organizations that have been using him for a front, say that. I don't like some of them either. If you don't like the way The Voice levels on a ballad, say so. That, too, is your privilege. If you think his tolerance speeches are publicity stunts cooked up by Press Agent George Evans, print that, too—if you're sure of your facts.

But don't go hollering "mustn't-sit-around-with-the-bad-boys" when for years you've been warming the seat of your pants doing the same thing.

When you do, I feel like looking for the nearest cuspidor.

By JOHN CROSBY

DENNIS DAY IN SKIRTS

The Dennis Day character, a gentle, wide eyed, constantly bewildered character, is for some reason one of the favorite heroes of the day. In various guises and under different names, he is all over the air—The Dennis Day show, Jack Benny program, Kenny Baker show, Eddie Bracken show, to name just a few. Sooner or later he was bound to turn up wearing skirts and he has.

Dennis Day

The feminine Dennis Day goes under the name of Irma and the name of the show is "My Friend Irma," a brand new program on C. B. S. 10:30 p. m. EST Fridays. Irma is as innocent of any knowledge of society as a fawn and is even more difficult to housebreak. Like Dennis Day, she blurts out anything that enters her head. Even the voice is a strict imitation of that talented young man. Irma also has a good deal of George S. Kaufman's Dulcy in her; that is, she has a genius for getting into jams.

Irma has a friend and roommate Jane, a sharp-witted, astringent, and capable girl who will remind you a lot of all those sharp-witted, astringent girls in Mr. Kaufman's plays, the ones who stand just to the left of the sofa making bright, bitter remarks. The two girls live in a boardinghouse and, I'm afraid, that will bring up the memory of "My Sister Eileen." The author, Cy Howard, has shopped around shrewdly in a number of dependable places.

Since the small town boardinghouse has been beaten to death in radio, it's nice that Mr. Howard has put his people into a big city boardinghouse. Even since O. Henry's day boardinghouses have been gold mines for authors in search of odd characters. John Steinbeck finds his people on busses; Vickie Baum used to go prowling around hotels but in radio its safer to stick to boardinghouses. This particular boardinghouse hasn't produced any striking oddities yet but I'm sure it will.

A smart girl and a dumb one make nice foils for each other but just to make sure there will be enough conflict to keep the customers happy, Mr. Howard has also provided a couple of sharply contrasted menfolk for the girls. Jane's dream man is a sort of George Apley Republican banker; Irma's man is a get-rich-quick hustler who likes to get his money the easy way. Naturally, their points of view don't coincide much. When last heard from the hustler was managing a prizefighter named Tiger McGurk, who suffered incessantly from hunger. The manager made his money by betting against him.

"My Friend Irma" is strictly New York City comedy which gives it a fairly fresh slant to start out with. It's intelligent, plausible, very well acted by Marie Wilson as Irma and Cathy Lewis as Jane, and it is very smartly acted and produced. But it doesn't seem as funny as it did when I heard an audition in Hollywood last winter. Still, it's a pleasant half hour and I think these two girls will find an audience.

NBC's MOLEHILL: Last Sunday Fred Allen was cut off the air for twenty-five seconds after a dispute of several hours duration over a line of microscopic importance. The line—"There's a little man in the company we work for"—was considered injurious to the dignity of radio. The momentous decision to cut off Mr. Allen for the first time in fifteen years rather than have the air lanes smirched with that nasty line was taken by C. L. Menser, Vice-President of N. B. C. and his staff of censors. Before they reached their decision, a lot of messages had been exchanged between Mr. Allen on one floor and the NBC people on another, a complicated and tedious process surrounded by as much protocol as a State Department note to Russia. The final ultimatum from on high to Mr. Allen, referred to hereinafter as the NBC Doctrine, was that he shouldn't kid radio any more.

Where does NBC find the men to make such small decisions anyhow? The world is full of executives who can make large, sweeping decisions but men who can make such minute decisions or even see such a tiny issue in the first place must be hard to find. To quote Mr. Allen on the subject: "A censor is a man who comes into his office every morning and finds a molehill on his desk. His job is to build that molehill into a mountain before he goes home."

Landon Speaks On America's Town Meeting

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 23—Alfred M. Landon, Republican candidate in 1936, is to be one of the speakers in America's Town meeting in its weekly broadcast on ABC at 8:30 p. m. Thursday. The question is "Does our New foreign policy lead to peace or war?" and Oklahoma City, Okla., is to be the origination point.

Also on the panel of four will be Prof. James Burnham of New York university, Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, and Max Lerner of New York's PM.

Babe Ruth is scheduled to appear in the Magazine Theater of CBS at 10 when his career is dramatized under the title of "What baseball owes to Babe Ruth." He will not take part in the drama, but will be heard in the broadcast.

Two concerts in connection with the National Federation of Music Clubs convention at Detroit will be displayed on two networks at approximately the same time. That on CBS at 11:30 will present Jacques Abram, piano; Raya Garbousova, cello, and Ramon Vinay, tenor. ABC at 11:35 will have an opera quartet made up of Margaret Harshaw, contralto; Robert Weede, baritone; Paula Lencher, soprano, and Edward Kane, tenor.

Although not scheduled originally to shift until next week, the Victor Lindlahr program on MBS has changed to 12 noon, 15 minutes later than heretofore . . . The MBS Family Theater at 10 has scheduled Barry Fitzgerald and Charlie Ruggles in "Ernie's Day."

"As Homelike As a Barn"

Cy Hartman finally got his new barn painted, but plenty of folks had a hand in it. Whenever someone got a free day, or a little extra time, they'd come over and help out with paint and brush.

And Cy, to show his appreciation, held a big "barn warming" Saturday—for all the folks who'd helped him (but not barring those who couldn't). Ma Hartman supplied sandwiches, and Cy rolled out a mellow keg of beer.

You'd never think of a barn as "homelike." But with those lanterns hanging from the rafters; makeshift tables spread heavy with food; and Ed Carey's fiddle playing while the folks enjoyed their beer—Cy's barn was sure a mighty hospitable-looking place!

From where I sit, it's just about as appropriate to have a barn warming as a housewarming . . . if only because it's another chance to get neighbors together in a spirit of good fellowship.

RADIO IN REVIEW

DENNIS DAY IN SKIRTS

The Dennis Day character, a gentle, wide eyed, constantly bewildered character, is for somereason one of the favorite heroes of the day. In various guises and under different names, he is all over the air—The Dennis Day show, Jack Benny program, Kenny Baker show, Eddie Bracken show, to name just a few. Sooner or later he was bound to turn up wearing skirts and he has.

Dennis Day

The feminine Dennis Day goes under the name of Irma and the name of the show is "My Friend Irma," a brand new program on C. B. S. 10:30 p. m. EST Fridays. Irma is as innocent of any knowledge of society as a fawn and is even more difficult to housebreak. Like Dennis Day, she blurts out anything that enters her head. Even the voice is a strict imitation of that talented young man. Irma also has a good deal of George S. Kaufman's Dulcy in her; that is, she has a genius for getting into jams.

Irma has a friend and roommate Jane, a sharp-witted, astringent, and capable girl who will remind you a lot of all those sharp-witted, astringent girls in Mr. Kaufman's plays, the ones who stand just to the left of the sofa making bright, bitter remarks. The two girls live in a boardinghouse and, I'm afraid, that will bring up the memory of "My Sister Eileen." The author, Cy Howard, has shopped around shrewdly in a number of dependable places.

Since the small town boardinghouse has been beaten to death in radio, it's nice that Mr. Howard has put his people into a big city boardinghouse. Even since O. Henry's day boardinghouses have been gold mines for authors in search of odd characters. John Steinbeck finds his people on busses; Vickie Baum used to go prowling around hotels but in radio its safer to stick to boardinghouses. This particular boardinghouse hasn't produced any striking oddities yet but I'm sure it will.

A smart girl and a dumb one make nice foils for each other but just to make sure there will be enough conflict to keep the customers happy, Mr. Howard has also provided a couple of sharply contrasted menfolk for the girls. Jane's dream man is a sort of George Apley Republican banker; Irma's man is a get-rich-quick hustler who likes to get his money the easy way. Naturally, their points of view don't coincide much. When last heard from the hustler was managing a prizefighter named Tiger McGurk, who suffered incessantly from hunger. The manager made his money by betting against him.

"My Friend Irma" is strictly New York City comedy which gives it a fairly fresh slant to start out with. It's intelligent, plausible, very well acted by Marie Wilson as Irma and Cathy Lewis as Jane, and it is very smartly acted and produced. But it doesn't seem as funny as it did when I heard an audition in Hollywood last winter. Still, it's a pleasant half hour and I think these two girls will find an audience.

NBC's MOLEHILL: Last Sunday Fred Allen was cut off the air for twenty-five seconds after a dispute of several hours duration over a line of microscopic importance. The line—"There's a little man in the company we work for"—was considered injurious to the dignity of radio. The momentous decision to cut off Mr. Allen for the first time in fifteen years rather than have the air lanes smirched with that nasty line was taken by C. L. Menser, Vice-President of N. B. C. and his staff of censors. Before they reached their decision, a lot of messages had been exchanged between Mr. Allen on one floor and the NBC people on another, a complicated and tedious process surrounded by as much protocol as a State Department note to Russia. The final ultimatum from on high to Mr. Allen, referred to hereinafter as the NBC Doctrine, was that he shouldn't kid radio any more.

Where does NBC find the men to make such small decisions anyhow? The world is full of executives who can make large, sweeping decisions but men who can make such minute decisions or even see such a tiny issue in the first place must be hard to find. To quote Mr. Allen on the subject: "A censor is a man who comes into his office every morning and finds a molehill on his desk. His job is to build that molehill into a mountain before he goes home."

Frostburg City Fathers Pass No-Parking Rule

Project Is Part Of Clean-up Drive

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 23 — Commencing at midnight Saturday, April 26, all motor cars parked on Main street will be tagged by a police officer to be assigned to this particular work.

At a special meeting of the Mayor and City Commissioners, it was announced that Main Street will be cleaned every week after Saturday midnight for the purpose of having the town make an attractive appearance on Sunday. Mayor Marshall Skidmore stated that newspaper publicity on the no parking rule has been ignored and because of the many cars lined along the curbs, particularly between Water and Bowery Streets, it has been impossible to clean the street, which is always dirtier Saturday evening than at any time because of the Saturday shopping.

Auto owners are asked to co-operate as part of the plan to make Frostburg present a more attractive appearance during the summer months, the mayor said. Cars left on the street next Saturday will be tagged and the owners fined. Effective Saturday, May 3, the police department has been instructed by the City Council to have the cars towed to the city parking lot.

The Mayor and City Commissioners are being supported in the campaign to have the business section of the town clean on Sunday mornings by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, local churches and other civic organizations.

Named Chairman

Mrs. G. Gale Townsend has been appointed chairman of a committee to conduct the Frostburg campaign to raise funds for the National Cancer Society, which will use the money to provide means for the control of cancer in every section of the United States.

Mrs. Harrison Givens will serve as the committee assigned to receive donations at local theaters. Members of this committee will be in theater lobbies Saturday evening to receive contributions.

Mrs. Townsend announced letters will be mailed to every civic, fraternal, social, religious, and labor organization in the community soliciting contributions. She stated that there will be no house-to-house drive, but individuals who wish to make donations should notify her or David Willetts, who has been appointed local, treasurer.

Frostburg City Fathers Pass No-Parking Rule

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, April 23 — Commencing at midnight Saturday, April 26, all motor cars parked on Main street will be tagged by a police officer to be assigned to this particular work.

At a special meeting of the Mayor and City Commissioners, it was announced that Main Street will be cleaned every week after Saturday midnight for the purpose of having the town make an attractive appearance on Sunday. Mayor Marshall Skidmore stated that newspaper publicity on the no parking rule has been ignored and because of the many cars lined along the curbs, particularly between Water and Bowery Streets, it has been impossible to clean the street, which is always dirtier Saturday evening than at any time because of the Saturday shopping.

Auto owners are asked to co-operate as part of the plan to make Frostburg present a more attractive appearance during the summer months, the mayor said. Cars left on the street next Saturday will be tagged and the owners fined. Effective Saturday, May 3, the police department has been instructed by the City Council to have the cars towed to the city parking lot.

The Mayor and City Commissioners are being supported in the campaign to have the business section of the town clean on Sunday mornings by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, local churches and other civic organizations.

Mrs. G. Gale Townsend has been appointed chairman of a committee to conduct the Frostburg campaign to raise funds for the National Cancer Society, which will use the money to provide means for the control of cancer in every section of the United States.

Mrs. Harrison Givens will serve as the committee assigned to receive donations at local theaters. Members of this committee will be in theater lobbies Saturday evening to receive contributions.

Mrs. Townsend announced letters will be mailed to every civic, fraternal, social, religious, and labor organization in the community soliciting contributions. She stated that there will be no house-to-house drive, but individuals who wish to make donations should notify her or David Willetts, who has been appointed local, treasurer.

Stock Market, By Narrow Margin, Scores Fourth Straight Advance

NEW YORK, April 23—(AP)—The stock market achieved its fourth successive advance today but only by a narrow margin after recovering from an early dip.

The improvement was selective and many steels, rubbers and rails failed to participate. Most price changes were limited to around a point or less and numerous issues closed even with the previous day.

Total transfers of 700,000 shares were the lowest since April 10.

Following reports of lower soap prices, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet closed down two points to 43. Procter and Gamble at 62 was off 1¾. American Ice common touched a new low and closed down 1¼ at 7, while its six per cent non-cumulative preferred finished 11½ lower at 95. Other losers on the day included United States Steel, General Motors, Republic Steel, Goodrich, Chesapeake and Ohio, Sun Oil, American Can, Anaconda, United Carbon, Schenley, American Tobacco "B" and Philip Morris.

On a stock split proposal Westvaco climbed 3⅜ to close at 39⅞. Also on the upside were Chrysler, American Woolen, Texas Company, Standard Oil (NJ), Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Pullman, Eastman Kodak, International Harvester, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, Air Reduction and Western Union "A".

Improved in the curb were United Chemical, Singer, American Gas and Electric and American Book. Hecla Mining and Cities Service finished on the offside. Turnover of 240,000 share here compared with 190,000 Tuesday.

The bond market reversed the downward trend of resent sessions and, led by Railroad liens, many issues scored gains of fractions to two points and more. A scattered few remained in the minus column but selling pressure was light.

Sales totalled $3,320,000, against $3,240,000 yesterday.

United States government issues were unchanged to fractionally lower in over-the-counter dealings. The 2½s of '65-70 were off 1-32, the closing bid being 104 12-32.

Stock Market, By Narrow Margin, Scores Fourth Straight Advance

NEW YORK, April 23—(AP)—The stock market achieved its fourth successive advance today but only by a narrow margin after recovering from an early dip.

The improvement was selective and many steels, rubbers and rails failed to participate. Most price changes were limited to around a point or less and numerous issues closed even with the previous day.

Total transfers of 700,000 shares were the lowest since April 10.

Following reports of lower soap prices, Colgate-Palmolive-Peet closed down two points to 43. Procter and Gamble at 62 was off 1⅝. American Ice common touched a new low and closed down 1¼ at 7, while its six per cent non-cumulative preferred finished 11½ lower at 95. Other losers on the day included United States Steel, General Motors, Republic Steel, Goodrich, Chesapeake and Ohio, Sun Oil, American Can, Anaconda, United Carbon, Schenley, American Tobacco "B" and Philip Morris.

On a stock split proposal Westvaco climbed 3⅜ to close at 39⅞. Also on the upside were Chrysler, American Woolen, Texas Company, Standard Oil (NJ), Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Pullman, Eastman Kodak, International Harvester, American Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, Air Reduction and Western Union "A".

Improved in the curb were United Chemical, Singer, American Gas and Electric and American Book. Hecla Mining and Cities Service finished on the offside. Turnover of 240,000 share here compared with 190,000 Tuesday.

The bond market reversed the downward trend of resent sessions and, led by Railroad liens, many issues scored gains of fractions to two points and more. A scattered few remained in the minus column but selling pressure was light.

Sales totalled $3,320,000, against $3,240,000 yesterday.

United States government issues were unchanged to fractionally lower in over-the-counter dealings. The 2½s of '65-70 were off 1-32, the closing bid being 104 12-32.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

Advice To The Lovelorn

Attention Lonely Teen-Agers; Here's Mother Who Would Like To Help You

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

If you have a physical ailment, one of the first things you want from your doctor is the assurance that you're going to get well.

But besides your doctor, there's one other person whose reassurance on this point brings you comfort and help. That is the person who has had the same type of illness and completely recovered.

When such a person comes to visit you during your illness, you ask him a lot of questions. You want to know how he felt; if his temperature ever went as high as yours; if he had this symptom or that symptom, and how long it lasted. At what point did he start getting well? And, most important of all, what was it that helped him most in doing so? A particular type of medicine? Some special treatment? A certain diet? Or was it just prolonged rest? Because you feel, if he was as sick as you and is now well and healthy again, you want to try the things that licked his illness and gave him that energy and abounding vitality.

And as with a physical condition, so it is with an emotional problem. The person who can frequently help you even more than the expert is the one who has had that particular problem to deal with himself and solved it. If you can learn from him exactly what he did to work the thing out, you feel, you might be able to apply the same techniques to your problem and get the same happy results.

Here is a letter from a woman who, because she once had a very bad case of shyness herself and had to figure out how to overcome it, would like to pass on to others suffering from the same distressing malady the remedy she found speeded her recovery.

She writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"The article of yours about a lonely 17-year-old girl concerns me deeply. Will you please forward her address to me, so that I can write her?

"You can tell her, or print in your column, that the first thing for all lonely people to do is to forget themselves and concentrate on making their acquaintances feel happy, or bring a smile to their faces. Remember that other people may be just as lonely as you are, and waiting for you to say the first word, so it is up to the lonely person himself to make a decided effort to get the other person talking. Remember, too, that the other person is interested, first, in himself, not in you. Someone impressed this fact on me many years ago, and it proved invaluable to me, a very shy person.

"I would like to have any lonely, shy person who would like to do so, write me, and I'll answer, as I know only too well just how they feel, and would like to help.

"MRS. R. H. V."

Now I cannot give out the name or address of anyone without his or her permission. But if that lonely 17-year-old to whom she refers, or any other reader, would like to write "Mrs. R. H. V." and get her prescription for overcoming the malady of shyness, they can send their letters to me and I will forward them to her.

What she says about people waiting for the other person "to say the first word" is, I think, one of the keys to the whole problem. For most very shy people shrink from making advances. They are too timid to make the friendly gesture, but instead look to others to extend the hand of comradeship. In other words, they put all the responsibility of making friends on the other fellow, refusing to accept any of that responsibility themselves.

Why do you think it's always the other fellow's job to approach you, shy ones? Why isn't it just as much up to you as it is to him? Maybe he's waiting for you to make the first move. Ever think of that?

Maybe it would be a good idea to think that one over, and then go on from there.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Attention Lonely Teen-Agers; Here's Mother Who Would Like To Help You

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

If you have a physical ailment, one of the first things you want from your doctor is the assurance that you're going to get well.

But besides your doctor, there's one other person whose reassurance on this point brings you comfort and help. That is the person who has had the same type of illness and completely recovered.

When such a person comes to visit you during your illness, you ask him a lot of questions. You want to know how he felt; if his temperature ever went as high as yours; if he had this symptom or that symptom, and how long it lasted. At what point did he start getting well? And, most important of all, what was it that helped him most in doing so? A particular type of medicine? Some special treatment? A certain diet? Or was it just prolonged rest? Because you feel, if he was as sick as you and is now well and healthy again, you want to try the things that licked his illness and gave him that energy and abounding vitality.

And as with a physical condition, so it is with an emotional problem. The person who can frequently help you even more than the expert is the one who has had that particular problem to deal with himself and solved it. If you can learn from him exactly what he did to work the thing out, you feel, you might be able to apply the same techniques to your problem and get the same happy results.

Here is a letter from a woman who, because she once had a very bad case of shyness herself and had to figure out how to overcome it, would like to pass on to others suffering from the same distressing malady the remedy she found speeded her recovery.

She writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"The article of yours about a lonely 17-year-old girl concerns me deeply. Will you please forward her address to me, so that I can write her?

"You can tell her, or print in your column, that the first thing for all lonely people to do is to forget themselves and concentrate on making their acquaintances feel happy, or bring a smile to their faces. Remember that other people may be just as lonely as you are, and waiting for you to say the first word, so it is up to the lonely person himself to make a decided effort to get the other person talking. Remember, too, that the other person is interested, first, in himself, not in you. Someone impressed this fact on me many years ago, and it proved invaluable to me, a very shy person.

"I would like to have any lonely, shy person who would like to do so, write me, and I'll answer, as I know only too well just how they feel, and would like to help.

"MRS. R. H. V."

Now I cannot give out the name or address of anyone without his or her permission. But if that lonely 17-year-old to whom she refers, or any other reader, would like to write "Mrs. R. H. V." and get her prescription for overcoming the malady of shyness, they can send their letters to me and I will forward them to her.

What she says about people waiting for the other person "to say the first word" is, I think, one of the keys to the whole problem. For most very shy people shrink from making advances. They are too timid to make the friendly gesture, but instead look to others to extend the hand of comradeship. In other words, they put all the responsibility of making friends on the other fellow, refusing to accept any of that responsibility themselves.

Why do you think it's always the other fellow's job to approach you, shy ones? Why isn't it just as much up to you as it is to him? Maybe he's waiting for you to make the first move. Ever think of that?

Maybe it would be a good idea to think that one over, and then go on from there.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 — When Sol Siegel gets going on "The Chair For Martin Rome" at 20th, the candidate he wants for the chair is — Dana Andrews. And I don't blame him. Not that I think Dana is fodder for the executioner, but I can't begin to tell you how popular that boy is all over the country. After a month of commuting—I know.

Dolores Del Rio

There's one thing about Dana—he will have to be personally sold on Henry Helseth's new novel about a man who escapes from prison just long enough to keep the girl he loves from being framed, before he says "yes."

Andrews is a boy with a definite idea about movies. Off the record, he recently turned down a big story, subsequently assigned to another star, because he thinks it will kill any actor who plays it!

Ben Hecht and Charlie Lederer are already scripting "The Chair For Martin Rome."

Zowie, are we in for a run of political pictures what with 1948 looming up just around the calendar?

Latest to toss a plot in the movie political ring is Jules Levy who has a contract all signed and sealed to bring to the screen the career of De Lesseps Morrison, 35-year-old mayor of New Orleans. Morrison, who was recently written up in a leading national weekly, is Mr. Clean-Up himself of that famous town—and an amusing slant is that his most important political enemy is his father-in-law.

David Selznick writes me at length to say that Jennifer Jones did not ask to have her part in "Portrait Of Jennie" built up nor is she feuding with her director, William Dieterle. David said it was he, himself, who decided upon the rewrite job.

I said there were rumors, but I have no wish to be unfair to Jennifer or anyone else. So I am glad to say there is no trouble.

However, I did see Jennifer myself in the lace bonnet at the Stork Club. Several people thought she looked very cute. I see nothing wrong in reporting what she wore. That, dear David, was not relayed by a third person, as you suggested. So, let's not you and I, after 25 years of friendship, be foolish over something that, believe me, was not meant unkindly. I, too, like and admire Jennifer.

Chatter in New York: New York's richest young widow, Hope Hampton, wife of Jules Brulatour, millionaire, has dozens of admirers. I saw her dancing with Captain Kramer at the El Morocco and I must say, she has kept her looks remarkably well. Hope told me she still lives in the house on Park Avenue which Jules bought for her as a wedding present.

William K. Howard, formerly one of the biggest directors in Hollywood and now rapidly becoming one of the most important in Mexico, is on a flying trip to movietown. Bill has a briefcase filled with scripts he'll make just as soon as he returns to Mexico.

I was particularly interested to hear that he will re-film one of his biggest hits, "White Gold" with Dolores Del Rio in the starring role that once made a star of Jette Goudal. Then, for Eddie Neilus, at Columbia, he'll film "Tinker, to Evers to Chance" followed by "Black Mark In Heaven." It's good that Bill has his winner's boots back on again.

Snapshots of Hollywood and New York collected at random: Dolores Del Rio, Carmen Figueroa and Candy Vanderlip stopped in to see me at the Waldorf Towers. Dolores looks simply wonderful, prettier than ever. I saw them later dancing at the night spots.

Cobina Wright Sr. has been having a whirl. She was at the theater and the Cub Room with playproducer Bob Reud. He is quite an astrologer and was predicting all sorts of pleasant things for Cobina, who deserves them. She is leaving for Washington and is very mysterious about the whole thing.

Dolores Moran with Ben Bogeaus were in the Stork. On the sidewalk one of the fans handed Dolores a photograph of herself taken when she was sixteen. Amazing how these kids get old pictures of the stars.

Phyllis Haver Seaman has taken off a lot of weight and looks simply marvelous. I saw her flanked by a bevy of escorts dancing at the Stork.

Pat Smart with John Heinz of the 57 variety family, stopped to chat with me at the El Morocco. She's as gay as a lark these days. She had dinner with Eddie Luckenbach, the youthful stage angel, a few nights ago and ended by buying his car then and there. Reminds me, Sherman Billingsley told me he sold one of his cars to a Stork Club waiter and when the waiter went to pay for it, he pulled out $1,000 bills. "Has more money than I have," mused Sherm.

Charlie MacArthur, Lewis Milestone and David Lewis were a stag threesome at "21." Milly left next day for Los Angeles and David was lamenting the fact he couldn't go with him. He is staying to help on "Arch of Triumph's" campaign.

Robert Taplinger is also here for that purpose, as is Boss Charles Einfeld. Bob is here, there and everywhere, always with a pretty girl on his arm.

Saw Ruth Foran Pardo dancing with a good looking youth. Her hair is completely platinum in front and jet black in the back. An eerie effect, I must say.

I want to thank all my New York friends who sent flowers and farewell good wishes. There were so many I haven't had time to acknowledge yet because I have been in a state of perpetual motion.

Wish I had been in town for the cocktail party Maggie Ettinger gave for Governor Wallgren and Leon Henderson. Heard it was tres gala.

Mary Kunody having dinner with a girl friend at Peggy Cleary's while Charlie Morrison is in the east testifying in a lawsuit.

The Red Skelton writers have really hit the jack pot with novels of late. Ben Freedman, with his wife Nancy, wrote the current best-seller, "Mrs. Mike".

That's all today.

$55,000 Asked In Death Of County Road Employe

Suit for $55,000 was docketed in Circuit Court here yesterday against the Blue Ridge Transportation Company for the widow and five dependent children of Delmar Simon Dolly, county road truck driver and snow plow operator, who died of injuries March 2 when a bus struck the truck he was operating five miles east of Cumberland on U. S. Route 40.

The suit was filed by John T. Fey, attorney for the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, to the use of Belle Susie Dolly, widow of Dolly, and five children, the youngest being 17 months and the eldest 14.

The petition alleges that William C. Keller was driving the bus at the time of the collision, and explains that Dolly was in the performance of his regular duties when killed.

In asking for $55,000 damages, the petitioner claims that the fatal accident was entirely due to the carelessness and negligence of the operator of the bus.

The Dolly family resides at Flintstone and Mr. and Mrs. Dolly had eight children of which only five are dependent.

The family received $125 from the county to pay for the victim's funeral expenses and now receives $20 a week from the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company.

James Rexrode Takes Juvenile Case To Court Of Appeals

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23 (AP) — James Rexrode of Allegany county asked the Court of Appeals today to overrule a decision of the Baltimore City Court denying him a writ of habeas corpus.

Rexrode was confined to the Maryland House of Correction for two years on a charge of violating parole.

He had been given a similar sentence by Juvenile Magistrate John Barnard after being found guilty March 28, 1946, of contributing to the delinquency and dependence of his three minor children. This sentence had been suspended and he was paroled.

Rexrode's plea to the high court stated he was "tried for non-support" on a warrant which was sworn out by his wife who was then insane.

The state replied "under provisions of the law it was entirely competent for the magistrate to revoke the suspension (of his sentence) and require the execution of sentence. Furthermore, the appelant does not deny that he violated the terms of his probation.

The case was submitted on brief.

Permit Is Sought For Barber Shop

J. H. Littlefield filed an appeal to the Board of Zoning Appeals yesterday for a permit to use a room on the first floor of a two-story brick building at 434 North Centre Street as a barber shop.

His application for a permit was denied at the city engineer's office because the building is located in a Residential C zoning district.

The city engineer granted a permit to DeSales Glick, 120 North Smallwood Street, to build a five-room two-story brick residence on Lot No. 46, Mt. Royal Avenue, to be set back in line with the building line established for that street by the city engineer last October.

The 30 by 22-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and a roof of composition shingles. Work will be done by Quentin L. Griffey at an estimated cost of $6,000.

Carl Dewey Warfield, 408 Park Street, secured a permit to develop and enlarge photographs in his home on a part-time basis. The three-story brick building, owned by Gustave Knieriem, 509 Franklin Street, is located in a Residential B zoning district.

Celanese Plans New Wood Pulp Source

The world shortage of wood pulp, with its consequent effect on prices, is not expected to be a temporary situation, Harold Blancke, president of Celanese Corporation of America, declared Tuesday at a meeting of the Association of Customers' Brokers, held at the New York Chamber of Commerce Building.

"In view of the plans for increased synthetic yarn production facilities," Blancke said "the big question is where addtional supplies of pulp are to come from to make possible this new production. Celanese Corporation of America has plans under way for the erection of a dissolving pulp mill in Prince Rupert, British Columbia, which will produce at the outset 200 tons daily of highly purified cellulose.

"Output of this plant can be stepped up to around 400 tons per day," he stated. "This would be equivalent to approximately 25 per cent of the present world supply of wood pulp."

Blancke said that the chemical plant of the corporation at Bishop, Tex., has contributed immeasurably to the progress of the company in all of its activities. A steady flow of critical chemical materials from the Texas plant to the textile and plastic divisions has permitted over-all company operations to move along uninterruptedly, he added.

Police Seek Three Suspected Of Theft

Police last night were investigating the suspicious action of three men who were loading pipe on a truck and ran when detectives went to investigate on Avondale Avenue behind Fort Hill High School about 10 p. m.

Assistant Chief of Police John J. Trieber said Lt. Detective R. Emmet Flynn and Detective Thomas J. See were making a routine inspection when they noticed three men loading a truck with pipe that is being used to lay a water line from Williams Street to Kent Street, where a new development is being constructed.

Chief Trieber said the detectives found a two and a half ton truck with 7 pieces of the 8-inch pipe already loaded when they checked after the men fled. The pipe, which police estimated is worth $1 a foot, measured over 100 feet, police said.

The truck has only a cardboard license plate and a check revealed that the number printed on the cardboard was issued to another vehicle, police said.

Local Soloists Are On Tour With Singers

The three soloists featured at a concert given yesterday in Detroit by the Maryland Singers of Frostburg State Teachers' College are all Cumberlanders — Nelson Eddy Zapf, a tenor of St. Mark's Reformed Church choir; Robert Smith, Allegany High School baritone; and Miss Betty Wilson, soprano, former Allegany High and State Teachers' College student, who is studying at the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

The group of 35 singers gave a concert in Columbus, O., en route to Detroit, where they sang at the convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Maurice Matteson conducted the performances.

County Births Show Marked Increase

There were 2,573 births in Allegany County last year as compared to 983 deaths, according to figures released by the State Department of Health. Births increased by 600 over the 1945 total of 1,924 in the county, while deaths decreased as compared to the 1945 figure of 1,038.

Garrett County showed similar trends, with 415 births in 1946 as compared to 362 in 1945, and 179 deaths, a slight decrease from the 183 total of the preceding year.

Anderson Pays $20 For Parking Violations

Frederick H. Anderson, 112 Decatur Street, yesterday paid fines totaling $20 for 10 illegal parking violations and Harold T. Shaffer, 19, 71 Marion Street, who allegedly stole Anderson's car leading to the discovery of the unpaid tickets, was given 70 days in jail in default of $111.50 fines.

Officer P. M. Crabtree who recovered the car off Baltimore Avenue, said a routine check revealed the 10 unpaid tickets and two warnings for parking violations. Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman swore out a warrant for Anderson's arrest after the tickets were discovered. He pleaded guilty.

George F. Logsdon, Pitcairn, Pa., forfeited $27.90 and Clarence Emerick, Jr., Glencoe, Pa., paid fines totaling $12.50 on charges that resulted from an accident on Route 35 at Corriganville Saturday.

Logsdon forfeited bonds on charges of reckless driving and operating a machine without a proper operator's license. Emerick was fined on a reckless driving charge and for operating his machine without license tags. Trooper G. M. Rotruck preferred charges.

Permit Is Sought For Barber Shop

J. H. Littlefield filed an appeal to the Board of Zoning Appeals yesterday for a permit to use a room on the first floor of a two-story brick building at 434 North Centre Street as a barber shop.

His application for a permit was denied at the city engineer's office because the building is located in a Residential C zoning district.

The city engineer granted a permit to DeSales Glick, 120 North Smallwood Street, to build a five-room two-story brick residence on Lot No. 46, Mt. Royal Avenue, to be set back in line with the building line established for that street by the city engineer last October.

The 30 by 22-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and a roof of composition shingles. Work will be done by Quentin L. Griffey at an estimated cost of $6,000.

Carl Dewey Warfield, 408 Park Street, secured a permit to develop and enlarge photographs in his home on a part-time basis. The three-story brick building, owned by Gustave Knieriem, 509 Franklin Street, is located in a Residential B zoning district.

Celanese Plans New Wood Pulp Source

The world shortage of wood pulp, with its consequent effect on prices, is not expected to be a temporary situation, Harold Blancke, president of Celanese Corporation of America, declared Tuesday at a meeting of the Association of Customers' Brokers, held at the New York Chamber of Commerce Building.

"In view of the plans for increased synthetic yarn production facilities," Blancke said "the big question is where additional supplies of pulp are to come from to make possible this new production. Celanese Corporation of America has plans under way for the erection of a dissolving pulp mill in Prince Rupert, British Columbia, which will produce at the outset 200 tons daily of highly purified cellulose.

"Output of this plant can be stepped up to around 400 tons per day," he stated. "This would be equivalent to approximately 25 per cent of the present world supply of wood pulp."

Blancke said that the chemical plant of the corporation at Bishop, Tex., has contributed immeasurably to the progress of the company in all of its activities. A steady flow of critical chemical materials from the Texas plant to the textile and plastic divisions has permitted over-all company operations to move along uninterruptedly, he added.

Police Seek Three Suspected Of Theft

Police last night were investigating the suspicious action of three men who were loading pipe on a truck and ran when detectives went to investigate on Avondale Avenue behind Fort Hill High School about 10 p. m.

Assistant Chief of Police John J. Trieber said Lt. Detective R. Emmet Flynn and Detective Thomas J. See were making a routine inspection when they noticed three men loading a truck with pipe that is being used to lay a water line from Williams Street to Kent Street, where a new development is being constructed.

Chief Trieber said the detectives found a two and a half ton truck with 7 pieces of the 8-inch pipe already loaded when they checked after the men fled. The pipe, which police estimated is worth $1 a foot, measured over 100 feet, police said.

The truck has only a cardboard license plate and a check revealed that the number printed on the cardboard was issued to another vehicle, police said.

Anderson Pays $20 For Parking Violations

Officer P. M. Crabtree who recovered the car off Baltimore Avenue, said a routine check revealed the 10 unpaid tickets and two warnings for parking violations. Chief of Police Oscar A. Eyerman swore out a warrant for Anderson's arrest after the tickets were discovered. He pleaded guilty.

George F. Logsdon, Pitcairn, Pa., forfeited $27.90 and Clarence Emerick, Jr., Glencoe, Pa., paid fines totaling $12.50 on charges that resulted from an accident on Route 35 at Corriganville Saturday.

Frostburg VFW Host To Midland Sunday

FROSTBURG, April 23 — The newly organized drum corps of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, sporting new uniforms, and the Arion Band will parade to the ball park and play several selections prior to the raising of the national colors upon the flag pole at the Bi-State League's opening game of the season here Sunday between the Midland American Legion and the tossers representing John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, VFW, of Frostburg.

The lid-lifter is scheduled for 3:30 Daylight Saving Time.

Despite the cold weather in the Frosty City, the club is fast rounding into shape and Manager Dick Stroupe has been busy ironing out the weak spots.

Vernon "Flash" Kight, who has been nursing a sore arm, will be ready for action Sunday. Frank Urbas, who was with Springfield, Mass., before entering the service and has plenty of experience, is reported to be recovering from a charley horse. "Buck" Winfield, Queen City's shortstop of last season, who suffered a leg injury in an exhibition game with Westvaco, is also expected to play on Sunday.

Little is known of Midland's strength but rumors are to the effect that the Legion is importing several stars from Altoona.

Alumni May Protest Panciera's "Jumping"

BOSTON, April 23 (AP)—Don Panciera, 19-year-old passing sensation of the Boston College football team, was reported on the West Coast today discussing his transfer to the University of San Francisco.

His move came as a shock to B. C. athletic officials — but they remained officially silent, though obviously peeved. There were reports that the alumni would protest against what some called the "luring" of their star by the other jesuit college.

Pirates Batter Five Twirlers, Beat Cards, 8-5

Cox Wallops Second Home Run Of Season

ST. LOUIS, April 23—(AP)—The last place St. Louis Cardinals fell before powerful Pittsburgh Pirate bats today, 8 to 5, in a game that saw three home runs and seven pitchers, five of them for the Redbirds.

The St. Louis club jumped to an early lead on a double by Stan Musial and a single by Enos Slaughter but Pittsburgh gained that back and a little more with their big five-run second inning in which Billy Cox hit into the left field bleachers for his second homer of the year, scoring behind three teammates.

The Redbirds tried a fast comeback in their half of the same inning when Marty Marion walked, Al Schoendienst cracked a triple to right and Charley Diering sent the ball into the left field stands for the second circuit blow of the afternoon.

Two walks and a single brought the Cardinals even with Pittsburgh in the third to make it anybody's ball game and both sides kept their bats under wraps until the sixth when the Pirates surged ahead with what proved to be the winning runs. Box:

Blue Grass Stakes Will Be Run Today

By SID FEDER

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23 (AP)—Faultless, the magician's horse, gets his final full dress Kentucky Derby rehearsal tomorrow in the Blue Grass Stakes, which ordinarily is a fancy prop for the Derby, but this time looks like just an opportunity for Faultless to pick up some oat money while he's waiting around.

The magician, naturally, is plain Ben Jones and from all you hear around the Blue Grass, he had that Missouri magic cooking overtime this year in getting Faultless ready for next week's rich run for the roses over at Churchill Downs.

Three other candidates for Col. Matt Winn's hundred-grand jackpot were entered today for tomorrow's Blue Grass, along with the son of Bull Lea that plain Ben trains for Warren Wright. But off their recent romping, as compared to Faultless' fancy stepping, the general forecast is they probably won't be within dinner-bell sound of plain Ben's galloper when he winds up this mile-and-an-eighth.

Two of these three chased Faultless home a week ago. They are Riskolater, a stake-winner in Florida last winter from the Circle M barn of Edward S. Moore and John's Pride, owned by John A. Kinard, Jr., of Brickeys, Ark.

The other gee-gee trying for the Blue Grass second money will be Jett-Jett, an Illinois owned colt from the stable of W. M. Peavey, and about the best that can be said for him is that he ran third and fourth in his only two local starts this spring.

Whatever faint hope this trio has lies in the fact that Faultless will be toting the Derby load of 126 pounds over Keeneland's picturesque racing strip, while they'll be packing 121 apiece.

Allie Reynolds Pitches Yankees To 3-0 Triumph

New Yorker Limits Bosox To Two Hits

NEW YORK, April 23—(AP)—Allie Reynolds, who came to New York from Cleveland in the Joe Gordon deal, made a brilliant Yankee home debut today with a two-hit, 3-0 win over Boston's Red Sox that missed being a no-hitter by the margin of two late inning blows by Rudy York.

The husky righthander had a no-hitter for 6⅓ frames until York doubled into left center. An alert crowd of 30,729 was fully aware of the opportunity beckoning Reynolds toward the hall of fame until York slammed that two bagger into the hole between Centerfielder Joe DiMaggio and Leftfielder Charley Keller.

In the ninth it was York who was the villian. He slapped a single past Shortstop Phil Rizzuto after two were out. Box:

TIGERS TIE RECORD

DETROIT, April 23—(AP)—Loosing a broadside of five homers—three of them in succession to tie a major league record—the Detroit Tigers hammered the Chicago White Sox out of undisputed first place in the American League today with their first loss of the season, 7 to 4.

Beall gathered 15 hits, Murray, Farrady, Best, Scott and Crump getting two each.

Beall will play at Barton Thursday at 3:30 and meets LaSalle in Cumberland on Friday. Box:

Two Bands To Play At Opening Game

Frostburg VFW Host To Midland Sunday

FROSTBURG, April 23 — The newly organized drum corps of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, sporting new uniforms, and the Arion Band will parade to the ball park and play several selections prior to the raising of the national colors upon the flag pole at the Bi-State League's opening game of the season here Sunday between the Midland American Legion and the tossers representing John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, VFW, of Frostburg.

The lid-lifter is scheduled for 3:30 Daylight Saving Time.

Despite the cold weather in the Frosty City, the club is fast rounding into shape and Manager Dick Stroupe has been busy ironing out the weak spots.

Vernon "Flash" Kight, who has been nursing a sore arm, will be ready for action Sunday. Frank Urbas, who was with Springfield, Mass., before entering the service and has plenty of experience, is reported to be recovering from a charley horse. "Buck" Winfield, Queen City's shortstop of last season, who suffered a leg injury in an exhibition game with Westvaco, is also expected to play on Sunday.

Little is known of Midland's strength but rumors are to the effect that the Legion is importing several stars from Altoona.

Archie Moore Is Ill; Charles Bout Is Off

CINCINNATI, April 23—(AP)—The Ezzard Charles-Archie Moore 10-round light - heavyweight bout, scheduled for April 28, was postponed tonight when Moore's physician ordered him to bed because of a heavy cold, George Murphy, secretary of the Cincinnati Boxing Commission, reported.

Murphy said the commission had received a doctor's report from Indianapolis where the New York battler was training.

Alumni May Protest Panciera's "Jumping"

BOSTON, April 23 (AP)—Don Panciera, 19-year-old passing sensation of the Boston College football team, was reported on the West Coast today discussing his transfer to the University of San Francisco.

His move came as a shock to B. C. athletic officials — but they remained officially silent, though obviously peeved. There were reports that the alumni would protest against what some called the "luring" of their star by the other jesuit college.

Moose To Practice

The Loyal Order of Moose softball team of the Rocking Chair League will hold practice sessions today and Friday at 5:30 p. m. and Sunday at 10 a. m., at Community Park.

Pirates Batter Five Twirlers, Beat Cards, 8-5

Cox Wallops Second Home Run Of Season

ST. LOUIS, April 23—(AP)—The last place St. Louis Cardinals fell before powerful Pittsburgh Pirate bats today, 8 to 5, in a game that saw three home runs and seven pitchers, five of them for the Redbirds.

The St. Louis club jumped to an early lead on a double by Stan Musial and a single by Enos Slaughter but Pittsburgh gained that back and a little more with their big five-run second inning in which Billy Cox hit into the left field bleachers for his second homer of the year, scoring behind three teammates.

The Redbirds tried a fast comeback in their half of the same inning when Marty Marion walked, Al Schoendienst cracked a triple to right and Charley Diering sent the ball into the left field stands for the second circuit blow of the afternoon.

Two walks and a single brought the Cardinals even with Pittsburgh in the third to make it anybody's ball game and both sides kept their bats under wraps until the sixth when the Pirates surged ahead with what proved to be the winning runs. Box:

Blue Grass Stakes Will Be Run Today

By SID FEDER

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23 (AP)—Faultless, the magician's horse, gets his final full dress Kentucky Derby rehearsal tomorrow in the Blue Grass Stakes, which ordinarily is a fancy prop for the Derby, but this time looks like just an opportunity for Faultless to pick up some oat money while he's waiting around.

The magician, naturally, is plain Ben Jones and from all you hear around the Blue Grass, he had that Missouri magic cooking overtime this year in getting Faultless ready for next week's rich run for the roses over at Churchill Downs.

Three other candidates for Col. Matt Winn's hundred-grand jackpot were entered today for tomorrow's Blue Grass, along with the son of Bull Lea that plain Ben trains for Warren Wright. But off their recent romping, as compared to Faultless' fancy stepping, the general forecast is they probably won't be within dinner-bell sound of plain Ben's galloper when he winds up this mile-and-an-eighth.

Two of these three chased Faultless home a week ago. They are Riskolater, a stake-winner in Florida last winter from the Circle M barn of Edward S. Moore and John's Pride, owned by John A. Kinard, Jr., of Brickeys, Ark.

The other gee-gee trying for the Blue Grass second money will be Jett-Jett, an Illinois owned colt from the stable of W. M. Peavey, and about the best that can be said for him is that he ran third and fourth in his only two local starts this spring.

Whatever faint hope this trio has lies in the fact that Faultless will be toting the Derby load of 126 pounds over Keeneland's picturesque racing strip, while they'll be packing 121 apiece.

Allie Reynolds Pitches Yankees To 3-0 Triumph

New Yorker Limits Bosox To Two Hits

NEW YORK, April 23—(AP)—Allie Reynolds, who came to New York from Cleveland in the Joe Gordon deal, made a brilliant Yankee home debut today with a two-hit, 3-0 win over Boston's Red Sox that missed being a no-hitter by the margin of two late inning blows by Rudy York.

The husky righthander had a no-hitter for 6⅓ frames until York, doubled into left center. An alert crowd of 30,729 was fully aware of the opportunity beckoning Reynolds toward the hall of fame until York slammed that two bagger into the hole between Centerfielder Joe DiMaggio and Leftfielder Charley Keller.

In the ninth it was York who was the villian. He slapped a single past Shortstop Phil Rizzuto after two were out. Box:

TIGERS TIE RECORD

DETROIT, April 23—(AP)—Loosing a broadside of five homers—three of them in succession to tie a major league record—the Detroit Tigers hammered the Chicago White Sox out of undisputed first place in the American League today with their first loss of the season, 7 to 4.

Roy Cullenbine, Dick Wakefield and Walter (Hoot) Evers rifled successive homers off Ed Lopat in the eighth inning to become the 19th trio in big league history to connect for three homers in as many successive turns at bat.

The Tigers' clouting spree started early as Eddie Lake and Cullenbine both homered in the third inning. Eight of Detroit's 10 hits off Lopat and Gordon Maltzberger went for extra bases. Box:

Fort Hill High School's baseball team collected 15 hits, including seven for extra bases, and scored in every inning to defeat Romney High School's Pioners yesterday at Fort Hill field by the score of 13 to 2.

Jim Eckard with a triple, double and single and Elmer Freeland with a three-base wallop and two singles paced the Fort Hill swatsmiths. Manges, Frye and Dick garnered two blows each.

Fort Hill's extra base clouts were four triples and three doubles.

Dressen Is Ordered To Stay Off Field

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Coach Charley Dressen of the New York Yankees, who has been participating daily in pre-game practice despite a 30-day suspension, has been ordered not to appear on the field in uniform by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The commissioner wired Dressen late yesterday as follows: "Your suspension started on last April 15 and you are suspended for 30 days. This means you are not supposed to be on the field in uniform."

Arthur Patterson, Yankee road secretary, said the club has considered Dressen's suspension similar to that of a player who is permitted to take part in pre-game drills to remain in shape during his suspension. He said Dressen will not again be in uniform until his 30-day "sentence" has been served.

SAGGY SETS WORLD RECORD AT 'GRAW

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 23 (AP) — Stanley Sagner's Saggy, two-year-old chestnut colt by Swing and Sway-Chantress, established a world's record today for four and a half furlongs by winning the Aberdeen Stakes in 51 4-5 over a fast track.

Saggy defeated Cedar Farm's Brandy Punch, the odds-on favorite, by four lengths, to slice a fifth of a second off the mark established in 1908 by Hoyle at Aqueduct. E. K. Bryson's Equibit was third, another three lengths away.

Saggy, in clipping one and a fifth seconds off the track mark of :53, paid $14.20 for $2.

Fort Hill High School's baseball team collected 15 hits, including seven for extra bases, and scored in every inning to defeat Romney High School's Pioners yesterday at Fort Hill field by the score of 13 to 2.

Jim Eckard with a triple, double and single and Elmer Freeland with a three-base wallop and two singles paced the Fort Hill swatsmiths. Manges, Frye and Dick garnered two blows each.

Fort Hill's extra base clouts were four triples and three doubles.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Sentinels will play Paw Paw in a Tri-State Interscholastic Conference game at Paw Paw Friday. Next Monday Fort Hill will play host to Hagerstown High School. Both games are scheduled to start at 4 p. m. Box:

Dressen Is Ordered To Stay Off Field

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Coach Charley Dressen of the New York Yankees, who has been participating daily in pre-game practice despite a 30-day suspension, has been ordered not to appear on the field in uniform by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The commissioner wired Dressen late yesterday as follows: "Your suspension started on last April 15 and you are suspended for 30 days. This means you are not supposed to be on the field in uniform."

Arthur Patterson, Yankee road secretary, said the club has considered Dressen's suspension similar to that of a player who is permitted to take part in pre-game drills to remain in shape during his suspension. He said Dressen will not again be in uniform until his 30-day "sentence" has been served.

SAGGY SETS WORLD RECORD AT 'GRAW

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 23 (AP) — Stanley Sagner's Saggy, two-year-old chestnut colt by Swing and Sway-Chantress, established a world's record today for four and a half furlongs by winning the Aberdeen Stakes in 51 4-5 over a fast track.

Saggy defeated Cedar Farm's Brandy Punch, the odds-on favorite, by four lengths, to slice a fifth of a second off the mark established in 1908 by Hoyle at Aqueduct. E. K. Bryson's Equibit was third, another three lengths away.

Saggy, in clipping one and a fifth seconds off the track mark of :53, paid $14.20 for $2.

SINCE making loans is our FULL-TIME business, you can be sure of fast service from 'Personals' "Yes Man". Just do this: Telephone—it takes only a minute or two to apply—then make one visit to the office to sign and pick up the cash.

Loans of $25 to $750 or more are made on signature alone—or on furniture or auto if you prefer. The transaction is completely private. Friends, relatives or employer are not involved in any way.

You can take up to 15 months to repay on most loans.

Don't borrow unnecessarily, but—if you need a loan for any worthy purpose—home repairs, paying piled up bills, dental or medical expenses, etc.—see your "Yes Man". He says "Yes" to 4 out of 5 who ask him for a loan. Write, phone or come in today. For "1-visit" loan phone first.

25 County Clubs Form Fraternal Federation

Sebastian Spera Is Elected President

Official representatives of 25 of the 59 bona fide clubs of Allegany County met last night and formed the Allegany County Federation of Fraternal and Military Organizations for the purpose of strengthening fraternalism among its clubs and members, to assist worthy clubs and club members to promote more sociability, and to maintain and extend cleaner and better clubs within the county.

Sebastian Spera, of Mountain City Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, was unanimously elected president of the new club federation, to serve one year.

Other officers elected are Anderson J. Green, Frostburg, representing the Frostburg Loyal Order of Moose, first vice president; James E. Niland, this city, representing Cumberland Council, United States Navy League, second vice president; Edward A. Cosgrove, representing Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, secretary; and William G. Beier, representing Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, treasurer.

Three Trustees Named

Private Clubs Tabooed

Constitution and by-laws were adopted. It is provided that no club operated for private profit or private gain shall be admitted to membership, and only bona fide organizations with national charters shall be eligible for membership.

The president is empowered to name a three to five-man investigating committee to pass upon all applications, and the members of the committee shall be known only to the president and each other.

The president is also empowered to name a five-man grievance committee to hear complaints and act on them.

Each club is permitted two votes on elections and all other questions; officers are to serve one-year terms, except the trustees. No more than one officer can be chosen from the same club.

25 Clubs Pay Fee

Each of the 25 clubs represented with two or more members last night paid its membership fee, and avowed its interest in the federation. Several other clubs have declared their intention of joining the federation, but were not represented as it was their own regular meeting night. All bona fide clubs are invited and application blanks are being sent to each, it was indicated.

The first formal action of establishing a united front for operation of clubs and their general conduct came when the organizations represented voted unanimously to remain closed on Sunday until the new county liquor law is clarified for them regarding operation on Sunday. A few of the clubs objected but finally agreed to co-operate.

A motion was passed that any club which opens for Sunday business be reported at the next regular meeting, to be held at the Woodmen of the World Home, Union Street, at 8:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, May 7.

The committee which reported on by-laws included Anderson J. Green, Frostburg; George E. Parker, John G. Snyder, and George A. Leib, all of Cumberland; Edward A. Stowell, Mt. Savage; Alexander Gardner, Lonaconing and Thomas E. Footen, Barton.

Guard Objectives

It was noted last night that bona fide clubs of the county claim they contributed a total of $125,000 to charitable purposes last year and that they are not operated for private profit or gain, but each has some worthy objective. It is this objective the clubs hope to preserve by organizing, they claim. Clubs operated for private gain are frowned upon by the federation, and by policing themselves and setting up mutual rules of conduct, they hope to become an influence in their field of activity.

It was also noted that previous attempts have been made here in the past couple of years to unite the clubs into a federation, but this is the first time any progress has actually been made.

Speakers Blast Communism At Red Men Banquet

Ask For Preservation Of American Ideals

Attacks on communism by the principal speaker and toastmaster marked the banquet of the Great Sun Council Fire of the Improved Order of Red Men of the Reservation of Maryland and their auxiliary, the Degree of Pocohontas, at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club last night.

Some 350 men and women of the two organizations heard Walter W. Gross, great chief of records of Pennsyvania, the principal speaker, and Toastmaster Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., plead for the preservation of American ideals and the government of our fathers.

In attacking communism they voiced adherence of the Red Men to the faith of God and American Liberty.

Didn't Fight For Russia

Bruce asserted the sacrifices of the brave men who fought to make us what we are cannot be dedicated to the pawn and hiss of the fellow travelers of Joseph Stalin."

"Our men did not fight in the last war to make Russia the master of Continental and Western Europe," he added.

W. Ewald Ruehl, retiring great sachem, who traced the history of the order, was referred to by Leslie F. Brown, Philadelphia, supreme deputy great inscohonee of the Great Council of the United States, as the "most industrious sachem of Red Men in the United States." Bruce termed Ruehl the "pilot" of the local organization.

Entertainment during the banquet, attended by Mayor Thomas S. Post and Commissioner Myers G. Light, was furnished by the Smith triplets and their accordions

A dance, with music by Jimmy Andrews and his orchestha, followed the banquet.

Rev. W. R. Hanna, great keeper of records for the Reservation of Maryland, gave the invocation and the benediction.

Election Slated Today

A memorial service was held yesterday afternoon with F. Brooke Whiting delivering the eulogy. Ruehl delivered an address and Mayor Post extended welcome.

Officers will be elected today with William A. Harris, Jr., Snow Hill, slaoted to succed Ruehl as great sachem.

The women's organization is meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom.

Pastors Consider Religious Census

A religious census among Cumberland families was suggested at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland Ministerial Association this week, to collect data regarding attendance and membership of Protestant churches in the city, according to Rev. R. L. Henthorne, president.

The census would determine the number of Protestant church members, preference of churches, attendance figures and the number of persons who have moved here and are not yet affiliated with a local church. It would be made by church visitors and lay workers.

The ministers voted approval of a suggestion by Franklin W. Kremer that pulpit announcements be made regarding the musical program to be presented by the Cumberland Choral Club the latter part of May at Fort Hill High School auditorium. A motion was passed commending the club for the fine music it is providing for Cumberland.

Motions of commendation were made for Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker of Station WTBO, in connection with the morning programs of hymns; and for O. J. Hale, assistant managing editor of the Cumberland News, for making space available in the newspaper for the Lenten Meditation features.

It was suggested that the co-operation of local high schools be asked to keep one night a week free from social or athletic events, so that young people will have an opportunity to participate in church programs. Selection of which night to keep free has not been made.

Rev. W. Clark Main gave a report on the Easter sunrise service, which was sponsored jointly by the association and the Duke Memorial Bible Class. Rev. Carl H. Claop, pastor of St. Mark's Evengelical and Reformed Church, read a paper on "Ministerial Ethics."

Traffic Light Is Planned For Site Of 10 Accidents

Safety Island Will Be Built On Va. Ave.

Erection of a four-way traffic light and a safety island "just south" of the Bowen Street-Virginia Avenue intersection, where two persons have been killed and five others injured during the past two and a half years, is planned, Police Commissioned William V. Keegan announced yesterday.

Keegan said the entrance to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops, at present located 50 feet south of the intersection on Virginia Avenue, will also be changed so the entrance can be governed by the traffic light, and bus stops now located at the corner will be moved further south to prevent congested traffic.

Two Fatal Accidents

Detective Edwin R. Lilya, Cumberland Police Department, said two fatal accidents have occurred at the intersection in the past year, the most recent on Saturday night when Mrs. Ella Orpha Flanigan, 45, was struck by a machine allegedly operated by George Bennett Stewart, 23, Columbia Street. The accident is still being investigated by city and county authorities.

The other fatal accident occurred March 12, 1946, when Russell E. Smith, 27, LaVale, died as the result of injuries suffered in an accident at the intersection, the detective said. At least five pedestrians have been injured in the vicinity during the past two and a half years and police investigated three automobile collisions in the past year, he said.

The new safety island will be located in the center of the 30-foot wide street on Virginia Avenue with the traffic light being posted on the north side of the island, police said. Painted traffic lanes will be placed on Virginia Avenue running east and west to the island.

A medial strip will divide Virginia Avenue for two-lane traffic and red reflector buttons are being considered to be placed around the sides of the island, police officials stated.

Confers With Wyatt

Keegan said Detective Lilya had conferred with H. F. Wyatt, Cumberland Division Superintendent of the B. and O. and arrangements have been made to move the entrance to the shops up to the intersection to eliminate pedestrian traffic from crossing the street below the intersection.

Police said the "streams of workers" that leave the B. and O. shops at shift changes create a "real" traffic hazard at the intersection. While bus stops will be moved back from the intersection workers will have to walk to the painted traffic lane to cross the street since the entrance will be at that point, Commissioner Keegan stated.

Work on the new safety measure will begin shortly and police said "one of the very dangerous" traffic intersections will be brought under control. Commissioner Keegan said the traffic light which will have a "walk signal" in addition to the "stop" and "go" lights is now at police headquarters ready to be installed.

Officers Named For 208th Group Of Reserve Corps

Delaney Appointed Commanding Officer

Staff officers for the 208th Composite Group of the Officers Reserve Corps were announced last night at a meeting of the organization in the corps office, Union Street.

Lt. Col. John L. Delaney was named commanding officer of the group by Second Army and subsequently appointed the following officers to serve on his staff:

Lt. Col. Benjamin H. Evans, Jr., executive officer; Capt. Charles S. Catherman, Jr., adjutant and personnel; Col. Wylie W. Faw, Jr., group surgeon; Lt. Col. Justin D. Paddleford, group chemical officer; and Maj. James Alfred Avirett, group judge advocate.

Maj. Justin H. Liesmann, chaplain; Maj. Aden T. Miller, signal officer; Maj. John F. Somerville, Jr., intelligence officer; Capt. William D. Stover, provost marshal, and Capt Alfred E. Howe, transportation officer.

In addition to those named to serve in Headquarters, Maj. Chaucey M. Sanner was named commanding officer of the 80th Battalion; Lt. Col. Paddleford, commanding officer of the 82nd Battalion; Maj. Marvin E. Inge, Jr., commanding officer of the 83rd Battalion.

The commanding officer of the 81st Battalion will be named at a later date, Lt. Col. Delaney said.

Following appointment announcements a training program was discussed for the summer months with indoor training and firing and qualification of small arms to be stressed.

Maj. Thomas B. Finan addressed the group on the Reserve Officers Association. The group will meet once a month beginning in May, and the battalions will also hold monthly meetings in addition to the group meeting.

Hagerstown Phone Employes Return

The local phase of the striking Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone workers settled down to another quiet period yesterday with Hagerstown employes resuming work once more and Oakland representatives declaring they will remain out until a settlement is reached.

Employes of the Hagerstown exchange were working yesterday after an unsuccessful attempt by a group of local telephone workers to form a picket line. The Cumberland group was spit upon and cursed until Hagerstown police finally offered protection, George E. Williams, Western Maryland strike captain, said.

The pickets were withdrawn from Hagerstown at the request of strike headquarters in Baltimore, Williams explained.

Local headquarters of the striking phone workers said last night that Oakland employes, who returned to work for a brief period during the early part of the week once more were recognizing the picket line and "promised not to return until a settlement is reached."

Meanwhile staff employes of the local telephone company continued to handle emergency and urgent business calls but said "there is nothing new" to report on the local situation.

Telephone company workers continued to talk about joining the CIO in the event the present strike falls or if the company succeeds in breaking the unions, but local strike representatives said there is nothing definite about plans adding, "they are still in the talk stage."

The Maryland unions received their first financial aid from an outside union with a contribution from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Frank Bender, regional director of the CIO, also was scheduled to present a check to the telephone workers.

City's Spring Clean-Up Campaign Begins Sunday

Three More Towns Approve Daylight Saving Time Plan

Will Turn Clocks Up Sunday At 2 A. M.

Three more votes of assurance to the probability that fast time will spread throughout Allegany County before it becomes effective in Cumberland Sunday morning at 2 a. m. were given last night when Luke, Midland and Lonaconing adopted the plan.

In Ridgeley, W. Va., a special meeting of the Town Council was set for tonight to decide if the community will turn the clock up for summer time, and Mayor O. R. Poling said the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club already has passed a resolution approving its adoption.

Lonaconing's Mayor Jack Evans declared the town will turn its clocks forward one hour Sunday morning at 2 a. m. along with Cumberland, the Celanese Corporation and other communities that have approved the plan.

Mayor Evans said the Lonaconing Businessmen's Association voted 33 to 0 in favor of daylight time and added that while employes of the General Textile Mill there submitted a petition opposing fast time, the Celanese plant will move its clocks ahead and he believes it best for Lonaconing to follow suit.

Local No. 676, United Paper Workers of America, employes of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, approved the adoption of fast time and Mayor Harold Fredlock of Piedmont said the West Virginia community will go along with the paper mill workers.

Mayor Verl A. Ash, Midland, declared most of the community's working population is employed at the Celanese plant and for that reason daylight saving time has been adopted at Midland.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, also announced that the class hours will be regulated on fast time beginning Monday morning. He explained that his announcement to the newspapers constitutes official notice to the students and their parents as well as the teachers.

The Celanese plant will adopt fast time a few hours earlier than most communities and Cumberland since Fred T. Small, plant manager, announced that the time change will be made between 11 and 11:15 p. m. Saturday night as the "cat-eye" shift takes over.

Jaycee Volunteers Will Sweep Streets

Cumberland's Spring clean-up campaign, the first since before the war, will get underway officially Sunday with a radio program, followed by a full week of actual clean-up activities, according to plans announced by David Kauffman, president of the Junior Association of Commerce, sponsor.

Starting Monday, when about 50 volunteer members of the Jaycees, supported by representatives of other civic and service organizations actually sweep the streets, the campaign is expected to help make Cumberland a cleaner, more healthful city, committee members declare.

Recruiting Workers

Brax Dodson and Curtis Hickle, co-chairmen, are recruiting Jaycees and others to assemble at Central YMCA Monday at 11:30 a. m. to spend a couple of hours sweeping the streets and doing what is known to the ex-GI as a "first class police-up job."

One day has been set aside as Safety and Fire Prevention Day, when attention will be called specifically to fire hazards and an effort will be made to eliminate them.

Another day, the Jaycees will embark on a publicity program of "Fix Up and Paint Up."

Public Health Day, which has the endorsement of the City Health Department, will call attention to unsanitary and unsightly conditions in many parts of the city.

Still another day has been designated as Vacant Lot and Garden Day, when all residents will be urged to do their own "police-up" job of their premises, removing all rubbish and refuse.

Garden and Lawn Day is a day to plant flowers, rake lawns and generally enhance the beauty of residential properties.

An Attic and Cellar Day has been set aside as the day to get rid of scrap, junk, and all other unwanted objects, with a program being planned for picking up and hauling this collection. A scrap paper collection is also planned as a part of the drive.

Kauffman said the committee is enlisting the aid of churches and schools in an effort to make the whole community "Clean-Up Conscious."

Plan Tin Can Matinee

Arrangements are also being made for a tin can matinee at one or more of the local theaters, Saturday morning.

Yesterday the committee toured the city and photographed a large number of unsightly spots, with the idea of having these areas cleaned up. One committeeman put what he saw into one word, "disgusting."

Members of the Junior Women's Civic Club have pledged their support and some have even volunteered to help sweep the streets downtown, to call attention to the condition of the city. Merchants are co-operating by carrying on a sustained campaign and have allocated space in newspaper advertisements all next week, in an effort to give the campaign momentum.

WTBO and the Times-News papers have also pledged their co-operation. The "Wake Up Cumberland" program at 4:30 p. m. Sunday will be on the subject of "Clean Up Cumberland," with Kauffman as moderator, and James Alfred Avirett, Dr. Ransom, Mrs. Jean Butler, of the Junior Women's Civic Club, and Brax Dodson as the speakers.

A meeting of the Jaycees Clean-Up Campaign committee will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Liberty Trust Building to complete plans for the drive.

Woman Wants Her Brother Declared Legally Dead

A petition was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Katherine M. Swann, through her attorney, Harry I. Stegmeier, asking the court to declare her brother, William John Flynn, legally dead and to order the Peoples Life Insurance Company of Washington, D. C., to pay her $208 insurance on his life.

She explains in the petition that the company has insured Flynn's life for this amount and she is the beneficiary. It is further alleged that Flynn disappeared and was last heard of in April, 1938. He would be about 54 years of age now, it is estimated. Efforts to locate him through the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other agencies have been unsuccessful, and his sister believes he must be dead, the petition explains.

Divorce suit was filed by Helen Leptic seeking divorce from Samuel Leptic. Chief Judge William A. Huster signed a court order instructing Leptic to pay his wife $50 per month.

Divorce action was also filed by Ruth E. Matheney vs Robert D. Matheney; and by George Edward Kelso, vs Mary Helen Kelso, who married November 7, 1928, and have been separated about five years.

A Circuit Court jury yesterday awarded $400 to a Baltimore Avenue woman who had filed suit in Circuit Court for a $500 board bill.

The suit was brought by Susie Yeider, formerly of Dexter Place and now residing on Baltimore Avenue, against Charles M. Shryock, a mechanic for the Enterprise Amusement Company.

The petitioner, represented by F. Brooke Whiting, stated that Shryock owed her $500 based on $10 a week. Shryock, who was represented by Harold E. Naughton, denied this.

Testimony showed Shryock first took up lodgings at the Yeider home in 1933 while the petitioner was living at Dexter Place. Four years ago the petitioner moved to a Baltimore Avenue home and the defendant lived there until September of last year when he married and moved out.

On the stand, Shryock testified he did not owe the sum asked and stated that he contributed to the support of the household regularly until the time he moved away. The petitioner stated Shryock had not paid any board since 1933, but admitted that he had contributed to the upkeep of the home at various times.

The jury returned the $400 verdict after being out a short time.

Celanese Contract Negotiations May Begin Next Week

Negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America, CIO, on a new contract for some 8,500 employes of the Amcelle plant will probably begin next Wednesday, William Boyd Coleman, president of the union, reported yesterday.

Coleman said Wesley Cook, assistant director of the union's rayon division, is expected here next Tuesday to help open the wage talks.

If Cook is able to be here, Coleman said, he will confer with the union's committee on Tuesday. Company officials, Coleman added, have signified willingness to meet Wednesday to open the contract talks.

The Celanese local will open negotiations, Coleman said, on the basis of the 10-point program recommended by the TWUA synthetic yarn council.

Included in the proposals is the request for a flat wage increase but Coleman said yesterday that the union has not disclosed the amount to be asked.

The present contract will expire May 19, Coleman said.

Swartley Named To Church Board

Oscar J. Swartley was named to the board of trustees of Trinity Methodist Church, and Donald Holtzman, Edward Nield and Allan Reuschel were elected to the Board of Stewards at the fourth quarterly conference held last night at the church.

Durrett, whose terms will expire next year, and George W. Holtzman, John C. Baldwin, and George O. Durrett, who will serve until 1949.

Stewards who will serve for the ensuing year by re-election are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Daniels, Roy Davy, G. E. Deremer, Dr. Durrett, George W. Holtzman, Paul Holtzman, Ray Leighty, C. S. Lewis, Elias Miller, Paul E. Nixon, Delbert Proudfoot, Mr and Mrs. Oscar J. Swartley, L. W. Wagner, C. Glenn Watson, David M. Watson, T. E. Wolfe, W. C. The conference was conducted by Rev. William F. Wright, superintendent of the Hagerstown District. Rev. W. Clark Main is pastor of the church.

King's Run Girl Commits Suicide

Leaving a note saying "I want you to know I'm not crazy," Miss Roberta Smith, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warden Smith, shot herself through the heart with her brother's .32 caliber revolver last Saturday morning at her home at King's Run, several miles north of Oakland, according to Garrett County authorities.

Dr. E. E. Sollars, acting deputy county medical examiner in the absence of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, who is a patient in a Baltimore hospital following an appendectomy, issued a verdict of death by suicide.

State's Attorney Walter Dawson, who investigated with Deputy Sheriff Paul W. Fisher, said the girl went up to her room after getting breakfast. Several minutes later, he said, the girl's young sister, Lavina, heard a shot. Lavina called her brother, Oliver, and the two rushed upstairs and found Roberta lying on the floor in her bedroom. She died about 15 minutes later, Dawson said.

The state's attorney said the family could give no reason for the suicide and that the girl had not seemed despondent. Dawson quoted the suicide note as stating that "This is goodbye. I want you to know I'm not crazy."

Roberta was born in Garrett County August 19, 1929. Besides her parents, she is survived by 10 brothers and sisters, Lavina, Oliver and Leroy, all at home; Alvie Smith, Crellin; Ray Smith and Mrs. Alvin Strawser, both of Deer Park; Mrs. Shirley Wright, Oakland; and Mrs. Harland Kisner, Mrs. Raymond Kettlewell and Mrs. Robert Jones, all of Baltimore.

Some members of the club now use such equipment to communicate with GIs serving in Germany. The weekly tests will also include practice in use of the equipment while cars are in motion.

A lively discussion was held by the club on bargains available in war surplus radio equipment. Local radio fans interested in the operation and construction of amateur radio equipment will be welcomed into the club, Jenkins said.

25 County Clubs Form Fraternal Federation

Sebastian Spera Is Elected President

Official representatives of 25 of the 59 bona fide clubs of Allegany County met last night and formed the Allegany County Federation of Fraternal and Military Organizations for the purpose of strengthening fraternalism among its clubs and members, to assist worthy clubs and club members to promote more sociability, and to maintain and extend cleaner and better clubs within the county.

Sebastian Spera, of Mountain City Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, was unanimously elected president of the new club federation, to serve one year.

Other officers elected are Anderson J. Green, Frostburg, representing the Frostburg Loyal Order of Moose, first vice president; James E. Niland, this city, representing Cumberland Council, United States Navy League, second vice president; Edward A. Cosgrove, representing Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, secretary; and William G. Beier, representing Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, treasurer.

Three Trustees Named

Private Clubs Tabooed

Constitution and by-laws were adopted. It is provided that no club operated for private profit or private gain shall be admitted to membership, and only bona fide organizations with national charters shall be eligible for membership.

The president is empowered to name a three to five-man investigating committee to pass upon all applications, and the members of the committee shall be known only to the president and each other.

The president is also empowered to name a five-man grievance committee to hear complaints and act on them.

Each club is permitted two votes on elections and all other questions; officers are to serve one-year terms, except the trustees. No more than one officer can be chosen from the same club.

25 Clubs Pay Fee

Each of the 25 clubs represented with two or more members last night paid its membership fee, and avowed its interest in the federation. Several other clubs have declared their intention of joining the federation, but were not represented as it was their own regular meeting night. All bona fide clubs are invited and application blanks are being sent to each, it was indicated.

The first formal action of establishing a united front for operation of clubs and their general conduct came when the organizations represented voted unanimously to remain closed on Sunday until the new county liquor law is clarified for them regarding operation on Sunday. A few of the clubs objected but finally agreed to co-operate.

A motion was passed that any club which opens for Sunday business be reported at the next regular meeting, to be held at the Woodmen of the World Home, Union Street, at 8:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, May 7.

The committee which reported on by-laws included Anderson J. Green, Frostburg; George E. Parker, John G. Snyder, and George A. Leib, all of Cumberland; Edward A. Stowell, Mt. Savage; Alexander Gardner, Lonaconing and Thomas E. Footen, Barton.

Guard Objectives

It was noted last night that bona fide clubs of the county claim they contributed a total of $125,000 to charitable purposes last year and that they are not operated for private profit or gain, but each has some worthy objective. It is this objective the clubs hope to preserve by organizing, they claim. Clubs operated for private gain are frowned upon by the federation, and by policing themselves and setting up mutual rules of conduct, they hope to become an influence in their field of activity.

It was also noted that previous attempts have been made here in the past couple of years to unite the clubs into a federation, but this is the first time any progress has actually been made.

Pastors Consider Religious Census

A religious census among Cumberland families was suggested at the monthly meeting of the Cumberland Ministerial Association this week, to collect data regarding attendance and membership of Protestant churches in the city, according to Rev. R. L. Henthorne, president.

The census would determine the number of Protestant church members, preference of churches, attendance figures and the number of persons who have moved here and are not yet affiliated with a local church. It would be made by church visitors and lay workers.

The ministers voted approval of a suggestion by Franklin W. Kremer that pulpit announcements be made regarding the musical program to be presented by the Cumberland Choral Club the latter part of May at Fort Hill High School auditorium. A motion was passed commending the club for the fine music it is providing for Cumberland.

Motions of commendation were made for Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker of Station WTBO, in connection with the morning programs of hymns; and for O. J. Hale, assistant managing editor of the Cumberland News, for making space available in the newspaper for the Lenten Meditation features.

It was suggested that the co-operation of local high schools be asked to keep one night a week free from social or athletic events, so that young people will have an opportunity to participate in church programs. Selection of which night to keep free has not been made.

Rev. W. Clark Main gave a report on the Easter sunrise service, which was sponsored jointly by the association and the Duke Memorial Bible Class. Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evengelical and Reformed Church, read a paper on "Ministerial Ethics."

Traffic Light Is Planned For Site Of 10 Accidents

Safety Island Will Be Built On Va. Ave.

Erection of a four-way traffic light and a safety island "just south" of the Bowen Street-Virginia Avenue intersection, where two persons have been killed and five others injured during the past two and a half years, is planned, Police Commissioned William V. Keegan announced yesterday.

Keegan said the entrance to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops, at present located 50 feet south of the intersection on Virginia Avenue, will also be changed so the entrance can be governed by the traffic light, and bus stops now located at the corner will be moved further south to prevent congested traffic.

Two Fatal Accidents

Detective Edwin R. Lilya, Cumberland Police Department, said two fatal accidents have occurred at the intersection in the past year, the most recent on Saturday night when Mrs. Ella Orpha Flanigan, 45, was struck by a machine allegedly operated by George Bennett Stewart, 23, Columbia Street. The accident is still being investigated by city and county authorities.

The other fatal accident occurred March 12, 1946, when Russell E. Smith, 27, LaVale, died as the result of injuries suffered in an accident at the intersection, the detective said. At least five pedestrians have been injured in the vicinity during the past two and a half years and police investigated three automobile collisions in the past year, he said.

The new safety island will be located in the center of the 30-foot wide street on Virginia Avenue with the traffic light being posted on the north side of the island, police said. Painted traffic lanes will be placed on Virginia Avenue running east and west to the island.

A medial strip will divide Virginia Avenue for two-lane traffic and red reflector buttons are being considered to be placed around the sides of the island, police officials stated.

Confers With Wyatt

Keegan said Detective Lilya had conferred with H. F. Wyatt, Cumberland Division Superintendent of the B. and O. and arrangements have been made to move the entrance to the shops up to the intersection to eliminate pedestrian traffic from crossing the street below the intersection.

Police said the "streams of workers" that leave the B. and O. shops at shift changes create a "real" traffic hazard at the intersection. While bus stops will be moved back from the intersection workers will have to walk to the painted traffic lane to cross the street since the entrance will be at that point, Commissioner Keegan stated.

Work on the new safety measure will begin shortly and police said "one of the very dangerous" traffic intersections will be brought under control. Commissioner Keegan said the traffic light which will have a "walk signal" in addition to the "stop" and "go" lights is now at police headquarters ready to be installed.

Hagerstown Phone Employes Return

The local phase of the striking Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone workers settled down to another quiet period yesterday with Hagerstown employes resuming work once more and Oakland representatives declaring they will remain out until a settlement is reached.

Employes of the Hagerstown exchange were working yesterday after an unsuccessful attempt by a group of local telephone workers to form a picket line. The Cumberland group was spit upon and cursed until Hagerstown police finally offered protection, George E. Williams, Western Maryland strike captain, said.

The pickets were withdrawn from Hagerstown at the request of strike headquarters in Baltimore, Williams explained.

Local headquarters of the striking phone workers said last night that Oakland employes, who returned to work for a brief period during the early part of the week once more were recognizing the picket line and "promised not to return until a settlement is reached."

Meanwhile staff employes of the local telephone company continued to handle emergency and urgent business calls but said "there is nothing new" to report on the local situation.

Telephone company workers continued to talk about joining the CIO in the event the present strike fails or if the company succeeds in breaking the unions, but local strike representatives said there is nothing definite about plans adding, "they are still in the talk stage."

The Maryland unions received their first financial aid from an outside union with a contribution from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Frank Bender, regional director of the CIO, also was scheduled to present a check to the telephone workers.

City's Spring Clean-Up Campaign Begins Sunday

Will Turn Clocks Up Sunday At 2 A. M.

Three more votes of assurance to the probability that fast time will spread throughout Allegany County before it becomes effective in Cumberland Sunday morning at 2 a. m. were given last night when Luke, Midland and Lonaconing adopted the plan.

In Ridgeley, W. Va., a special meeting of the Town Council was set for tonight to decide if the community will turn the clock up for summer time, and Mayor O. R. Poling said the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club already has passed a resolution approving its adoption.

Lonaconing's Mayor Jack Evans declared the town will turn its clocks forward one hour Sunday morning at 2 a. m. along with Cumberland, the Celanese Corporation and other communities that have approved the plan.

Mayor Evans said the Lonaconing Businessmen's Association voted 33 to 0 in favor of daylight time and added that while employes of the General Textile Mill there submitted a petition opposing fast time, the Celanese plant will move its clocks ahead and he believes it best for Lonaconing to follow suit.

Local No. 676, United Paper Workers of America, employes of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, approved the adoption of fast time and Mayor Harold Fredlock of Piedmont said the West Virginia community will go along with the paper mill workers.

Mayor Verl A. Ash, Midland, declared most of the community's working population is employed at the Celanese plant and for that reason daylight saving time has been adopted at Midland.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, also announced that the class hours will be regulated on fast time beginning Monday morning. He explained that his announcement to the newspapers constitutes official notice to the students and their parents as well as the teachers.

The Celanese plant will adopt fast time a few hours earlier than most communities and Cumberland since Fred T. Small, plant manager, announced that the time change will be made between 11 and 11:15 p. m. Saturday night as the "cat-eye" shift takes over.

Woman Wants Her Brother Declared Legally Dead

A petition was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Katherine M. Swann, through her attorney, Harry I. Stegmeier, asking the court to declare her brother, William John Flynn, legally dead and to order the Peoples Life Insurance Company of Washington, D. C., to pay her $208 insurance on his life.

She explains in the petition that the company has insured Flynn's life for this amount and she is the beneficiary. It is further alleged that Flynn disappeared and was last heard of in April, 1938. He would be about 54 years of age now, it is estimated. Efforts to locate him through the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other agencies have been unsuccessful, and his sister believes he must be dead, the petition explains.

Divorce suit was filed by Helen Leptic seeking divorce from Samuel Leptic. Chief Judge William A. Huster signed a court order instructing Leptic to pay his wife $50 per month.

Divorce action was also filed by Ruth E. Matheney vs Robert D. Matheney; and by George Edward Kelso, vs Mary Helen Kelso, who married November 7, 1928, and have been separated about five years.

A Circuit Court jury yesterday awarded $400 to a Baltimore Avenue woman who had filed suit in Circuit Court for a $500 board bill.

The suit was brought by Susie Yeider, formerly of Dexter Place and now residing on Baltimore Avenue, against Charles M. Shryock, a mechanic for the Enterprise Amusement Company.

The petitioner, represented by F. Brooke Whiting, stated that Shryock owed her $500 based on $10 a week. Shryock, who was represented by Harold E. Naughton, denied this.

Testimony showed Shryock first took up lodgings at the Yeider home in 1933 while the petitioner was living at Dexter Place. Four years ago the petitioner moved to a Baltimore Avenue home and the defendant lived there until September of last year when he married and moved out.

On the stand, Shryock testified he did not owe the sum asked and stated that he contributed to the support of the household regularly until the time he moved away. The petitioner stated Shryock had not paid any board since 1933, but admitted that he had contributed to the upkeep of the home at various times.

The jury returned the $400 verdict after being out a short time.

Alvie Shipley, 11, 51 Henderson Avenue, was treated in Allegany early yesterday afternoon for a left arm injury. Attaches were told the boy was hurt in a fall Monday. X-rays were taken and the injury was treated.

Jaycee Volunteers Will Sweep Streets

Cumberland's Spring clean-up campaign, the first since before the war, will get underway officially Sunday with a radio program, followed by a full week of actual clean-up activities, according to plans announced by David Kauffman, president of the Junior Association of Commerce, sponsor.

Starting Monday, when about 50 volunteer members of the Jaycees, supported by representatives of other civic and service organizations actually sweep the streets, the campaign is expected to help make Cumberland a cleaner, more healthful city, committee members declare.

Recruiting Workers

Brax Dodson and Curtis Hickle, co-chairmen, are recruiting Jaycees and others to assemble at Central YMCA Monday at 11:30 a. m. to spend a couple of hours sweeping the streets and doing what is known to the ex-GI as a "first class police-up job."

One day has been set aside as Safety and Fire Prevention Day, when attention will be called specifically to fire hazards and an effort will be made to eliminate them.

Another day, the Jaycees will embark on a publicity program of "Fix Up and Paint Up."

Public Health Day, which has the endorsement of the City Health Department, will call attention to unsanitary and unsightly conditions in many parts of the city.

Still another day has been designated as Vacant Lot and Garden Day, when all residents will be urged to do their own "police-up" job of their premises, removing all rubbish and refuse.

Garden and Lawn Day is a day to plant flowers, rake lawns and generally enhance the beauty of residential properties.

An Attic and Cellar Day has been set aside as the day to get rid of scrap, junk, and all other unwanted objects, with a program being planned for picking up and hauling this collection. A scrap paper collection is also planned as a part of the drive.

Kauffman said the committee is enlisting the aid of churches and schools in an effort to make the whole community "Clean-Up Conscious."

Plan Tin Can Matinee

Arrangements are also being made for a tin can matinee at one or more of the local theaters, Saturday morning.

Yesterday the committee toured the city and photographed a large number of unsightly spots, with the idea of having these areas cleaned up. One committeeman put what he saw into one word, "disgusting."

Members of the Junior Women's Civic Club have pledged their support and some have even volunteered to help sweep the streets downtown, to call attention to the condition of the city. Merchants are co-operating by carrying on a sustained campaign and have allocated space in newspaper advertisements all next week, in an effort to give the campaign momentum.

WTBO and the Times-News papers have also pledged their co-operation. The "Wake Up Cumberland" program at 4:30 p. m. Sunday will be on the subject of "Clean Up Cumberland," with Kauffman as moderator, and James Alfred Avirett, Dr. Ransom, Mrs. Jean Butler, of the Junior Women's Civic Club, and Brax Dodson as the speakers.

A meeting of the Jaycees Clean-Up Campaign committee will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Liberty Trust Building to complete plans for the drive.

Celanese Contract Negotiations May Begin Next Week

Negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America, CIO, on a new contract for some 8,500 employes of the Amcelle plant will probably begin next Wednesday, William Boyd Coleman, president of the union, reported yesterday.

Coleman said Wesley Cook, assistant director of the union's rayon division, is expected here next Tuesday to help open the wage talks.

If Cook is able to be here, Coleman said, he will confer with the union's committee on Tuesday. Company officials, Coleman added, have signified willingness to meet Wednesday to open the contract talks.

The Celanese local will open negotiations, Coleman said, on the basis of the 10-point program recommended by the TWUA synthetic yarn council.

Included in the proposals is the request for a flat wage increase but Coleman said yesterday that the union has not disclosed the amount to be asked.

The present contract will expire May 19, Coleman said.

The hearings will be held before a sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee.
